RCMP Hold Man In U.S. Slaying

Search Ends in Alberta After Killing in Wisconsin

A man wanted by U.S. police in connection with the murder of his wife early this year was arrested by RCMP in Hythe, Alberta, Friday night.

He is John J. Hoffman, alias John Joseph Zimmer. Hoffman was arrested by RCMP under a special warrant. The little town is 350 miles northwest of Edmonton.

The man is in custody in Edmonton.

The search for Hoffman led across the northern U.S. and two provinces of Canada before he was finally sought out by police.

The murder, for which Hoffman is being held for questioning, was committed in Mauston, Wisconsin.

ALERT DRIVER

The search for the wanted man spread into western Canada after a man answering his description was spotted by an alert truck driver at Melville, Saskatchewan.

The trucker told police he had given the man a lift west of Melville in June.

He told police the man had expressed the intention of going to Northern Alberta.

Alberta detachments of the RC MP were alerted to be on the watch for the man after the truck driver had spotted him.

Mounties watched the man in Hythe for two days before moving in and making the arrest.

SPECIAL WARRANT

He was arrested under authority of a special warrant issued by Chief Justice W. R. Howson under the Extradition Act.

Special application for the warrant was made by District Attorney C. P. Curran of Mauston, Wisconsin, who is in Edmonton pending further legal proceedings.

Legal action to give authority for extradition of Hoffman is expected to proceed in Supreme Court here next week.

Hoffman is believed to be the son of Anton Hoffman, of Melville, Saskatchewan.

Albania and Yugoslavia Clash; Trade, Cultural Relations Cut

Break Comes After Exchange of Notes

LONDON, July 3.—(BUP)—Albania has broken off economic relations with Yugoslavia, a dispatch of the Tanjug News Agency from Belgrade revealed today.

The Yugoslav News Agency revealed Albania's economic break with Belgrade after Yugoslavia had charged Aleconomic and cultural relations with Yugoslavia, a dispatch of the Tanjug News Agency from Belgrade revealed today.

Tito and his regime.

A dispatch broadcast from Belgrade and picked up here said Albania has denounced its currency and customs union with Yugoslavia, under which the economic of the two nations were closely integrated.

Albania also has demanded that Yugoslavs sent to Albania to aid that country's reconstruction be withdrawn immediately. The actions were taken in notes sent from Tirana June 30 or July 1, the news agency said.

THREE NOTES

The Yugoslav government handed three notes to the Albanian minister in Belgrade protesting various manoeuvres by the Albanians. The protest was spiked with a stiff warning that the Albanian government would be held responsible.

The outbreak of friction between Belgrade and Tirana served further to emphasize the isolation of Yugoslavia by the defiance of the Cominform attack.

Albania was one of the states which Yugoslavia had proposed to join in a Balkan alliance as a counter-move in the struggle within the ranks of European Communism.

A little earlier the Yugoslav Communists had sought to lodge an appeal from the Cominform decision with Premier Josef Stalin. After a mass meeting they directed a message to Stalin asking him to overrule the Cominform. They also professed their loyalty to the Russian Communists, who, at the same time were broadcasting word that their central committee approved the Cominform resolution.

WORK SLOW-DOWN

One of the Yugoslav protest notes to Albania said Albanian authorities had cut off exports of oil and coal to Yugoslavia, halted work on railroads linking the two countries, and

Yugoslav Declaration Imminent

BELGRADE, July 3—(Reuters)—An "important statement" was expected from the Yugoslav Communist party today following a late-night meeting of its central committee here.

Leading members of the party, in conflict with the Communist information bureau, conferred for four hours in the foreign office last night to round off a day of intensive activity marked by the delivery of two further protest notes to neighboring Albania, whose government has condemned Yugoslavia's Communist leaders.

As they met the Soviet Ambassador's large black automobile stood parked near the foreign ministry. But it was not known whether he attended the talks.

Premier Tito himself was reported unofficially to have gone back to his summer home at Bled, in northern Yugoslavia, after a three-day stay in Belgrade.

He returned to Belgrade in midweek amid the rebuilding of workers despite the Cominform denunciation.

June Furst, an American correspondent of Telepress News Agency, has been "deprived of her right to stay in Yugoslavia for giving slanderous reports," the information department of the Yugoslav government announced.

The statement said the Telepress Agency in London had circulated news from Belgrade that the Communist party organization of Belgrade University had declared itself against the declarations of the Yugoslav Communist party concerning the Cominform resolution.

Big Four In Parley On Berlin

Last-Ditch Move To Solve Crisis Short of Moscow

BERLIN, July 3.—(AP)—An official American spokesman announced tonight that Soviet Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky had refused to give any assurances to Western Power commanders that the Russian blockade of Berlin would be lifted.

BERLIN, July 3.—(BUP)—High officials of the Western powers met for just 20 minutes today with the Russian military governor in a last-ditch effort to settle the Berlin crisis at a local level.

No comment was forthcoming immediately from the American, British and French officials — among them Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor—as they returned to the western sectors of the city after meeting with Marshall Vassily D. Sokolovsky at Russian headquarters in the Berlin suburb of Potsdam.

MOSCOW NEXT?

But the brief duration of the meeting was taken in most quarters as indicating that they obtained little or no satisfaction in their demands that the soviet blockade of Berlin be lifted. If this were the case, a strong three-power protest to Moscow was believed to be in the making.

British military governor Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, and French Maj. Gen. Roger E. Noiret, who was deputy for French military Governor Gen. Pierre Koenig in the meeting with Sokolovsky, closeted themselves with Clay in the latter's office after returning from the Russian sector.

It was believed they might be preparing a statement regarding the conference.

A bare possibility was seen that Sokolovsky might have given a brief and satisfactory answer to the demands of the western officials, thus saving no need for long drawn discussions.

But most quarters inclined to the other view, believing that Sokolovsky either had said flatly that the blockade would not be lifted at this time, or had indicated he must check with Moscow.

It was believed that a joint protest, stopping short of an ultimatum, would be made within a few days or even hours directly to the Kremlin if Sokolovsky's answer proved unsatisfactory. And it was thought here that even an answer from him that he would have to refer to Moscow before replying would be regarded as unsatisfactory.

Some London sources believed the joint protest already had been drafted in American-British-French consultations there.

SHOWDOWN

Washington reports indicated that a showdown on the blockade was to be expected within three days, and possibly over the weekend.

It was expected that Robertson would be the spokesman for the western powers in any statement regarding the meeting with Sokolovsky. It was his letter of last night to the Russian commander demanding that the blockade be lifted which brought about the conference today—the first oral contact between the military governors of the western powers and the Russian marshal since March 20.

Science Joins Battle of Fat

BATTLE OF THE BULGE is opened by Newspaperwoman Simma Milner as she begins to reduce the scientific way. But first Nurse Margaret David, former photographer's model from New Orleans, gives her basal metabolism rating test. This glandular and thyroid check is part of thorough physical examination to make sure heart and other organs are A-1 before diet is prescribed.

WILL-POWER to help her avoid lure of tempting, fattening foods is artificially supplied by pills taken by dieting reporter Simma Milner. Pink, green and white pills reduce appetite, burn fat and keep patient from getting the diet jitters.

Newspaperwoman In Battle of the Bulge

By Simma Milner

I had my last square meal—rounded off with calory-packed trimmings—Friday night.

Now I am on a reducing diet. I've gone on diets before—many of them. But each time my will-power took a beating and succumbed to my passion for food.

Now I have found a doctor with the newest thing in diet. He has three little pills that become allied with will-power. They wrestle and with habit and fight the urge to eat.

My doctor says I may be able to lose 15 pounds and a few inches off my circumference within four to six weeks. I now weigh 141 pounds. The great decision to sacrifice all food for figure came when I realized that every time I got on the elevator two other people had to stay off.

Someone tactfully suggested I use the freight elevator. And only yesterday, when I tried to make the new look give me that Hedy Lamarr silhouette did I realize the meaning of that freight elevator quip.

The new look just does not jibe with the odd overhanging figure.

Mind you, the new look does cover a multitude of sins. But my sins are all in the wrong place.

So now it is the battle of the bulges for me and three little pills.

Instead of getting my diet off patent medicine bottles, out of magazine ads, or trying the hit-and-miss method, I'm doing it the safe way—under doctor's care.

The diet, he claims, is intended to prevent a person from becoming diet-bitten—that is getting cranky, jittery, weak, tired and constantly pondering the wonder and beauty of food.

The three little pills in shades of pink, grey and white, reduce appetite, present obstacle to will power; burn fat; and maintain a general state of well-being.

The grey pill is to be taken before breakfast; the white one before lunch; and the pink one at teatime (without tea).

Along with the pills the dieter eats a miniature normal diet plan.

Two Men, Boy Are Drowned

KAPUSKASING, Ont., July 3.—(CP)—Two men and a boy were drowned within three hours Friday near this Cochrane district centre some 200 miles northwest of Sudbury.

The dead:

Arvi Heikola, about 50; Frank Pohoroles, nine, of Brunetville and Emil Vandal, 28, of Kapuskasing.

The boy was drowned in a pond beside the Smoky Falls railroad, a mile north of here. Heikola died in three feet of water in Moonshine Creek, which cuts across the Kapuskasing golf course. Vandal was drowned in Remi Lake, 17 miles from here.

Red Star Article Accuses Canada Of Warmongering

MOSCOW, July 3.—(CP)—A writer in the newspaper Red Star today accused Canada of conducting propaganda for a new war.

The article in the Russian army paper asserted "government circles in Canada not only are not combating the war hysteria kindled in the nation but themselves are actively stepping forth in the unenviable role of propagandists for a new war."

Red Star attacked Defence Minister Brooke Claxton for a speech in which it said Claxton declared "the only possible aggressor is the Soviet Union."

The newspaper claimed this statement proved the Canadian government itself belongs to the category of "war instigators."

Police Stop Girl From Bridge Leap

Quick action by city police saved an 18-year-old girl from suicide early today.

Caught while attempting to jump off the Low Level Bridge, the young girl was arrested and charged with attempted suicide, police officials said today.

In police court Saturday, the girl was remanded to Monday, July 12, without plea.

Police rushed to the bridge at 2:45 a.m. today in answer to a call from a resident at 81 avenue and 100 street that the girl was believed to be going to the bridge to commit suicide.

City constables Ken McLaren, Benny Wheatfield, James Dean and RCMP Corporal Herb Silvers, arrived on the scene.

The girl was found "in the act of jumping off the bridge," according to the policemen.

She was taken to the police station and placed under custody.

Eden Says Gov't Is Over-Spending

WARWICK, England, July 3.—(Reuters)—Anthony Eden, deputy leader of the Conservative opposition, said tonight that the government was seriously over-spending.

"If we are still falling short of the supreme national effort required, the fault lies with the government who hamper, confine and distort our national economy," he told an open meeting.

The rate of spending Britain's reserves was still substantially above the £25,000,000 to £30,000,000 ($100,000,000 to $120,000,000) a month aid which could now be expected from the United States.

Australian Wins Diamond Sculls

Ballad Writer Dies

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Richard Gerard Husch, 72, who wrote the words to "Sweet Adeline," died yesterday. Under the name "Richard Gerard," Husch collaborated with Harry Armstrong to write the famous ballad.

Louise Brough Wins Women's Net Title

LONDON, July 3.—(AP)—Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif. the reigning United States champion, won the Wimbledon women's singles tennis title today by defeating Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., in straight sets, 6-3, 8-6.

Bromwich and Frank Sedgman of Australia won the men's doubles championship, defeating Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Fla., and Tom Brown of San Francisco, 5-7, 7-5, 7-5, 9-7.

Edmonton Leads West In Business Volume

By Dick Jackson
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, July 3.—Edmonton again went to the economic head of the class in the west with an $84,519,000 increase in business transacted by cheque during the first five months of the year over the January-to-June period of 1947, the trade and commerce department's bureau of statistics reported today.

The Bureau long has regarded the volume of business done by cheque as the best possible guide to employment, payroll and industrial and agricultural production in any community.

From January to June, Edmonton racked up $383,213,000 in business done by cheque, an increase of 16.9 per cent of the $360,694,000 total for last year.

Calgary's increase was 11.1; Lethbridge, 3.6; Medicine Hat, 1.2,* and that for all Canada only 7.1 per cent.

The total for May alone for Edmonton was $121,952,011 as against $107,414,763 for the same month last year. This was a 13.5 per cent gain. Compared to a 1.7 per cent loss for Calgary, a 9.6 drop for Medicine Hat and a fractional decline for Lethbridge. While Edmonton made that substantial gain, the prairie province increase averaged only 1.8 per cent, while all across Canada a loss of 5.7 per cent was shown.

Jumpy 'Goggle' Bandits Overlook $20,000 Payroll

VANCOUVER, July 3.—(CP)—Two "jumpy" gunmen escaped with $4,000 from a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here Friday but missed a $20,000 payroll in a box under a teller's counter.

They entered the Denman street branch of the bank shortly before noon, herded 15 customers into a corner, and held the staff at gunpoint.

John Currie, 30-year-old bank manager, defied one gunman. The manager dodged the man, ran into a washroom and jumped through a window. He called police.

"One of the bandits' guns shook like a leaf," said Jackie Stephens, a ledgerkeeper. "They were as scared as we were."

The bandits fled in a stolen automobile—a maroon sedan located several blocks from the bank less than an hour after the robbery.

The pair fired a shot at A. B. Macpherson, an ex-policeman, who trailed the getaway car until it was lost in heavy traffic.

Bandits who staged seven bank holdups here last winter, escaping with about $15,000, were blamed for today's robbery.

The "winter bandits" escaped in a maroon car, always wore coveralls and red-masked goggles. The men today had similar dress, except one had a handkerchief mask instead of goggles.

The robbers made one mistake. They entered the wrong teller's cage. The $20,000 payroll was under the counter in No. 1 cage. The bandits went into No. 2.

Coal Strike Ends As Miners Win Increase

Strike of approximately 400 Edmonton and District miners ended today with miners winning a wage increase of $1.40 per day.

The mineworkers sought a wage increase of $2 per day.

In addition to the wage increase, miners will be paid an additional two cents per ton for the union welfare fund, bringing these payments from three to five cents per ton.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE

Announcement of the settlement was made by J. Stokaluk, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America District 18.

End of the strike came after five and one half months of a shutdown in five of the largest domestic coal mines in the Edmonton district. The UMWA called out the miners on January 13 last.

Settlement climaxed several days of direct negotiations between the UMWA officials and officers of the Northern Alberta Coal Operators Association.

A. Dunn of the Coal Operators Association served as chairman of the joint negotiating committee of miners and operators meeting in the Macdonald hotel for the past two days.

An agreement embodying the new wage rates was signed between the union miners and the following domestic mines in the district:

Red Hot Coal Co., Great West Coal Co., Beverly Coal Co., Riverdale Mines and Edmonton Coal Co.

The Star-Key Coal Co mines does not figure in the agreement. Some months ago the Star-Key Co. formed a new association of miners and has not negotiated with the UMWA in the general settlement reached today.

Mr. Stokaluk said the mines will likely resume operations next Monday.

UMWA officials participating in the negotiations for settlement in addition to Mr. Stokaluk included: A. J. Morrison, secretary; Pete Collins, district representative and T. A. McCloy.

"A highly satisfactory settlement," was the way Mr. Stokaluk summed matters up.

Only the Edmonton district union miners have been on strike in recent months, a settlement having been reached on the basis of a similar wage increase in southern Alberta mines early in the strike.

PEACE TALKS on the troubled Berlin front took place today between British, American and French officials and Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet commander in Germany.

15 Persons Hurt As Trains Collide

CNR Freight Train Plows Into Rear of Transcontinental

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—Fifteen persons were injured today when a Canadian National Railways' freight train plowed into the rear of a standing No. 4 Transcontinental passenger train 100 miles west of here.

The injured included nine passengers and five crew members of the passenger train and the engineer of the freight. None of the injured was believed in serious condition.

LIST OF INJURED

Passengers—Mrs. E. Gudmundson, Winnipeg, slight head injuries; Mrs. A. J. Lock, Victoria, sprained left ankle; Mrs. F. Fitzsimmons, Regina, possible fractured left ankle; Mrs. MacNamara, La Salle, Ont., bruised knee; Mrs. Kutchenko, Edmonton, fractured tibia; Mrs. A. Linchan, Yonkers, N.Y., minor bruises; Judy Linchan, Yonkers, N.Y. bruised lip; Paul Prochera, Kuypor, Sask., bruised ribs; and Mrs. R. C. Kent, Winnipeg, possible fractured fibula.

PASSENGER STOPPED

The accident occurred at 12:40 a.m. (Edmonton time) about 35 miles west of Rivers, Man. The passenger train, running nine hours late after a delayed start from Vancouver, had stopped to repair a coupling between two front-end cars when the freight rammed into the rear of No. 4.

Some cars of the freight were derailed, but no serious damage was reported to the passenger train, which was expected to reach Winnipeg later in the day.

Railway officials said an investigation is under way.

Injured passengers were taken by caboose to Portage La Prairie for hospital treatment.

Albania, Yugoslavia Break Trade Relations

slowed down the handling of Yugoslav ships in Albanian ports.

The Yugoslavs demanded that exports and rail work be resumed, and that Albania send a delegation to Belgrade to take up matters of economic co-operation in keeping with an agreement the neighbors signed last April.

The Yugoslav government considers that the government of Albania will put an end to such and similar acts which constitute a violation of existing agreements, it said.

"In case of the contrary, the Yugoslav government warns the government of Albania that it will be held responsible for all consequences which might arise therefrom."

Another note demanded the punishment of Albanians accused of insulting by taking down pictures of him in public places and by other actions "aimed at destroying."

Should such offensive acts continue, the Yugoslavs said, they cannot be responsible for the consequences.

The third note charged that Eliparo Sanxing, chief of the political administration of the Yugoslav army, had been ordered summarily to leave Albania. He had been attached to the Albanian army at request of Albania, the note said.

Weather Favorable

TORONTO, July 3—(CP)—Weather conditions within the last month, although variable, have been favorable to fruit and vegetable crops in Ontario, the Provincial Fruit and Vegetable Statistics Committee announced yesterday.

Princeton Will Meet RAF Crew

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, July 3.—(AP)—Princeton University's 150-pound crew defeated the defending champion Kent school of Connecticut today to enter the finals of the Thames challenge cup at the Henley Royal Regatta.

Princeton won by two lengths in seven minutes 15 seconds over the one mile, 550-yard Thames River course.

Princeton meets the Royal Air Force in the finals later today. The airmen eliminated Reading University by one-half length in the other semi-final, skimming the course in seven minutes 22 seconds against a mild headwind.

Thames Rowing Club scored a surprise victory over Jesus College of Cambridge in the final of the grand challenge cup, premier event for eight-oar crews.

Sea Cadet Camp Opens On Sunday

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—The advance guard of more than 200 Sea Cadets from all over the province began arriving at the Sea Cadet camp at Chestermere Lake today. The first two week session of the camp opens Sunday. The second camp will begin July 18.

The major event of this year's camp will be a regatta July 18.

Pills Make Diet Easier

TRIED ON DOGS

The pills were tried out on dogs before they were tried on me and other victims of obesity.

After a medium dose, the dogs picked at their food like spoiled children; after a heavy dose, they didn't eat at all.

But the doctor would not allow anyone to go on the diet without first taking them a thorough physical examination, because, he contends, "diets can be dangerous."

The pills also are dangerous if not taken under doctor's supervision.

So before the diet slip and pills were handed to me, I was made to rest a half hour preparatory to a basal metabolism test; a test of blood pressure; and test of the heart.

For months I have said: "I will start my diet tomorrow." Dieting has been so much easier that way. But, strange enough—it is impossible to lose weight on tomorrow's diets.

But now I have started and I will stick to it for a month or lose weight in the attempt.

Six Held In Tulsa Slaying

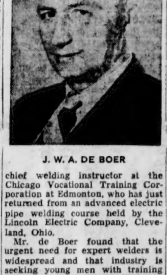
TULSA, Okla, July 3.—(AP)—Six persons were held for investigation today in the fatal shooting of an attractive divorcee and the brutal beatings of two teen-age girls and another woman.

Police Chief J. W. Holinsworth said one of those arrested was a 25-year-old man. He was picked up after one of the victims regained consciousness briefly and gave a short statement to officers.

Mrs. Ruth Morton, 42-year-old divorcee, was found dead in her apartment yesterday. She had been badly beaten about the head.

Her body was discovered while police were investigating an attack on Mrs. J. B. Cole, 38, her daughter, Doris, 13, and Levon Gabbard, 14, who was staying overnight in the Cole home. All three are in critical condition.



J. W. A. DE BOER

chief welding instructor at the Chicago Vocational Training Corporation at Edmonton, who has just returned from an advanced electric pipe welding course held by the Lincoln Electric Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. de Boer found that the urgent need for expert welders is widespread and that industry is seeking young men with training and skill at welding. While in Chicago visiting the Chicago Vocational Associated Shops, he was approached by the Bechtel International Corporation for skilled welders. This firm is offering a minimum wage to craftsmen of $400.00 per month and up to $600.00 per month.

The Lincoln Electric Company course embraced extensive training on the latest welding techniques and methods with particular reference to welding of pipelines for oilfields. As well as training on studying the latest American equipment, Mr. de Boer operated the new Heliare at the Dominion Oxygen Company at Toronto, a combination of gas and arc welding, recently developed.

Mr. de Boer visited the other two shops of the Chicago Vocational Training Corporation at Chicago and Toronto to pass on the technical information he acquired on this specialized course. He will remain at Edmonton where he is supervising day and evening classes on welding at the Edmonton shops of the Chicago Vocational Training Corporation.

NO NEWS GOOD NEWS

ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 3.—(AP)—"Correspondents are requested not to send in any news next week," the weekly southern Maryland Times proclaimed in a three-column front-page box today.

"We're hot and tired. So next week we're going on vacation."

Next week's issue has already gone to press, but the editorial staff—Editor J. L. Michael and associate editor Sally Burwell—will be out of town when it is distributed.

Troops Kill Three Of Communist Band

SINGAPORE, July 3.—(AP)—British troops and Malayan police have killed three members of a Communist band, wounded two, and recovered considerable arms in Perak state, a communique said tonight.

Other official reports told of large-scale operations in widely-separated parts of Malaya against extremists responsible for a wave of terrorism. British officials say the bands are composed of Communists.

Dewey Backs Loan to UN

ALBANY, N.Y., July 3.—(AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey yesterday extended full support to the proposed $65,000,000 United States loan to the United Nations for construction of a UN headquarters in New York City.

The Republican presidential nominee, in a statement, said he hoped and believed the loan would be "carried out." The loan authorization was approved by the Senate in the last session but was lacked to an omnibus bill in the House and died.

Urgent Problem

YORK, England, July 3.—(CP)—The most urgent problem today is the preservation of western civilization, Dr. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York, said in a presidential address to the York diocesan conference.

From 1875 to 1886 Japan had 638 earthquakes.

Plans for the Optimists Club meeting Thursday noon in the Macdonald have not been completed.

Food and Clothing Targets for Thieves

Theft Toll Heavy Throughout City

Vitamin-hungry thieves may be responsible for theft of 18 tins of grapefruit juice from a city storeroom Friday night.

Storeroom at Mack's Lunch, 10165 100A street, was entered.

Entry was gained by forcing a padlock on a rear door, police said.

No loot was believed gained by thieves who broke into the Edmonton Fancy Sausage Store, in the same building.

Rear door bolts had been forced at the Sausage store, police stated.

CLOTHING GONE

An unknown quantity of clothing was believed taken from the Naval Barracks, at 97 avenue and 102 street, Friday night.

Chief ERA E. L. Martin, discovered the breakin at 11 p.m. Friday.

Martin told police he found a west window in the barracks forced open.

Two Burberry coats were found lying on the ground outside the window, Martin said.

Thieves who broke into a parked car, owned by Peter Rosychuk, Downing, Alberta, obtained a man's blue suit and a car blanket.

Car was broken into while it was parked on 98 street, near Jasper avenue, police said.

PAINTER?

A paint sprayer and motor were reported stolen from a garage at 66 street and 118 avenue.

Robert Raymond, owner of the sprayer, told police the sprayer was found missing Friday.

An undetermined amount of lumber was stolen from a house under construction at 119 avenue and 69 street.

Mrs. Mary McDowell, 12114 85 street, who reported the theft, told police the lumber was made up of shiplap and ceiling joists.

RECORD HEAT HERE IN JUNE

Hottest June on record was reported today by the weather office.

During June, 1948, the average temperature here was 62.1, .2 degrees higher than the previous record set in 1912.

Normal average temperature for the month is 57.4 degrees.

Highest temperature during the month was 87 degrees, on June 7, but this is well below the record of 99 in 1937.

Rainfall during the month was far below average, only 1.47 inches dropping during the entire 30 days. Less than an inch fell in the last 23 days.

Alberta Gets New Residents

Between 1,200 and 1,500 British immigrants have arrived in Alberta under the provincial immigration scheme during the past four months, it was stated today by Hon. A. J. Hcoke, minister of economic affairs.

The immigrants include men, women and children.

About 60 applications per day are being received by Alberta House, London, England, headquarters of the provincial immigration scheme.

Recent restrictions on the amount of money immigrants may take out of Britain has "slowed immigration down a lot", Mr. Hooke said.

At present, immigrants (whether single or with families) may take out of Britain $1,000 per year for four years.

Formerly they were allowed $5,000 per year over a four-year period.

Former Resident Given Two Year Suspended Sentence

A suspended sentence of two years was given Robert G. Green, formerly of Edmonton, on Friday on seven charges of false pretences.

Green was charged with passing seven worthless cheques involving a cash sum of $165 at city and district stores in 1946.

He was arrested in Fort William, Ontario, by RCMP recently, and returned to Edmonton.

According to evidence given in court Green had employment in Fort William, and had attempted to rehabilitate himself.

On the recommendation of Crown Prosecutor Kenneth Crockett, Green was given the suspended sentence.

Safety Council Opens Courtesy Campaign

An eight-point plan for soothing motorists' nerves has been recommended by the Edmonton Safety Council.

The eight points are being set forth as a guide to courtesy in driving.

A Safety Car will check the driving of Edmonton motorists beginning July 5, and courteous drivers picked out by the patrol will be rewarded.

Here are the eight points:

1. Use hand signals when you are going to turn or stop.

2. Know the lane, whether marked or not, which you should be in, and stay in it. Don't take "your half" the road out of the centre.

3. Recognize situations where others have the right-of-way and yield to them.

4. Don't insist on the right-of-way, even when it is rightfully yours.

5. Give pedestrians a break. They can't run as fast as you can drive.

6. Use your horn to warn; not to bully.

7. Dim lights for other drivers at night.

8. Remember, the other fellow may be in a hurry too.

Couple Wed At Grace Church

A double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. C. I. Kiewer took place recently at Grace Lutheran Church, when Miss Marie Bassendowski, daughter of Mrs. M. Bassendowski of Kelstern, Sask., became the bride of Hugo Grudzinski of Leduc.

Pink and white peonies decorated the church for the occasion.

Given in marriage by Prof. A. Guebert of Concordia College, the bride wore a two-piece white wool dress with matching halo hat trimmed with roses and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Adolph Bassendowski of Lemberg, Sask., attended her. She chose an aqua dress with matching halo hat and a corsage of yellow roses.

Adolph Bassendowski attended the bridegroom and uhers were Robert Guebert and Rev. E. Regal.

Miss Ruth Siemens played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Marian Fuhr sang O Perfect Love.

A reception was held at the King Edward hotel following the ceremony. Mrs. Bassendowski, mother of the bride, and Mrs. J. Marshall, the bride's sister, received the guests.

Prof. Guebert proposed the bridal toast.

Telegrams were received from Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bassendowski and Mr. and Mrs. William Kronstedt.

33 Highway Crews At Work in Alberta

Department of public works crews are engaged in repair and construction operations at 33 places on provincial highways, it was stated today in a weekly report of the department.

Surfacing work is being done between Edmonton and Morinville on highway No. 2. There is a dry weather detour, from one mile north of Edmonton to St. Albert, and from St. Albert north eight miles on the west side of the highway.

Traffic is accommodated in wet weather on the new highway.

Grading and gravelling crews are at work between Edmonton and Chipman Corner on Highway 16. Traffic is being accommodated through work.

Surfacing is underway between Edmonton on Highway 16 west of Spruce Grove. There are no detours on this road.

From Hotchkiss north to the provincial boundary, Highway 35 is being gravelled and graded. Traffic is being accommodated up to mile 213, but beyond that the road is closed.

Highway 44 between Flatbush and Smith is under construction and closed to traffic.

On Highway two between Beaverlodge and the B.C. boundary, grading crew is at work on revision of the road. Traffic is open on the new highway as far as Hythe, but beyond there the old road must be used.

Between Poncka and Wetaskiwin, surfacing operations have necessitated dry weather detour from Ponoka four and one-half miles north and then east to highway. Traffic may travel new highway in wet weather.

On Red Deer-Ponoka stretch of Highway 2, grading work has forced use of old highway from Red Deer to Lacombe.

Funeral Today For S. J. Anderson

Funeral services will be held today at 2 p.m. for Solvi Joseph Anderson, 74, 10409 Park Road, who died at his home Wednesday.

Mr. Anderson was born in Iceland and moved to Manitoba in 1889. He lived in Winnipeg, Dawson, Regina and Saskatoon before coming to Edmonton in 1939.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Marvin, both in Edmonton.

Last rites will be held at the Andrews - McLaughlin funeral chapel.

Fair Wins Nod At Battle River Nomination Meet

Robert Fair, MP for Battle River, has been renominated to represent the Social Credit party in next federal election.

Mr. Fair received his renomination at a recent SC convention held at Wainwright.

An executive for the SC Association was elected at the convention: J. A. Smith, Kitscoty, president; Earl Gordon, Edgerton, vice-president; Anders Aalborg, Rivercourse, secretary.

Pioneer Printer Here On Leave

Robert L. "Shorty" Burke, one-time printer for The Bulletin, is in Edmonton for a short visit.

Mr. Burke was on The Bulletin staff in 1910-11, and worked with many "old-time" printers throughout the city.

He is at present on convalescent leave from the Spokane Spokesman-Review, and this is his first visit to Edmonton in nearly 38 years.

Farm Union Merger Finalized In August

Joint meeting of the Alberta Farmers' Union and United Farmers of Alberta will be held in mid-August to further details of amalgamation.

President Carl J. Stimpfle of the AFU said today the executives of the two bodies will likely meet in Edmonton, but no date has yet been set.

The meeting must await the return, from eastern Canada, of president George Church of the UFA.

Last convention of the UFA in Edmonton, in January, voted for a merging of the two farm bodies.

At an earlier convention, the AFU decided to hold a plebiscite of its membership on amalgamation.

In the balloting the AFU membership voted overwhelmingly for the merger.

Liquor In Car: Fined In Court

A fine of $20 and costs or 30 days was levied Friday against Boland Bourgeous, 9910 179 street, for illegal possession of liquor.

RCMP authorities told the court liquor was found in Bourgeous' car following a minor accident near Spruce Grove Thursday.

Bourgeous, driver of the vehicle, suffered minor bruises when the car left the road and plunged into the ditch.

District Motorists Pay Heavy Fines

Fines totalling $125 were imposed on district motorists Friday for infractions of driving regulations on country roads.

Charges ranged from failure to have a drivers' license to driving on the wrong side of the road.

Fined were Henry Coreman, Joseph Boisvert, Leo R. Perrault, Kenneth Young, James E. Edkins, George D. Strynadka, Phillip Meunier, Barry O'Reilly, Alex O'Reilly, William Dalziel, B. G. Benton, R. A. Wright and J. A. F. Wagner.

Appeal Made For Flood Fund

An appeal for aid for B.C. Flood victims has been made by Rev. George M. Edwards, president of the General Ministerial Association.

An estimated 5,000 families in the flooded areas have been deprived of their homes and are in desperate need of food, clothing and shelter.

There is an urgent need for the daily necessities of life, without which these people will suffer acutely, he said.

A minimum objective of $35,000 has been set in Edmonton to assist the flood victims and financial assistance is urgently required.

In his appeal, Mr. Edwards asks support of the fund "in the spirit of Christian love. I commend this most worthy cause to your most generous support. In the face of such disaster, we cannot 'pass on the other side'."

Stimpfle To Speak At Olds Meeting

District convention of the Alberta Farmers' Union is being held in Olds today.

President Carl J. Stimpfle will address the meeting at which a new local director will be elected.

Mr. Stimpfle will later address a meeting of the Canadian Congress of Labor locals in Calgary.

NEEDY BOYS GET FREE CAMP

Thirty-four underprivileged Edmonton boys left today for a week-long holiday at the Seba beach camp of the Salvation Army.

Their holiday will be supervised by Salvation Army personnel, under the direction of Brigadier R. Raymer, divisional commander of the Salvation Army in Alberta, and Mrs. Raymer.

Next Saturday, a similar number of girls will be taken to the camp.

Freight Rates Cripple Farmers

The farmers of Alberta operate under an intolerable handicap in the discriminatory freight rates imposed upon this section of the country. For not only is their produce moved at a higher rate than that prevailing in the East, but every implement they use is boosted in price by these unequal rates.

These higher prices on essential machinery not only raise the costs of agricultural production in Alberta, but reduce the net receipts of the Alberta farmer.

The additional cost of transportation in the West, even before the Transport Commission awarded the recent increase of 10 per cent, created these discrepancies between prices in Alberta and in Ontario:

| Article | Alberta | Ontario |
|---|---|---|
| 1½-ton truck | $1,205.00 | 999.00 |
| Binder | 304.00 | 256.00 |
| Power binder | 405.00 | 370.00 |
| Mower | 62.00 | 52.00 |
| Cultivator | 148.00 | 138.00 |
| Disc seeder | 353.00 | 274.00 |
| Cream separator | 97.00 | 74.50 |
| Disc plow (tractor drawn) | 233.00 | 180.00 |
| Wagon | 100.00 | 85.00 |

The above are only a few of the hundreds of items upon which the Alberta farmer must pay a premium through discriminatory freight rates.

The people of Alberta and particularly the farmers of Alberta, suffer the highest freight charges on goods exported from the provinces and pay the highest rate on incoming goods.

Alberta, then, stands at the very apex of the freight rate structure.

How does Canada propose to establish the agriculture of this province on a sound, productive basis when it labors under such economic penalties?

Alberta agriculture is not only an asset to this province but an asset to the whole Dominion.

The economic health of the West depends upon an early revision of the freight rate structure which imposes a 26 per cent discrimination upon western farm production.

Disgracefully Neglected Graves

The Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans have filed a vigorous complaint about the condition of the graves in the veterans' plot in the Edmonton Cemetery.

That complaint cannot be too strong.

Some of the headstones in this last sleeping place of men who have defended this country are lying flat on the ground.

Some of them have fallen but have been restored so carelessly that they are still so plastered with dried mud as to be illegible.

Many of the graves are covered with coarse uncut grass and weeds.

Directly behind one section of the plot is a refuse heap where withered flowers and other debris have been tossed.

The entire plot is in a disgraceful and shameful condition.

The federal government is responsible for the maintenance of this part of the cemetery.

It is just about time the federal government got someone on the job.

The war has been over, now, for several years. But surely the people of Canada have not forgotten the debt they owe and will forever owe to the men who lie in this neglected plot.

That they should sleep in the squalor of a potter's field is unthinkable and intolerable.

'Giveth Grace to the Humble'

The Bible is filled with promises to the humble and warnings to the proud.

In the Sermon on the Mount, Christ said: "Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth."

In the song of Mary, as recorded by St. Luke, we hear the mother of Jesus say: "He hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts."

And, finally, St. Peter writes in his first epistle: "Be clothed with humility; for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble."

Humility, in these passages, is not to be construed as abjectness or servility but as the absence of pride and selfishness.

And a heavy emphasis is placed on pride and selfishness as major sins because most of the evil in this world arises from an over-concentration on self.

Pride, it is said, is the "sin of the angels" and Lucifer himself is said to have fallen from heaven because of his pride.

"God giveth grace to the humble" in the sense that the grace of God is only available to those who have put aside vainglory and self for the service of God and of their fellows.

The greatest act of self-abnegation was the sacrifice of Christ on Calvary.

So the very essence of the Christian Faith lies in imitation of Christ, in surrendering all human impulses to the will of God.

Herein lies true humility.

Is It A Lost Art?

Editor, Bulletin—Can it be, that railroad building has become a lost art in Canada?

I recall seeing a community of Metis in the north west, who had forgotten how to build the most primitive kind of a wharf on the lake shore where they lived.

Can it be, that a like process of the "know how" and "the will to do" in railway construction is coming over the residents of Canada?

Help For Arthritics

Editor, Bulletin.—The case of the arthritics received discussion by the Hon. Paul Martin, A. L. Smith (Calgary West) and Dr. Blair (Lanark) in a humanitarian stand in behalf of Canada's 800,000 sufferers from arthritis, in the House of Commons—June 11 Hansard pp. 5142-43-44. The following are quotations, in part:

Mr. Smith: ". . . when we admit that 800,000 or 900,000 people out of 12,000,000—and it affects people of all ages—one-thirteenth or one-fourteenth of our entire population are suffering and are apt to be crippled by this illness, then it seems to me that we have never known a greater national emergency."

". . . no war has ever removed from your working forces that number of people, and one hesitates to contemplate the mass suffering which goes on among 800,000 people."

". . . I want to say just a word about an institution at Banff."

Mr. Martin: "I know it very well . . . They have done good work."

Mr. Smith: ". . . is not more likely that, by segregating these people in a place where many observations can be made by competent medical people, we shall more quickly arrive at a conclusion as to the control of the disease and its treatment . . . because treatment is research . . . they (physicians) all tell me that the reason we have not advanced further is that, while it is chronic it is not fatal. That is true, and it is a statement which reflects no credit on the people of Canada or on the house of commons."

Mr. Blair: ". . . So we must get back to the basis of things. We must provide equipment whereby the people can be helped. We must have an education campaign, not for the public alone but for the doctors. It should be a campaign to make people not regard this disease as being hopeless. It would be a campaign to save poor people from having crippled joints. We can put into operation certain knowledge we have. If we do not know how to cure this disease, we can at least do something to stop this horrible suffering."

The case of the arthritics was the most discussed health problem during the last two sessions in Ottawa.

For Canadian arthritics there is a ray of hope on the horizon. The Arthritis Club of Banff was organized last Jan. 12 for the purpose of expanding and accelerating the campaign against arthritis which was started in Banff in 1940 and is now Canada-wide.

Your membership in The Arthritis Club of Banff will play an important part in the crusade to force Canada's Number One Cripplers into retreat. As founder of the Crusade, and as an arthritic, I appeal to you in behalf of the near-million cripples for your wholehearted co-operation and support.

PEARL LANDSMAN,
President The Arthritis Club of Banff.

Voting Reform

Editor Bulletin—I wish to reply to a letter written by "J.T." and printed in your columns of June 9, in which he stresses that it is our solemn duty to vote, and assumes that the mere act of voting is a guarantee that (ergo) we shall have a true democracy.

But a matter of fact, if the writer may be allowed to express his humble opinion, the irresponsible secret ballot, allied to politics at the present time, is a sure guarantee that a steady drift into a state of bureaucratic slavery will continue. That there has been such a steady drift over the last forty years, and that all "democratic" countries are rapidly approaching the situation which exists in Great Britain, can hardly be denied.

There are at least three types of votes being used in various places at the present time and an examination of them may help towards an understanding of why "ballot box democracy" has become as futile as it is. It may also serve as an introduction to a set of proposals which are at the root of the matter, and ensure government in accordance with the will of the electors.

(1) First, there is the vote such as has been taken recently in Czechoslovakia, in which the issues and the representatives had already been decided, which is a farce and requires no further comment.

(2) Then there is the vote such as is taken every four or five years in ballot-box democracies. Ballots are cast for any one of a number of candidates. Each candidate runs on a platform containing a multiple number of points.

It may sound unduly pessimistic to say: That most voters who are honest will not claim to understand many of the points in the platform for which they vote. The result of the whole operation will be that a political party will be put into power. Political parties are such that they lend themselves to permeation by politicians in the least complimentary sense of that term. Moreover, they are subject to control by those who wield sufficient power through press or finance. All "popular mind" has been conditioned to believe that there is no other alternative except dead reactionism. In effect, ballot-box democracy is becoming the same thing as ballot-box totalitarianism. The first term in practice is coming to mean what is correctly defined by the second.

(3) The third form of vote is that exemplified in the economic vote as it operates to a recognizable extent in the economic system of the present time. A man has a number of dollars. Each one may be considered to be an economic vote. He uses some of these dollars to buy Johnson's Paint. By doing so he votes for the Johnson Paint Co., and encourages their production of the kind of paint which he has purchased. (The amount of freedom in his vote will depend on whether he can afford to buy other kinds of paint than Johnson's if he so wishes.)

It may be noted that in using his dollar bills or his economic vote: (1) he immediately obtains the results he chooses; (2) his vote carries power or a sanction —the Johnson Paint Co. cannot survive if it does not receive enough economic votes; (3) he is responsible for using his vote shrewdly, in order that he and his household may prosper.

In order to attach more responsibility (and more sanction) to the political vote, the following proposals have been made:

(a) The secret ballot to be abolished and replaced by an open, recorded, and published vote.

(b) Prior to an election, each party to put forward an outline of any legislative proposals together with both the cost to the taxpayer and a statement of the interests and specific individuals affected.

(c) The cost of Legislation by the successful Party, together with the proved loss to any individual not having voted for the successful Party, to be borne solely by those having recorded votes for the successful Party, and the deduction of taxation directly attributable to specific legislation to be shared as to 25% by recorded supporters of the unsuccessful Party, and as to 75% of the supporters of the successful Party so long as it may remain in power, after which the gains shall be equalized.

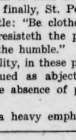
Those Few Things That All Men Love the Best

By Harold L. Weir

Those who were fortunate enough to hear the broadcast of the services in Canterbury Cathedral which marked the opening of the Lambeth Conference in England must have been impressed with the catholicity of that immense concourse of bishops.

In that ancient and hallowed place were gathered episcopal representatives from nearly all lands on earth where branches of the Anglican Communion can trace their origin to the Mother Church founded by St. Augustine.



WEIR

There were bishops from all parts of the British Isles, from Continental Europe, from Africa, from the United States, from Canada and her sister Dominions, from India and from the Orient—330 of them of all shapes and colors.

Sitting as guests were high dignitaries of the Eastern Orthodox Church, prelates from Scandinavia and Poland and elsewhere, all joining with one cordiality and one basic belief in the worship of God.

Significant and symbolic of the meaning of that service was the announcement by His Grace of Canterbury that tomorrow in St. Paul's Cathedral there would be celebrated the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper in which the deacons and sub-deacons would be the Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church of the United States, the Presiding Bishop of China and the Archbishop of Japan.

Pattern Of Unity

It is easy enough to follow the pattern of unity that drawa together these men of all nations and of all races.

They come together in the simple and impelling unity of the One they love the best.

Their concord is the first and great example of the brotherhood of man achieved through the Fatherhood of God.

These are men to whom the Divinity of Christ is the most important fact in the world and in the urgency of that sacred fact, beginning in Bethlehem, consummated at Calvary and enduring for all time and beyond it, they find a common denominator running through all their lives.

Religion, then, is a sufficiently powerful bond to tie all these men of varying races together in a common purpose.

Religion, if all men would accept it, is a sufficiently powerful bond to secure the amity of the world for all time.

But all men do not accept it. And it is not within our highest hopes that all men will accept it with sufficient fervor that it will become the common unifying factor in all their lives.

Other Means Of Concord

Nevertheless, the pattern of world amity revealed at Lambeth still stands.

It stands, not necessarily in the hope that religion will unite the world, but as an indication of the kind of thing that will unite the world.

It seems to me that all our frantic efforts to establish world peace are insecurely and unreasonably based.

Men meet together, for instance, to build world concord on no more common ground than a shared hope for world peace.

There is little unity in a common hope. Religion discovered that long ago when religionists found that the search for God could provoke as much bitterness and bloody dissension as anything else.

The unity of religion lies, not in the search for God, but in the finding of Him.

And so a mere passion for the attainment of world peace is not enough to secure it.

That is why I say that men are poorly equipped for the discovery of a formula for enduring peace when they come to the council table with no more than a common goal and a shared wish.

Superficials, Fundamentals

To put it the other way around, peace efforts have failed because the machinery for peace has been hitched up to the superficialities of life instead of to the fundamentals of it.

It is true that peace will preserve human life. But everyone knows in his heart that all men must die and that peace can only postpone funerals and not abolish them.

It is true that peace will save money. But money is the root of no evil, run, is as ephemeral as a wisp of cloud sportively changing faces against the infinite blue loneliness of the sky.

Why is it that so little is said at peace conferences about the security of homes and the future of little children and the hunger of families and the sovereign dignity of each individual human soul—all those precious things that are violated in the fury of war?

These things are shared by all human beings as the priceless entities of life.

Why is the emphasis not placed on these?

For the hope of peace does not rest on the solemn mouthings of statesmen and the pious undertakings of nations and the writing of complex and depressing treaties.

It rests upon the common treasures of the common people, the preservation of those rare and shining things that all men love the best.

Smiles

At a meeting of a rural district council a deputation of farmers asked to be received. They wished to complain about the state of the main road just outside the village.

They found, however, that their arguments did not receive a very good reception. In fact, the members of the council objected with emphasis and much noise.

"Look here," said the chairman, "the road is fairly good as a whole."

"Yes," replied the spokesman of the party, "but we want to use it as a road."

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

The crisis growing out of Russia's effort to starve the civilian population of western Berlin by food blockade remains serious, but it strikes this observer as having improved basically in favor of the democracies.

There always comes a time when the school-yard bully gets his bluff called. That's what is happening to the Muscovites in Germany now.

They thought the United States, Britain and France would recoil before the utterly cruel scheme of plunging 2,500,000 people into hunger by halting food trains, all of which have to pass through Russian-occupied territory that completely surrounds the capital; but the Reds had yelled "wolf" once too often.

Uncle Sam and John Bull immediately started flying foodstuffs into Berlin with a fleet of big airships. They did such a good job that by Thursday Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, declared:

"We are confident all the food Berlin needs by air and we can make a hell of a good effort to fly in all the coal Berlin needs, too."

When Clay uses that sort of language he is "talking turkey." Previously he had announced that nothing short of war could drive Americans out of Berlin, and Britain echoed in effect: "Same here." Meantime Washington, London and Paris have been conferring regarding measures for dealing with the imbroglio.

What Russia apparently has been up to is to force the Western Allies out of Berlin after which she would establish a Soviet state in eastern Germany with the strategic transport centre as the capital.

Possession of this great and historic city would provide a strong lure to persuade the people of Western Germany to unite with the Communist state in due course.

However, the Muscovite blockade hasn't jelled. The Western Allies have refused to be bullied. True, the battle isn't over yet, and the Reds may have something else up their sleeve, for they work by stealth and trickery.

Still, the Russians would seem to have manoeuvred themselves into an uncomfortable spot, and have given some indication that they were keeping the way open for retreat. The Communist command in Germany has remarked that the railroad blockade was inaugurated to enable repairs to the line and that these would be effected shortly.

In any event, not only the blockade but the whole Soviet German situation has reached a point from which observers expect the Russians to withdraw to escape embarrassment and consolidate their position. The decision of the deputies to create a German state out of the three western zones leaves the Bolsheviks the choice of joining in and making it a foursome or of establishing their own Soviet state.

One would look for them to inaugurate their own state, and play for time in an effort to win all Germany.

No One Should Strike a Child

A half dozen ladies are hopping mad at me because I reprinted that column on how to spank your little loved ones and make them like it. Isobel Trustin seems the maddest so we'll let her take the floor:

"Any man," writes Isobel, "who will strike his defenceless little daughter seems like a mighty cowardly brute. And, worse still, one who attempts to get a coarse laugh by writing a column about it. Sadism is a pretty nasty thing.

"Don't you think that having humiliated your daughter by writing a crude column about her you should apologize and admit that from now on you will treat her with the gentleness and respect due a little woman? She will respond to respect better than indignity."

Now, really, Isobel. There are times when the hair brush is the only solution to a situation, the only way to keep that respect between parents and offspring. Around our house we always kiss and make up, but the lesson remains as surprisingly long time.

The report here of a young couple's inability to Get Away From It All on Salt Spring Island brings a reassuring note from David Muir, on Gabriola Island.

"There are on this island three freelance writers with manuscripts out at present and two others with the germs of new works in culture," David writes. "So hold on to your dreams and if they worry you too much come to Gabriola."

I'm putting the letter in the dream file.

Problem Department

A rather large number of letters this week from people with problems.

The most poignant is a note from a young wife with an unhappy husband. He flew bombers overseas in the war and has been trying desperately, and without success, to get into commercial aviation. "He has accepted the situation a hundredfold per cent better than I," writes his wife, "Maybe that's because he doesn't watch a grown man fly to a window when the North Star or any other plane goes over. Is this another veteran's dream turned to ashes?"

I think I know what it is to have your heart in a plane and your feet on the ground and I'm sorry I haven't any advice to this problem. I suppose all the husband can do is to keep on trying and studying in his spare time.

Mrs. Janet Elson's worry concerns something else. "I am grieved by the lack of patriotism on the numerous empty flagpoles on our special Canadian holidays—banks and other large places of business. The press could set a good example by having a large print of our flag on the front page. Small flags could be sold on the street to be worn or carried . . ."

Sorry, Mrs. E., I can't get concerned over this subject. Too much nationalism, in my book, is a curse in these days of nation against nation. Let's not blind ourselves with flags.

A Bry. B. is more concerned with the carelessness of people in the parks and at the beaches. "They strew paper and everything imaginable all over, even if they are a few feet from the waste containers," she protests. "I would like to suggest that people take a big paper bag along every time they go to a park, especially on a picnic, and use it to hold all their refuse until they can dispose of it in a container."

Swell thought, Mrs. B. Nobody will do it, but it's a swell thought.

Concerning Harry's Folly

Several angry readers have sent me along copies of Harry Gregson's story in the Seattle Times titled "Canadians Find Seattle the Lap of Luxury."

William Smith writes, "This journalist has been given the privilege of starting a new life in Canada and now he runs down the city that took him in. My opinion is that Mr. Gregson would make a fine U.S. citizen, but definitely not a Canadian."

I think Harry's yarn is a little unfair and may even be somewhat harmful from the tourist standpoint, but nothing to get all hot and bothered about. Harry writes, "We now have the impression, which we didn't have before, of living in a rock lot." It's a pretty familiar first impression and we can expect Harry to get a more honest view when he's looked around a bit more.

Some letters, too, disagreeing with my report on the freedom of the newspapers.

R. W. Smith cites the coverage of the United Nations as an example on the other side. "On the whole, all countries reporting UN news have a tendency to devote much space to the big power crises and neglect almost completely the slow, constructive work which is actually taking place."

True enough, Mr. Smith, but this (as I suggested in my original thesis) is not a question of freedom, but a question of judgment in the handling of news. My position is that we have a free press, but that it is not sufficiently imaginative to take full advantage of that freedom.

Thirty hours rain in the past two days are greater crop prospects Alberta gave promise of the best crop in ten years.

An employee of the poultry farm at Mental Hospital Institute shot and killed a male patient yesterday in mistaking the deranged man for a skunk.

Drenching rain disrupted traffic on most provincial highways, and at Bowden, 100 cars were held up all night when the road became impassable.

Nineteen-year-old Jimmy Hogan of Jasper won the Alberta Junior championship in low qualifier in the men's provincial amateur and he eliminated Henry Martell, who was two-time winner of the men's amateur crown.

Provincial trade and industry department has laid foundation for establishment of credit houses which will provide services in event of continued bank closing.

Trivia

During the year which will see the Olympic Games visiting the United Kingdom, the British Color Council has aptly chosen "London Garden" for party and Autumn and Winter, 1948. The idea is to suggest colors to portray something of the beauty and charm of London—misty riverside pastels for silk, rayon and wool; gay "country garden" colors for knitwear and wool cloths, brilliant colors captioned "Covent Garden" for party and evening wear. The theme suggests endless possibilities for designers, dressmakers and retailer, for the ultimate benefit of the industries concerned and the public.

Although Britain's merchant navy lost more than 11,000,000 tons of shipping during the war it is now only 1,000,000 tons short of pre-war strength. This was stated by Mr. Alfred Barnes, Minister of Transport, June 8th at a Press conference in London. Great Britain, he said, entered the war with 16,900,000 tons gross shipping. At the present time, and after subsequent rebuilding which reflected great courage on the part of owners to order at present prices, the country possessed 15,700,000 tons gross.

"Mummy, is the devil a man?"

"No, my dear, he's worse than a man."

"But, mummy, you don't mean he's a woman, do you?"

"Why have you got 'Push' printed on that door when it opens outwards?"

"That's so people will be sure to pull it."

Gov't Seeking To Avert Rail Tie-Up

Use of Aircraft in Event of Strike Is Termed 'Impracticable'

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—A high-ranking government official last night said the government is "doing everything in its power" to avert a possible rail strike July 15 and that negotiations were continuing.

However, in the event of a breakdown in negotiations between a mediation board and 18 International Railway Brotherhoods, it would be "childish", he said, to think the government would provide other facilities, such as RCAF aircraft, to provide essential country-wide transportation.

"It is impracticable," says the official, "as is the idea of the government hoisting the railways onto its shoulders and running them under government control."

CRUCIAL POINT

He indicated that negotiations will reach their crucial point early next week, when the government in Ottawa will receive a report from the mediation board set up in Montreal.

The board, headed by Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron of the Exchequer Court, has met during the last three days with representatives of the railways and of a negotiating committee representing the 122,000-member Brotherhoods.

The brotherhoods asked last winter for a 35-cents-an-hour increase. Conciliation boards in majority reports recommended seven-cent increases, minority reports calling for 20-cent increases. Mediation efforts so far have failed to arrive at a figure at which the railways and unions could agree.

USE SOME AIRCRAFT

In other quarters, there were indications that the RCAF would be prepared to bring in some aircraft to the rescue of Canadian centres if the strike was brought into force.

This would be on similar lines to the "operation sandbags" in which two squadrons of transport planes flew sandbags from Montreal to the flood-stricken areas in British Columbia.

Such items as food and drugs would be included amongst the supplies the planes would carry.

Big Wheat Crop Depends On Weather

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Canada's chances for a big wheat crop this year depend on "particularly favorable" weather during the next few weeks, the Bureau of Statistics said yesterday.

Drought, delayed seeding and grasshoppers have combined in creating a bad situation, the bureau said in its monthly review of international wheat prospects.

SHORTAGE MAY END

But it reported the wheat shortage which has plagued the world since the end of the war may be largely ended before 1949.

Surveying the situation, the bureau noted that European and American crop prospects are good, and commented guardedly:

"There is promise of the tight wheat supply situation of the last two or three years being relieved to a considerable extent."

The bureau reported the United States Department of Agriculture has estimated Europe's wheat crop at 2,016,000,000 bushels. Russia is not included in the estimate.

ESTIMATE HIGHER

The estimate for this year is substantially higher than either the 1946 or 1947 crops. Two years ago Europe produced 1,493,000,000 bushels of wheat and last year 1,791,000,000 bushels.

Even this year's improved European wheat position falls seriously short of pre-war yields. They averaged about 300,000,000—more than the production expected this year.

"Europe will again need considerable imports in the coming crop year," the bureau commented.

Most Ministers Will Stay Close to Ottawa

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Most cabinet ministers from Prime Minister Mackenzie King down plan to remain close to Ottawa this summer, a survey showed yesterday.

Although their sessional work ended Wednesday, many of the ministers have large backlogs of departmental work awaiting attention. In addition, cabinet meetings will be held two or three times a week.

BRIEF REST

A few of the ministers managed a brief rest after the session ended but they will be back at work next week.

Prime Minister King has no holiday plans, but he will spend week-ends at his summer home in nearby Kingsmere, Que. He is expected to prepare to turn over the party leadership and the Prime Ministership to his successor, who is to be chosen at a Liberal convention in August.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent is spending a few days in Quebec but will be back at his desk next Tuesday.

POSSIBLE SUCCESSORS

Agriculture Minister Gardiner expects to stay in Ottawa most of the summer. He and Mr. St. Laurent are mentioned as possible successors to Mr. King.

Fisheries Minister Mayhew plans to leave shortly for his Victoria, B.C., constituency to take care of business matters.

Resources Minister MacKinnon will spend July at his desk but will visit his Edmonton West constituency in August.

TO WALK AGAIN AFTER 8 YEARS IN HOSPITAL

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—After eight years in hospital, during which he had 15 operations and 80 casts on his body, 24-year-old Robert Waterhouse of Ingersoll, Ont., may soon be able to walk normally. The eight years in hospital was all because he dived into shallow water.

He went swimming in the Thames river, near Ingersoll.

"Without trying the water, I dived in. My head hit the bottom and I was paralyzed in both hands and both legs. Friends pulled me out and since that time I have been in and out of hospitals in Ingersoll and Toronto."

All-Up Mail Gets Underway

A Trans-Canada Airlines North Star plane landed at Vancouver's Sea Island airport Thursday night with the first batch of letters in Canada's new "all-up" mail service.

All letters weighing an ounce or less can now go by air for four cents, and need not be marked "airmail".

Flight two left Vancouver for Halifax at 7:15 a.m. Thursday.

Each flight picked up letters at Calgary from Premier Ernest Manning, Lieutenant-Governor J. C. Bowen and Mayor Harry Ainlay, bearing greetings to their counterparts in the other provinces.

The ounce letters at four cents will be air lifted in all cases where delivery will be speeded. Regular airmail rates will be assessed for additional weight.

Six Children Found Shot Dead In Bed

SYDNEY, Australia, July 2. —(AP)—Six children of an Australian family yesterday were found in bed shot dead. Their father was charged with murder.

Police found their bodies lying in a double bed in a three-room shack where they lived at Glen Innespin, Northern New South Wales.

Their father, Charles Hall, 65, a laborer, is in a hospital under police guard; their mother in a maternity hospital, where she gave birth to a still-born child last week. She has not been informed of the tragedy.

Abortion Charge Again Set Ahead

Thomas Freeman Reid, Suite 1020 U.S. Airbase, charged with abortion was given his second remand in police court today.

Reid was remanded until Friday July 9, without plea.

He was arrested by police and charged with abortion Wednesday, June 16, following discovery of a body of a young woman in a city hotel room.

Inquest into the death of the woman, Verle Hollman, begins Monday, in city police court.

Reid first appeared in police court June 17. At that time he was remanded to July 2 without plea on $10,000 bail.

Former Edmontonian Now In Malaya

Pioneer prospector in the Great Bear Lake area, and Hudson's Bay post manager there prior to 1937, Roger S. Thew is an Edmonton visitor from Malaya.

Thew has been mine superintendent at Malayan Collieries, Malaya's only coal mine, an open pit seam mine.

He went to Malaya in 1946 from England.

Malaya is in a state of unrest since the war ended, the Edmonton visitor states.

Tobacco Supplies Cut In Britain

LONDON, July 3. — (AP) — The Board of Trade yesterday announced a one-sixth cut in tobacco supplies for the next two months to save dollars.

Since the war, manufacturers have been allowed to draw stocks up to 120 per cent of the rate for a period ending March 31, 1940. The maximum has now been cut to 100 per cent of that basic figure.

WALTERS BIRD WINS AGAIN

A pigeon owned by Tom Walters won the 500-mile Melville-to-Edmonton derby staged last week-end by the Capital City Racing Club.

In spite of unfavorable weather, the winning bird averaged 778.29 yards per minute.

Other winning entries were: "Scotty" Thompson, 565.37 yds per min.; Tetterington, 533.50 515.89 and 486.37 yds. per min., and Bill Gauganetz, 460.23 yds. per min.

Pigeons will participate in the Watrous-to-Edmonton race Saturday.

Pit vipers, including rattle snakes, can detect their warm-blooded prey in the dark by means of an extra sense that perceives heat.

Agreement Signed

THE HAGUE, July 3.—(AP)—A bilateral agreement covering Marshall plan aid to Holland was signed formally yesterday. A similar agreement covering aid to Russia was signed in Vienna.

HAVE ANOTHER, THEY CAN'T ARREST YOU

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man, July 3.—(CP)—Have another drink, boys—they can't arrest you on the Isle of Man for getting drunk.

Judgment to that effect was made by the Deemster at Manx assizes when he dismissed a charge of jailbreaking against a seaman who was locked up while intoxicated. Manx law doesn't provide for arrest for drunkenness, he said. Therefore the man is at liberty to leave the jail.

But drink up quickly, boys. Attorney-General Kneale says the law will be amended right away.

2 Britons Praise Canada Musicians

London Conductor and Colleague Toured Country as Adjudicators

Canadian musicians are among the world's best, according to a report received here yesterday.

The communique, from the Ottawa conference of Canadian music festivals, quotes Sidney Harrison, conductor of the London Philharmonic Orchestra, on Dominion musicians: "It is difficult to believe that any country could excel Canada."

Mr. Harrison and his colleague, Dr. Gordon Slater, organist, chorister and conductor from Lincolnshire, agreed on the high standard of Canadian artists. Dr. Slater particularly mentioned school choirs as an outstanding feature of the festivals he has heard.

The English pair made these statements in their reports to the CM Festival conference.

Both travelled all over the Dominion judging music festivals this spring. They adjudicated at May's provincial music festival in Calgary.

The fact that they have heard thousands of performers from West coast to East makes their remarks the more significant. We in this country have long been spoken of as a nation without music.

SOME CRITICISM

That music shouldn't be long in coming if we have a high calibre of musicianship.

The two adjudicators weren't without criticism, however. Mr. Harrison took issue with "mangling the music of the masters and pretentious nonsense from musicians of today." He also asked for better accompanists on piano and cello for vocalists and violinists.

FISHER RETURNING

Speaking of adjudicators, I notice that pianist Cornelius Fisher, of London, Eng., will return to Canada next summer to again adjudicate music festivals. Mr. Fisher judged the Alberta music festival in Edmonton last year.

His kindly and discerning comments, coupled with his sense of humor, won him considerable popularity with last year's festival entrants. He told me during his stay here that he liked Canada very much, and the announcement of his return seems to bear his statement out.

Incidentally Canadian music festivals next year will be judged solely by British adjudicators. Besides Mr. Fisher there will be Herbert Wiseman, Edinburgh, choral work; Miss Helen Henschel, London, vocal; and J. Peebles Conn, Glasgow, piano and strings.

A bit of financial good news has been announced by executives of Celebrity Concerts of Canada. The federal government's recent cutting of amusement taxes will mean that Celebrity Series tickets will be reduced in price by about 30 per cent. Those who have already paid for tickets will receive refund cheques in the mail.

CONVENTION

Edmonton Branch of the Alberta Registered Music Teachers Association is completing plans for the annual convention of Canadian music teachers to be held in Banff on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week.

Executives who will attend include Herbert Turner, convention convener and president of both the Alberta branch and the Canadian Association; V. A. Beringer, vice-president for Alberta; and Hazel Cameron, ARMTA secretary-treasurer, who will be convention registrar.

Delegates will take part in a number of business sessions, hear addresses by prominent Canadian and British musicians and teachers, and be entertained by artists from all over Canada.

Among the artists will be Edmonton's pianist, Doreen Stanton, and Calgary's Betty-Jean Hagen, violinist.

SUCCESSFUL

The list of successful candidates in the examinations of the associated board of the Royal Schools of Music, Toronto, has been announced. Exams were held in Edmonton and Wetaskiwin.

EDMONTON musicians include: LRSM, pianist "D" performer, Wesanne S. Anderson; grade 8, pass with merit, Mrs. Marion Wray Lander; grade 7, pass with distinction, Hugh M. W. Edgar (pianoforte); grade 6, pass, Constance Mae Fisher (pianoforte).

Theory: grade 8, pass with distinction, Mrs. Marion Lauder; grade 8, pass, Marion Becker; grade 5, pass with distinction, Hugh Edgar; grade 5, pass with merit, Constance Mae Fisher; grade one, pass with merit, Clayton Joseph Koble.

WETASKIWIN—pianoforte practical: grade 5, pass, Hadwig Lucy Graf; grade 5, pass, Kathleen Pyrch; grade 3, pass with merit, Anne Ball, Donna Johnson, Betty-Lou Vassar; grade 3, pass, Irena Heap; grade 2, pass with distinction, Joanne E. Draayer, Patsy Draayer; grade 2, pass, Gerald Anderson, Kenneth Bennett, Helen Groves, Zelick Perler, Roland L. Rupertus; grade one, pass with distinction, Donna Johnson, Marina Miquelon, Kathleen Pyrch; grade one, pass with merit, Myrtle Diderksen.

Preliminary exam: Darlene A. Ball, Georgina Burkholder, Lynette Fearnehaugh, William Johnson, Douglas Massing, Karen Wing, Kenneth Wing.

'Good News' Is Close to Real Movie Ideal

By HARLO JONES

I have a pet theory that a musical show should have just enough story (if any at all) to hold the music together. The picture now playing at the Capitol, "Good News", comes pretty close to my ideal in that respect by tying some good musical and dance routines together with a light, airy story.

The story is a breezy, easy-to-follow tale set in a college referred to as Tait. The school has, as far as anyone can tell, a French class, a library, a highly musically - talented student body, a corner drug store and a girls' sorority house.

There is also football team and between musical numbers it and the French class manage to get inextricably woven into the love affairs of several of the college students played by June Allyson, Peter Lawford, Patricia Marshall, Joan McCracken, Ray McDonald and Mel Torme.

SHE'S GOOD

Topside in the dance routines is a flashing bundle of rhythm, fresh from the Broadway production of Oklahoma, which passes by the name of Joan McCracken. She's good, too. She can put her dancing feet in the right places more often in a short space of time than anyone I've seen in a long time. She especially radiates vitality, in a rather Betty Hutton-ish sort of way.

Her style weds ballet routines with jazz of the flapper era, which, incidentally, gives you the time of it dates back to when college jalopies only had four cylinders, pork pie hats were a daring innovation and a 28-inch cuff on men's trousers was all the rage. There is even a ukelele accompanist by the lady-wrecked but well-toned singing of Mel Torme.

There's another fashion note in, but it's for the ladies. The theory that fashion trends go in cycles, the little woman better come down to the "cap" set of a kind of what happened during the last reaction from long skirts! I haven't seen so many chiffon dresses since one sister came out. (That was the night before I secretly burned my last pair of short pants.)

I even saw a pair of those lounging pyjamas. You remember. The ones which measured at least six feet around the bottom of each leg.

I wouldn't recommend this picture to my girl friend. She can't carry the weight of the world into the theatre with him or her. There's no real need to do so. The supporting cast is lovely. It is entertainment of the lighter variety, pure and simple, so if that's what you want, by all means go.

☆ ☆ ☆

For devotees of the thriller, the Hallto" is going some similar stuff under the title of "Intrigue."

In it, Star Films co-operate with United Artists to take a bevy of all world backmarketeers in general, and those in starving China in particular.

Lead role on the male side is played by George Raft as an exarmy pilot who got handed a raw deal in a court martial and no longer feels that he owes much to the world. He seems to operate more on the principal that the world is there to supply him with anything he can take the time and trouble to get out of it.

BLACK MARKET QUEENS—

He's matched with June Havoc, as an exotic black market Queen, and Helena Carter, who plays the part of a girl with a Purpose who is killing time working for an International Relief Settlement in Shanghai.

The Havoc wench, by the way, points out the little moral in the story that a black marketeer can look quite innocent and photothrope when occasion demands.

Everyone gets along swimmingly until a (believe it or not) newspaper reporter starts getting nosey about disappearing rice and such, then the whole blow up.

☆ ☆ ☆

You fans of "le Jazz Hot" might want to know that there is also a good lengthy Krupa short at the Rialto in which the bang is featured without the usual benefit performers from the third-rate circuits.

A three-piece (drums, alto-sax and panio) combo from the band does a rendition of "Stompin' at the Savoy" which is one of the nice'r I've heard. It starts on a good easy swing tempo, breaks, almost unbelievably, into a hesitation waltz time and then goes home, flying wide and high.

NOTHING TO FEAR

There is a canary, one Caroline Grey, who puts the torch to Boogey Woogie Blues. She, incidentally, has nothing to fear from television. She chirps a few bars with a neat muted trombone obligato which goes back to the old days of Jazz.

Guess I'd better climb off the music parade or Dick Tracy will be the long hair across the pave there) will be laying on the knife.

☆ ☆ ☆

Remember that comedy, "Sitting Pretty", which I was talking about on Tuesday? Well, it's still on at the Garneau, and if you haven't seen it before, get crackin'. It is one of the best in a long time, without reservation.

Golfer Is Killed When Hit By Ball

DETROIT, July 3—(AP)—Charles Gabrielson, 45-year-old business man, died Thursday after being struck on the head by a golf ball while playing golf with his office staff. Police began an investigation to determine who drove the fatal shot.

International Quiz Builds Understanding

By Don Flach

Among all the quiz shows plugging the American airwaves there are a few with "blood in their veins" such as Information Please and Twenty Questions.

Another such program doing a man-size job is International Quiz being worked out by the BBC's Regional Program for North America and Station WPEN with its 3,000,000 listeners in the Philadelphia area.

On this program, teams of students from colleges in London, England, and in Pennsylvania compete to test their wits and their knowledge of questions of the moment.

The programs are entirely unrehearsed, and only the quizmasters know the questions in advance.

LESSON ON FELLOWSHIP

As the students proceed with their questions and answers, the listeners are taking part in a lesson on the fellowship of men, in international broadcasting on a basis for fulfilling an immediate international need—understanding.

CBC WINNER

Further recognition of the job the CBC is doing for a better-informed Canada is seen in the announcement of the first annual Henry Marshall Tory award for distinguished service to adult education. The award was made to the CBC for its Farm Radio Forum, widely recognized as the world's leading listening group activity. The program is presented Monday nights during the fall and winter.

In making the award, Dr. Gordon Shrum of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, praised the program for adapting itself to the needs of the people and for being most effective in promoting active participation in hundreds of action projects for the improvement of rural life.

Forum listeners are well represented in every province through more than 1,300 organized listening groups comprising 23,000 listeners.

Dr. Henry Marshall Tory was first president of the U. of A.

DELAYING HISTORY

History has been delayed.

Last week in this column I announced that Edmonton radio history would be made with the opening of the new CBC Alberta station, CBX, on July 7. However an official announcement of the CBC advises that additional time is necessary to get the complicated high-power equipment fully adjusted and tested.

The history will now be made on September 8.

☆ ☆ ☆

A better understanding of the life of French Canada should result from the series of seven plays being aired by the CBC in the regular Stage 48 slot at 7:00 Sunday evenings.

QUEBEC FOLKWAYS

The series, Behold This Land, is an authentic representation of Quebec folkways as seen by contemporary Canadian playwright Yves Theriault. Mr. Theriault has had many of his plays presented with success on the CBC's French network, and has had a number of short stories published in a national magazine.

First of the series will be heard July 4 at 7:00 on CJCA.

STAMPEDE ON AIR

John Fisher, Canada's ace storyteller, will carry the story of the Calgary Stampede across the dominion during the coming week. His colorful stories of this great western Canada event will be heard July 5 to 9 at 7:15 and July 10 at 6:10 over CJCA.

☆ ☆ ☆

Another major sporting event getting radio attention next week is the Olympic Swimming and Diving Trials being held in Montreal. Daily reports on the progress of the trials will be given over CKUA at 3:30 Monday through Friday. Reports of play in the Davis Cup tennis matches will also be included in the broadcasts.

☆ ☆ ☆

Radio critics will be interested in the discussion scheduled to be heard on Towne Meeting in Canada, Sunday at 7:00 on CKUA. The topic, How Can We Improve the Standard of Radio Humor, is to be discussed by radio humorist Allan Young, Christie McDevitt, magazine editor and humorist, Brig. P. C. Tees, distinguished soldier and educator, and W. E. Ward, author and humorist.

Further criticism of the radio industry's efforts are made by Thomas Archer on Speaking as a Listener heard Fridays at 10:15 on CKUA.

A change from the whirwind of events enmeshing every American family of the soap operas are the stories told by Bernie Braden every week day morning, Monday through Friday at 11:00 on CKUA.

☆ ☆ ☆

Summer replacements continue to take their toll. Now-defunct thriller, Suspense, is now replacing the Dick Haymes Show heard Thursdays at 6:00 on CFRN.

JURGENS ON CFRN

Dick Jurgens and his orchestra are now replacing Spike Jones and his City Slickers' on the Spotlight Revue show heard on CFRN Saturdays at 7:30.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Pause that Refreshes, Sunday afternoons at 3:30 on CFRN, brings more foreign musical stars to the microphone. This time its the Anjou de Lussan quintet a long-time radio, theatre, and night club attraction for Latin-Americans in Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Mexico, Guatamala, San Salvador and Cuba.

Dorothy West Scores With Folksy Novel

By Harold Delany

THE LIVING IS EASY. By Dorothy West. Boston, Mass.: Houghton Mifflin Company. 347 pages.

This is an indoor novel. In fact, one of the people in it doesn't get out of the house for four years. It's an indoor novel because it's a housewifey novel: the look at life from the kitchen and parlor.

The characters in this book are negroes. But they are treated first as people, and second as colored people. Dorothy West is writing like a woman, from inside the house.

When women cook, sew, try to get money from their men, publish their kids, and so on, the colored part of it isn't central, but the woman part of it is.

Miss West's heroine, a wonderfully spirited girl named Cleo, won't lick anybody's boots. It is her hustle and bustle that makes the novel, and the side plots of intrigue and petty gossip, are just fruit salad.

Some of the writing, as writing in loose—but the important thing about the book is its abundant and special woman's energy and beat. The best is a deep one, and it often makes that of man seem puny.

ANOTHER YEAR. By R. C. Sherriff. New York: The MacMillan Company. 265 pages.

R. C. Sherriff, motion-picture writer, and author of the memorable war play "Journey's End," evinces unhappy signs of Hollywooditis in this latest novel. The first two-thirds of his unpretentious story, built around the experiences of an elderly English parson in the slums of London, are appealing in their quiet charm and chuckly humor.

Then Hollywood literally appears on the scene, and what begins with sincerity and sensitivity ends in slick, but unconvincing contrivance.

The story revolves around Roger Mathews, vicar of the sleepy village of Little Stanton, who at the age of 57, decides to save his soul and make a "test" of his capacities for service.

In order to do this, Mr. Mathews gives up placid Little Stanton for a parish in London's pugnacious East End. But it turns out to be more difficult than he ever thought possible. How reality beats out the romantic concepts of adventure in the slums, and it is well that in his wife Ruth is a colleague as staunch as she is tender.

The author has written, on the whole, an entertaining story, but one which in beginning promises to make the last third of the book credible.

"Another Year" may get into celluloid, but it won't get into leather bindings.

MISS ME DISPOSES. By Josephine Tey. New York: The MacMillan Company. 213 pages.

Here's joy for all who want a nice short-fused detective tale—laid-back in psychology and the girls at Ley Physical Training College, near Bidlington.

Miss Lucy Pym went there to lecture on her favorite subject and remained to sleuth a late-date murder in the gymnasium.

It's a believable job with civilized characters, matching prose, and a nice surprise ending.

Josephine Tey is better known as Gordon Daviot, English novelist and playwright.

LAST CALL FOR LISSA. By Dorothy Mayor. New York: The M. S. Mill Company. 250 pages.

After an absence of 13 years, Lissa Stanton returns to Ridgeton, where she is anything but welcome. Particularly standoffish are her ex-husband Geoffrey and his sister Adelle, who fear that Lissa is up to no good.

Their fear on this score is of short duration, for a bullet fired at short range eliminates Lissa soon after her arrival.

Roger Saunders delves into the past and discovers the motive for three murders and the identity of the murderer.

This is a better than average story of crime and detection.

AUTHOR! AUTHOR! NOT THIS TIME

PARIS, July 3.—(Reuters)—Gen. Maxime Weygand, French commander-in-chief at the time of the 1940 collapse, wanted to sign copies of a new book of his as they were sold in a Paris shop. He was forbidden to do so "in the interest of public order."

Diver Drowns

AVALON, Calif., July 3—(AP)—Peter Lewis, 20, which for 32 years has provided him a living as a diver and movie stunt man, claimed the life of Harry (The Monk) Boosinger. The 48-year-old veteran waterman was drowned when his air line became fouled during a diving demonstration.

Attacks Tito

ROME, July 3—(AP)—Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist leader, issued a strong attack on Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia in the Communist newspaper Unita yesterday. He added that removal of Tito from the Cominform would "strengthen our lot" and make "more secure our victory."

Brazil nuts are the seeds of a large tree which grows throughout tropical America.

Communism Is Held no Cause For Discharge

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—(AP)—Membership in the Communist party is not sufficient cause for discharge of a newspaper man, the American Newspaper Guild held today.

In the closing session of the 15th annual convention here, the delegates also selected Columbus, O., for the 1949 convention city. The date will be set later.

Earlier the guild passed a resolution urging a hearing for Thomas G. Hannan, discharged from the staff of the Washington, D.C., Star, after he admitted membership in the Communist party.

"Any such discharges should be resisted to the fullest," the resolution said, "and be it further resolved that the Washington (Guild) Local be urged to process the Buchanan grievance."

The Washington Local previously had voted not to go to Buchanan's defence.

Chief Metallurgist

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Appointment of a distinguished Canadian physicist, Dr. John Convey, as chief metallurgist in the mines department was announced yesterday. He will direct the metallurgical research in the department's laboratories here.

Fine Collection Of Records at Library

By Dick Sherbaniuk

One of the finest collections of classical records in Alberta is to be found in Edmonton's Public Library.

The collection includes almost 4,000 recordings of all the best-known operas, symphonies and concertos, sung and played by masters that make most North American musicians seem like novices.

The artists run the gamut from that all-time great, Enrico Caruso, to the musical stars of today.

And these records are available to Edmontonians, not only to hear in the Library music room, but to take home for the nominal rent fee of two cents per day.

This is the fifth year of operation of the Library music room.

RECORD SELECTOR

The man who is in charge of it, who selects the records, who holds wintertime thrice-weekly record concerts in the music room, is Nicholas Alexeef, a 52-year-old genial music lover of very discerning tastes.

Mr. Alexeef, a former captain in the Czar's Russian Imperial Army, travelled all over Europe much much of Asia as an opera performer before the First World War.

He fled from Russia when the Bolsheviks took over after the war, and came to Canada in 1924. He has been with the Public Library for the past 20 years.

Mr. Alexeef is always happy to welcome any newcomer to his music room in the Library basement.

He has a superb record-player which brings out even the most subtle tones in his suberb records.

LOTS OF TIME

During the summer, he has a lot of time to listen to music by himself, too much time, in fact, because Edmontonians seem to prefer to enjoy the outdoors rather than music.

In winter between 45 and 50 records per day are rented from the music room, but the number falls considerably during the summer.

Nevertheless Mr. Alexeef is on duty every day but Saturday, from 2 to 6 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock, to assist record-seekers.

All records in the music room are purchased brand new and with much care by Mr. Alexeef. Any recording album at the Library is read without the usual benefit performers from the third-rate circuits.

TAKEN CARE OF

Although the rent of recordings sounds like a risky business, the records are always returned in good shape. "People who take records always take care of them," says Mr. Alexeef.

He has found that vocals are most popular followed by piano concertos, then symphonies (Tschaikowsky, Brahms, Rimsky-Korsakov, Chopin in that order).

Incidentally, the Library music room has librettos to all operas, and these are available throughout the Metropolitan Opera season's weekly broadcasts.

The one thing that makes the Library's record collection unique to most Edmontonians is that there are a great number of European-made records and albums, cut by European stars.

Latest of the European recordings obtained by Mr. Alexeef is Verdi's La Forza Del Destino, with artists from the famed La Scala opera company of Milan, Italy: Ebe Stignani, Maria Canigila, Ferruccio Tagliavini (who has just made an RCA Victor album), Italo Tajo Amico Pritz, Pietro Mascagni.

For downtown Edmontonians who will appreciate a bit of relaxation during the noon-hour, Mr. Alexeef will begin later this month a series of lunch-time concerts. These concerts will be amplified over Mr. Dougall hill, so that those who like to eat their lunch there, and those who just want to sit in the shade, will be able to hear some of the world's finest music.

Ex-Calgary Firm Moves to Capital

Canadian Utilities Ltd. Takes Top Floor of Seven Seas

The entire office space of the new Seven Seas building, situated on the second storey of the premises, will be occupied by the Canadian Utilities Limited.

A power firm, the Canadian Utilities Limited, formerly operated from Calgary but in view of the fact that the future expansion of its enterprises will take place in the northern part of the province, the offices at the foothills city were transferred to the new and modern quarters in the Seven Seas building.

A staff of 24 is employed at the new offices, all of whom were transferred from Calgary. Total employes number 200.

Vice-president and general manager of the firm is B. M. Hill, who said the company supplies electricity and power to some 600 farms in the province, close to 100 towns and villages, and has some 15,000 customers.

MILNER HEAD

President of the firm is H. R. Milner, of Edmonton, and it is an associate company with the Calgary Gas Company and the Northwestern Utilities Limited.

The firm formerly served power and electricity to various parts of Saskatchewan but sold interests to the Saskatchewan Power Commission, and are now concentrating their activities to Alberta, although they have a plant at Fort St. John, B.C.

Other plants are located at Drumheller, Vermilion, Bonnyville, Youngstown, and Grande Prairie.

At present, the company is building new power plants at Drumheller and Vermilion.

The new plant at Vermilion, which is being erected at the cost of $742,000, is expected to be partially operating by September.

It will be a 7,500 kilowat plant of 10,000 horse power and will supply power and electricity to Vermilion and district and all the towns along the line between Mundare and Lloydminster, Andrew to Lloydminster, Radway, Bonnyville, Elk Point and to the oil wells at Blackfoot, Lloydminster and Vermilion.

The Drumheller plant serves the mines at this coal town and extends its power and electricity east as far as Hanna, west to Three Hills and Trochu, north to Stettler and Donalda and east again to Forestburg, Castor and Coronation. Sexsmith, Hythe, Beaver Lodge, Grande Prairie, Fort St. John, B.C., St. Paul, Youngstown and district, are also served by the company.

CHEERFUL, COMFORTABLE, GAY YET SOPHISTICATED is the ultra modernized dining room and banquet hall of the new Seven Seas restaurant which opens for business this evening at "eight". Seen in the background of the attractive premises is the illuminated technicolor photomural, which is unique in decorative cafe design in Canada.

City's Newest Eatery Opens to Public Today

One of the largest and most attractive eating houses in western Canada—the new ultra modern Seven Seas restaurant—opens here today. Streamlined to perfection, the new eating house, situated at 10525 Jasper avenue, will accommodate 350 patrons at one sitting.

No expense has been spared in making the restaurant the city's most attractive and comfortable.

The interior and exterior of the premises are specifically designed along the most modern lines, and the equipment throughout is definitely the latest offered on today's market.

An attractive frontage gives the establishment an air of distinction.

Here the management introduces a new type of window and entrance. The glass, which stretches the entire width of the cafe, and from near street level to the ceiling, is encased in glistening black vitrolite tile with chrome trimmings.

Half of this ultra-modern glass frontage features the new corrugated design, while the rest is plate glass.

A full length mirror greets the approach to the double door entrance, enhancing the dignity of the premises.

Immediately inside is a streamlined cashier's counter in a half-moon crescent design.

Opposite is the check-room, patterned along the same lines.

An L-shaped settee and waiting lounge adjoins the check-room and approach to the dining room and banquet hall.

To the right of the entrance is the attractive zig-zag coffee bar and soda fountain which will accommodate 21 patrons at the counter, and 24 at the tables.

The kitchen, one of the many outstanding features of the cafe, is situated at the rear of the coffee bar and to the right of the dining room and banquet hall.

On the whole, the Seven Seas restaurant is the most attractively-decorated, modernly equipped and streamlined-designed eating house in Edmonton.

Staff Benefits At Seven Seas

Employes of the Seven Seas restaurant, in addition to working in one of western Canada's most modern eating establishments, and with the latest equipment money can buy, have been provided with many other conveniences.

On the lower floor of the premises, each employe has been assigned a private locker and key. A spacious lounge room, showers for men and women, and other facilities have been made available to the staff by the management.

Utilities Company Buys New Turbines

Four boilers and turbines, that formerly powered two United States Navy convoy-escort vessels along the sea lanes, during the Second World War, will supply and generate power and electricity to northern Alberta residents, towns and farms.

Purchased by the Canadian Utilities Limited, the boilers and turbines have been installed and made ready for use at the company's new power plant, presently under construction at Vermilion.

J. D. MacGregor, assistant manager of the firm, and superintendent in charge of construction of the new plant, said that two of the boilers and turbines were removed from a war surplus ship at San Diego, and the other set was obtained at the Philadelphia navy yard.

"Both units were removed from the ships intact, were shipped by special flat cars to Vermilion, where they have been installed on cement bases and are ready for use," said MacGregor.

"They will be not be put into operation, however, until September, when the building which is being built around them is expected to be completed," he added.

The new Vermilion power plant is within the town limits and is being erected at a cost of $742,000.

It will be a 7,500 kilowat plant, with 10,000 horse power and will transmit a 33,000 voltage along the company's power line from Vermilion to St. Paul, through Derwent and Elk Point and down to Lloydminster.

"Reason for purchasing the boilers and turbines from the war surplus ships was the immediate availability and lower costs," said MacGregor.

He further stated: "We ordered a Parson steam boiler and turbine from Newcastle, England, for our plant at Drumheller, more than two years ago and are still awaiting delivery, although we've been informed it was on its way."

"The units obtained from the former navy ships will serve the purpose quite adequately. They are in perfect shape," he concluded.

Tech. Motorcade

CALGARY, July 3. — (CP) — A motorcade sponsored by Edmonton Technocrats and Interior British Columbia Technocrats will arrive in Calgary next Tuesday, it was announced yesterday. T. C. Sansom of Edmonton will be guest speaker at a Technocracy meeting the same night.

Cosmopolitan Dishes Seven Seas Feature

An attractive menu of fine food, tastefully prepared and served, is the goal to which the management of the new Seven Seas Oriental restaurant will strive to offer to their patrons.

On colorful menus, befitting the name of the new restaurant, the management makes this statement:

"It is our belief that fine food, tastefully prepared and attractively served, is essential of gracious living.

"Our aim is to serve those who appreciate excellent cuisine with dishes that will delight the most epicurian palate.

"So that it may be properly offered, all food is cooked to your order.

"The service is prompt, but sufficient time is taken to ensure a perfect serving.

"Realizing that pleasant surroundings and careful service enhance the enjoyment of good cookery, we have endeavored to provide for you the finest restaurant facilities in the province.

"We have accommodation for larger parties, and extend a cordial invitation to family groups. Children's requirements will receive special consideration.

"No effort has been spared to make your visit to the Seven Seas a delightful dining experience. It is our sincere hope that you will really enjoy it!"

Large Staff At Seven Seas

A staff of 24 operates the offices of the Canadian Utilities Limited which are located on the second storey of the new Seven Seas building.

Decorated in a pastel shade of green with a darker green trim, the new offices are modern in every manner. Latest design in lighting, heating and air conditioning units has been installed and the staff are full of praise for their new quarters.

The staff consists of B. M. Hill, vice-president and general manager, J. G. MacGregor, assist. manager; E. G. Kelly, superintendent of transmission lines; J. C. Dale, electrical engineer; J. E. Bagshaw, superintendent of rural electrification and new business; T. A. Montgomery, secretary and office manager; R. Nurse, engineer in charge of diesel engine plants, and M. Irvine, H. Davies, C. B. Linton, H. E. Davies, H. Kerr, T. K. Cornborough, J. F. Amercrombie, W. M. Whitely, A. M. O'Farrell, M. Sinclair, D. Lincoln, E. Shaw, A. Alteman, A. Murphy, S. Nazar, D. McGill and E. Male.

$63.50-A-Week Clerk Found Big Time Speculator

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(CP)—A congressional committee appointed to study speculation in commodities reported that a woman clerk in the navy department speculated in $10,311,990 worth of commodities while drawing a federal salary of about $63.50 a week.

The committee found no evidence that any federal employes trading in commodities possessed confidential information.

It said, however, that the woman clerk's transactions include 1,785,000 bushels of wheat, 285,000 bushels of corn, 720,000 bushels of oats, 50,000 bushels of rye, 270,000 pounds of lard, 1,500,000 pounds of cottonseed oil, 33,500 bales of cotton and 48 carloads of eggs.

The employe was not identified.

First Serious Hail Storms Reported

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Alberta's first serious hail storms of the season were reported yesterday by J. Glen Elder, manager of Alberta Hail Insurance Board. Damage amounted to 100 per cent in some areas.

Three storms struck Wednesday. One was from Didsbury east through Sunny Slope and Three Hills, the second was from Sylvan Lake east through Lacombe to Alix with some stones said to have been the size of golf balls. An automobile with an old style top was found by its owner with the top perforated after the storm. The third storm was in the Hobema-Meeting Creek area.

Fall grains were particularly bad hit with spring crops damaged but not as seriously because of their less advanced stage of growth.

THIS IS IT . . . the new streamline entrance and waiting lounge of the ultra modern Seven Seas restaurant which officially throws its doors open to the public tonight at "eight". Th enew eating establishment excels in beauty, cheerfulness, comfort and design and is classed as one of Canada's finest cafes.

Modern Kitchen Features New City Restaurant

A kitchen to be proud of is that of the Seven Seas restaurant.

Spacious, attractive and modernly equipped, it can be classed as one of the city's finest.

The simplicity of modern design, sparkling white enamel, interior decorating, and latest equipment, combine to create an air of cleanliness, cheerfulness and comfort.

Everything is just so, in this spick and span kitchen.

As one of the cafe chefs put it, "Cooking in this kitchen will be a pleasure."

And it's not hard to understand his statement.

There is little to be desired.

To distinguish the outstanding feature of the "cooking corner" would be a problem.

To produce victuals that please, a cook must first have a good stove.

The Seven Seas boasts of two of the city's finest.

In addition, modern vegetable pressure cookers, and streamlined steam tables have been installed.

To keep food fresh at all times, two huge refrigeration units have been conveniently placed within arm's reach of the stoves.

Dish washing chores will be ably handled by the installation of the new dish washing machines, which in addition to sterilizing every dish will considerably speed up the service.

The new French fryer, for French fried potatoes, is another feature of this remarkable kitchen.

"We've got the latest in everything and our kitchen will rate with any in Canada" said Doug Mah, one of the cafe proprietors.

And it's an even bet, anyone will readily agree, that the Seven Seas kitchen, is an eye-pleaser.

Best In Town Manager Says

"The best cup of coffee in town," that's the goal of the management of the new and ultra modern Seven Seas restaurant which officially opens for business this evening.

This should be good news for those who like a good cup of java, and the management boast they'll make good their promise.

Several of the latest designed coffee urns, imported from Chicago, "will make coffee that's a pleasure to drink."

Uniformity Of Wages, Working Conditions Asked

MONTREAL, July 3. — (CP) — Uniformity of wages and working conditions in Canada's cloak and dress industry was recommended yesterday by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union (AFL).

The proposal was made following a meeting here of the co-ordinating committee of all Canadian locals of the ILGWU. The resolution was adopted in order to avoid competition of labor and to restrain industries from moving to low-wage areas.

Vancouver, Edmonton, Winnipeg and Toronto delegates attended the conference.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Social Justice

Social justice means the common good. To violate social justice is to break God's law by stealing away other people's rights.

Employers, for example, offend against social justice when they pay wages so low that workers are denied decent standards of living which are a part of human rights. Labor leaders, on the other hand, defy this cardinal doctrine when they disrupt economic life by instigating unwarranted strikes.

Social justice demands equality of opportunity for all citizens. Because of unjust discrimination and policies of segregation, millions are condemned to work in low-paying jobs that offer no chance of advancement, and to live in sub-standard homes.

Essential to social justice is the realization that all men have Christain obligations toward one another. Our duty is not merely to refrain from seeking advantages that hurt others or from supporting or condoning laws or policies which are devised for the benefit of some at the expense of the community in general. We are also obligated to promote, in any practical way we can, the cause of social justice.

No man can hope to live in a social ivory tower. That so much social injustice exists in America is due largely to indifference on the part of otherwise good and honest people to conditions they see around them. These people are not interested in causes or movements. They are content to let other people engage in works of social uplift and improvement.

Such an attitude, however, is contrary to Christ's universal injunction: "Bear ye one another's burdens." To stand aside when action is needed may mean being guilty of aiding and abetting those who are able to sin against society only because there are so few to challenge and defeat them.

COME TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

United Church Large Donator to Britain

TORONTO, July 3.—Tens of thousands of persons in Great Britain would soon be compelled to wear their last suit of clothes to the factory, foundry, shipyard or other work, Rev. J. R. Mutchmor, general secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of The United Church of Canada, told the Executive of General Council of that church, meeting in Toronto.

Dr. Mutchmor, in describing the work of the United Church and Canada Overseas Relief Fund, said that Britain today is the second neediest country in Europe.

Good used clothing is one of the most urgent needs, he said, and it would be necessary for the Church to increase its gifts of clothing for overseas if urgent needs for next winter are to be met.

United Church congregations have to date contributed 247,500 pounds of clothing through the Canadian Church Relief Abroad depots, Dr. Mutchmor who is Chairman of the United Church's Overseas Relief Committee, announced.

DESERVES GIFTS

In describing the gifts of United Church congregations Dr. Mutchmor indicated that the United Church of Canada is contributing a major part of the clothing going overseas through joint Church efforts.

The executive urged Dr. Mutchmor to give the widest possible publicity to the fact, so that other groups in Canada would know that the United Church in Canada is "doing its duty in this great need."

An increasing number of United Church congregations are "adopting" congregations in Britain and are becoming responsible for regular shipments of food to them and to Church relief agencies in Germany and France, Dr. Mutchmor said.

More than 42,000 pounds of food have gone forward through the United Church of Canada, and in addition a number of congregations and Church organizations are packing and shipping food gifts to individuals in Britain, and to the continent.

CASH DONATIONS

Twenty thousand dollars has been contributed to date to the Overseas Relief Fund for the shipping of food and clothing, the executive was told. Another $5,000 has been given for the purchase of clothing. The United Church is cooperating in efforts of the Canadian Council of Churches, who have set up clothing centres in Toronto, Regina, Hamilton and Winnipeg.

The Executive of General Council reviewed earlier contributions including $148,028 to the Aid to European Churches Fund and the War Relief at $103,064,252.

"A people who give that amount of money in a year are not indifferent to religion," Dr. Mooney said.

OLDER PEOPLE SUFFER

Reading letters received from individuals in Britain who had received food parcels from Canadians, Dr. Mutchmor said that older people in Britain are suffering most. They live alone, and are unable to line up for food supplies. Their diet, he said, is "monotonous and grim."

Rev. Dr. K. J. Beaton, secretary of the Committee on Missionary Education, said that personal contact with individuals and groups in Britain was necessary so that the Church would help tie the peoples of the east and west together.

Christian Science

"And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not." (Genesis 28: 16). "Truth and Love come nearer in the hour of woe when strong faith or spiritual strength wrestles and prevails through the understanding of God," (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 567). These passages are typical of the readings which compose the Lesson-Sermon on "God," in all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Large Contributions By United Church

TORONTO, May 15.—Members of the United Church of Canada contributed $18,729,453 for all purposes during 1947, almost one million dollars more than the preceding year.

For the first time since 1931 the Church went over the $2,000,000 mark for its missionary and maintenance fund, according to Dr. Victor Mooney, treasurer. He said property held by congregations was valued at $103,064,252.

"A people who give that amount of money in a year are not indifferent to religion," Dr. Mooney said.

Religious Revival Forecast by Clergy

By REV. STANLEY O. RUSSELL

There is "a revival a going in the tops of the trees." In other words, strange and subtle things are happening, many of which are beneath the surface of our existence. More than one youth is feeling an urge towards religion, and towards the forms and institutions of religion, in a way which is both most gratifying to his elders and most promising for the community. To define this more closely would be almost indelicate, just as it would be to expose other things not intended for the public view.

The publication of the love letters of Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning has always seemed to some a questionable proceeding. It only means they not meant for that fate, but there is something impertinent in thus broadcasting the deepest and most sacred feelings of human hearts. In exactly the same way, there is a reticence to be observed in personal religion. There is something unclean, as well as inconsiderate, in its ruthless exposure to the public gaze. A naked soul can become as immodest as a naked body.

On the other hand, there is no doubt that things are happening in many human hearts around us of which it is impossible to exaggerate either the beauty or the importance. Young men are undertaking high adventure for Jesus Christ in ways far beyond what might be expected from their age and temperament. Students of scientific subjects, engaged in research, are finding that they have in religion a phenomenon demanding serious inquiry, which is not made the less urgent by sectarian strife, theological web-spinning, or even an obsolete vocabulary. The facts and effects of religion are beneath and beyond all these things, which have little or nothing to do with them. There is, among certain groups, and these chiefly of young and thoughtful men, what our fathers would have called a revival of religion.

UNFAMILIAR FORM

It is not taking the form with which those fathers were familiar. It is doubtful if it will ever take that form again, and even whether it was a thoroughly healthy form.

in every branch of knowledge, from physics to zoology, that the world with which they are dealing makes no sense without faith in God. Darwin insisted on the same fact, and proclaimed that his theory—which blew institutional religion into hysterics, but is entirely consistent with Genesis—was sent forth in the hope of promoting the greater glory of God.

There is also, of course, the personal factor. The disquiet, and restlessness, the cry for brighter lights and louder music, the inability to be alone and the fear of silence, I think, are all the result of an inward and basic lack. "Thou hast made us for Thyself" said St. Augustine, "and our hearts can find no rest until they rest in Thee." People try to dodge that eternal truth, to find substitutes for it, to arrange the external world to provide their hearts' desire, frankly to blunder, with Bertrand Russell, that morals have no real foundation and that despair should be elevated into a philosophy. It will not do; and many thoughtful young people are seeing that it will not do, and are also seeing only too clearly the terrible consequences which have followed every effort to make it do. Therefore there is a definite movement, which is quite as much intellectual as emotional, towards a resurgence of religious life within the walls of religious institutions.

The Lord is the Sole Man; and all are men according to reception of Divine Good and Divine Truth from Him. That the Lord is the Sole Man is because He is Life Itself; but all others, because they are born from Him, are recipients of Life. Between the Man, who is Life, and a man, who is a recipient of Life, there is a distinction as between Uncreate and created, and as between infinite and finite. —E. 1120.

Clergymen May Take Other Jobs
TORONTO, May 15. — There's nothing to prevent a clergyman from taking on a full or part-time secular job.
That's the verdict of the Toronto and Kingston Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The synod acted in reply to objections against a Presbyterian minister who had taken posts as secretary of the Trustees and Ratepayers Association of Ontario and editor of the Canadian School Journal.

Modern Homes Always Sought

Practical Planning Big Building Factor

By Bert Nightingale

What constitutes a "modern" home?

Before delving into the subject of what authorities tell us is modern, consider for a moment what isn't!

By "modern" is definitely not meant those strange, barn-like structures which were so much in vogue a few years back, and which are still frequently associated with the word modern.

They were modernistic, not modern—and are just as phony, and just as bad as those peculiar wooden monstrosities of a few decades ago, with their arched wooden windows, their ridiculous cupolas and their wooden icicles.

An example of a good modern house, one that looks like what it is, is the so-called "ranch" house, long and close to the ground, and with a low-pitched roof. It is definitely a modern type and one that is here to stay.

The modern, ranch type of house gives you much more freedom in design but, on the other hand, many practical interiors can be worked out in period styles.

Many persons are fond of a certain period style and prefer to have it, even if it increases construction costs. Remember though, that no period of style on the outside is worth the smallest amount of inconvenience or unsuitability on the inside.

As far as the structural features of the house are concerned, leave these to the builder. He knows materials—that's his business.

He knows construction and he knows the requirements of Edmonton's building regulations.

SHOULD CHECK

The easiest way, of course, to check on the builder, is to ask people for whom he has previously built houses—and it's always wise to check.

Your architect will look after the design and aid you with the planning. Always choose an architect who has demonstrated his familiarity with modern design and modern materials as these are constantly being changed and improved.

But to get back to the type of house yours is to be.

Apart from the interior of the house, the layout of the rooms—the locality of your lot should have a great deal to do with deciding what type of house you are going to build. We have stressed this point in previous columns—it's a point that just can't be over-emphasized!

The ranch type of house mentioned before, with its long, low rambling lines, stretching out for 75 or 100 feet, simply won't fit a lot with a 50-foot frontage.

At the same time, the strict lines and severe formality of a Regency house would look very much out of place in a country or suburban section that is heavily wooded.

CONSTANT APPEAL

If your house has good lines and balance, it will appeal year in and year out and should you ever need to re-sell it, you will not take an unnecessary loss.

It might be a good idea to add here a word or two about re-sale. It's an important factor to consider in building a home, particularly in the case of a young couple.

Very few jobs these days are static and a move to another city will make it necessary to sell your home. You will be very glad then that you stayed away from extremes, for you will be able to sell your house easily and at a fair price.

This is one of the reasons the Cape Cods and Colonials continue year after year to retain their popularity. They still have good re-sale values and are still in style.

As mentioned before, don't make the mistake of going too modern.

Stay away from the bizarre or imitation type houses, such as the Spanish or Mexican. Such houses are perfectly correct in their proper native environment: in ours they are false and in bad taste. They may be "cute" now but in 20 years they will sicken you and any prospective buyer.

The true modern (not modernistic) home with its simple lines, its large window areas, well-balanced design and low pitched roof will always be in style.

The same applied to the Colonial house which, even though it may be 300 years old, is still in perfect taste and fits in with its surroundings.

Remember, it's the interior, the room arrangement, the equipment, all the living features and a hundred and one other things that make a home modern—not a flat roof or glass bricks around the door!

Defence Pool

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—Legislation to put 284 United States war plants into a reserve defence pool was signed into law yesterday by President Truman. The plants, which cost $3,000,000,000, produced aircraft, explosives, non-ferrous metals, machine tools, iron, magnesium, and other war products.

BETS ARE BETS IN MANTARIO

MANTARIO, Sask., July 3—(CP)—Bets are bets in this Saskatchewan town 120 miles northwest of Swift Current—but when it comes to chivalry the western male can go as far as the next fellow.

A man and a woman made a wager on the provincial election last week. The lady lost. She appeared—as the bet required her to do—on her hands and knees, prepared to push a peanut for 160 yards with her nose.

The winner took pity on her. He cut the distance to 80 yards.

Canadian Sets New Glider Mark

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Soaring in a German-made craft, Oliva (Shorty) Boudreault, 30-year-old National Research Council aero-engine mechanic, yesterday established a new long-distance record for gliders in Canada. Boudreault remained airborne two hours and 21 minutes, covering a distance of 46 miles.

RN Jet-Propelled Gunboat Is Given Successful Tests

LONDON, July 3.—(Reuters)—Successful full-speed trials Thursday of the jet-propelled motor gunboat 2009, the Royal Navy's latest "brain-child", may open a new era for world shipping.

The admiralty announced that the gunboat, powered by a gas turbine unit and two conventional engines, had covered a measured mile at a speed "exceeding 34 knots."

John Dugdale, financial secretary to the admiralty, said in parliament tonight that further experiments will be made in a much larger escort-type ship of about 1,400 tons, when the jet unit will be run for more than 1,000 hours.

In town next Tuesday . . . the Meteor! Beautiful to look at with its long, low-to-the-ground lines and its solid, substantial look. Meteor is only 63 inches from road to roof line. You're going to feel mighty proud the day you drive a Meteor down your street.

Tuesday! . . . a New Car hits the LOW PRICE FIELD

SENSATIONAL IN DESIGN AND PERFORMANCE

Settle down in that great wide Meteor seat . . . next Tuesday. In its deep-down comfort you really relax. Beautiful, rich upholstery and fittings. And when you look around, it seems as though there's just one big safety glass window from front to rear and back to front.

You'll love all the roominess in a Meteor. Rear seat is a full 5 feet wide. 19 cu. ft. of usable space in the spacious trunk.

Ladies are specially invited to see the Meteor. Smart new styling, beautiful interior trim. Easy to handle and to steer. Touch-toe braking.

You'll be thrilled the way Meteor streaks away from a dead start—how it swoops up hills. And over streets, highways or dirt roads you'll thrill to Meteor's "glide-ride" with advanced type springs and shock absorbers.

Be miles ahead with Meteor.

Guide to Home Builders

N.H.A. DESIGN-OF-THE-MONTH — Here is a six-roomed brick veneer house only 28 feet by 22 feet that has been planned to avoid the box-like appearance of many small house designs. The wide Dutch dormer across the front provides a pleasant break to the roof and, with hall space kept to a minimum, rooms are more spacious than is usually the case in houses of similar size.

The kitchen features an efficient U-type arrangement of fixtures at one end and dining space at the opposite end, a boon to the busy housewife. The two front windows allow a plentiful supply of natural light and fresh air in the living room. For estimating purposes, the floor area of the house is approximately 1,069 square feet.

Complete construction drawings for this plan, known as Design No. 196, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Oven Method Causes 80% Home Canning Mishaps, Poll Shows

More than 80 per cent of home canning accidents studied in a survey by the National Safety Council occurred while the oven canning method was being used.

Now that more and more housewives are thinking of home canning to beat the rising cost of food, here are some suggestions from the Council based on analysis of actual accidents:

Keep the directions for all canning equipment and follow them to the letter.

Inspect jars carefully for flaws and chips, especially around the rim.

Allow enough head room for the expansion of solids and liquids.

Use tongs to remove jars from canner. Hold jar with towel to complete seal.

Jars should not be subjected to shock or set on cold surface. Use newspapers or cloth for insulation.

Watch out when school's out. The National Safety Council reports that among school-age children killed or hurt by automobiles, one out of six was coming from behind a parked car.

Vern Callihan, Ed Belter Hand Oilers 2-way Pasting

Rampaging Esks Crowding Purity for League Lead

By Stan Moher
Bulletin Sports Editor

It took Eddie Morris and his Eskimos just 48 hours to declare themselves solidly back in the hunt for the top rung of the Big Four Baseball loop.

Friday night at Renfrew Park the Esks twice whacked Calgary Purity 10 to draw within two and one-half games of the pacemaking Oilers. The two-time pasting of Purity followed closely upon a similar dose dished out to Cubs on Dominion Day. All in all the Morrismen are currently nursing a five-game winning streak.

Rookie Vern Callihan, who copped his first Big Four mound triumph by stopping Purity 3-2 in a seven-inning lid-lifter, Ed (Lefty) Belter and Catcher Ken Samis were Esk standouts Friday on night.

Hard-Lines Debut

However, it remained for newcomer Jerry Prouty, out of Salines, California, to provide the hard luck note while at the same time making one of the weirdest debuts in the history of Renfrew.

The young Californian watched the opener from the bench and then was Manager Morris' selection to throttle Purity in the second clash. Prouty was willing enough but the fates promptly dealt him off the bottom and he was back in the dressing room after two pitches to 'Bing' Weaver, Calgary leadoff hitter in the first inning.

On the second pitch Weaver hit a slow roller along the first base line and in charging over to field the ball Prouty pulled a muscle in his right leg and had to chuck it all. It's not expected that he will be out long.

With Prouty unexpectedly sidelined Belter vacated the bull-pen and promptly set the Oilers down with six hits and a 3-2 victory, his second in as many days.

In the early stages Jack (Lefty) Mills, Belter's mound opponent, made quite a dog fight of it. Jack McGill's double and a single by Minnis produced a run in the sixth inning that broke a 1-1 tie and Esks added three more in the succeeding frame on hits by Ralph Morgan, Morris and the irrepressible Samis with the Purity inner cordon, particularly Erskine Decker Tony Mace, going sky high to add fuel to the rally.

Jim Lowe, the little package of dynamite who plays 'central field' for Purity, got to Belter for a double in the sixth and a cheap single in the eighth and each time made it around the runways to account for both visitors' runs.

Rookie Bests Rookie

In the seventh inning opener Vern Callihan bested Ernie Choukalos in another pitching duel. The Esks staked their promising young righthander to a three run edge in the second inning and he proved equal to the occasion. Safe blows by Samis and Clarence Mellbye did more to upset Choukalos in his one bad frame than anything else.

Generally cast in the role of catcher or outfielder the hefty Choukalos unveiled a nifty fastball but marred his effectiveness by being wild as a hatter.

BULL-PEN MUSINGS: Ken Samis makes Ole' Man River look like a piker when it comes to rolling along . . . In Friday's double thump-ng of Lefty (The Towel) Wilson's Oilmen the veteran catcher went three-for-three in the first game, came right back with a four for two effort in the bargain offering.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

Fielding highlights were provided by Ralph Morgan, Walt Gully, Gene Perani and the rival centre fielders, Lowe and Dave Brockie . . . Morgan picked a blooper right out of the box seats on a great one-handed stab to retire Weaver in the third inning of the second game while Gully's one-handed grab of Frank Gonzales' liner later in the game also was headline stuff . . . Lowe, Brockie and Perani all contributed fine catches.

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

The crowd was off somewhat for Friday night, due possibly to the holiday bill, July 1 . . . Not even Cheesecake Row in the third base bleachers was as well populated as usual . . . The teams go right back Saturday night at 8:00 o'clock, finish off the series Sunday afternoon . . . Purityn, a team that won 15 of its first 20 games, copped but nine of the next 30 . . . About one Oilers can't afford to come a north minus such sockers as Ernie Beland, Archie Wilder and Dick Noon.

SPORTS BULLETIN

Singer's Up Octave After 22-8 Victory

Some of that vaunted power which Manager Sammy Sheckter said Henry Singers fastballers were going to show at Kingsway this summer turned up Friday night.

It came in the form of a 22-8 trampling of Norwood Legion, a club which is finding it difficult to shake loose in Kingsway after playing intermediate ball in other years.

Anavets kept cracking along with a 7-3 verdict over Legionnaires in the nightcap Friday. Pete Tymchuk lent particular emphasis to the Anavet victory with a three-run four-bagger to left in the first.

But back to Sheckter, Singers, and the Norwood fiasco. The clothiers didn't get a loud foul in three innings, and then fell on Joe Balla, himself an ex-Singer, for five runs on three hits and four errors in the fourth frame.

THE WAY TO GO HOME

Balla kept on during a three-run whirlwind in the fifth, but nine runs in the succeeding canto more or less showed him the way to go home.

Reliefer Bill Yurko was somewhat better than Balla in the one inning in which he faced Singers. He allowed only five runs.

Sheckter led the way, powdering three-for-five, including a double. Don Harkness stacked three-in-six and Steve Mendryk collected two doubles and a triple in four trips.

Six runs in the first inning, including the sock by the aforementioned Tymchuk, was sufficient working margin for Anavets to coast home in the second fixture. Frankie Pizzuto, the league's leading hitter, stayed way up there with a three-for-five evening.

Canepa's Three-Run Homer Shades Buffs

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Ray Canepa, Edmonton outfielder, smashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning to pace Cubs to a 10-9 victory over Calgary Buffaloes in a Big Four League battle here Friday night.

The big blow, capping a four-run Cub uprising in the final inning, smashed Calgary hopes of a victory. Cub relief hurler, Jim Kelly, also did some potent stick work, batting in a trio or runs.

Victory for the cellar-dwelling Cubs dropped Buffs out of second place, half a game behind Edmonton Eskimos. The game lasted two hours and 35 minutes—the longest played in Calgary this season.

Dodgers Rally To Best Braves

A five-run blast when the chips were down in the last inning provided the Dodgers with an 8-4 triumph over the Braves in the first game of the Maple Leaf Midget baseball finals Friday.

Going into the top of the fourth frame Dodgers trailed 3-0. Then 'dem Bums' scored twice, and deadlocked the contest with one run in the fifth, only to have Braves move ahead 4-3 with a singleton in the last of the same inning.

But the Redskins collapsed in the stretch, allowing the Dodgers to win the first game in three. The second of a best of three series goes at Maple Leaf Stadium Monday, 6:30 p.m.

Tractors Squeeze Fastball Victory

Union Tractor scored twice in the ninth inning to edge Bonnie Brae Friday to win an intermediate fastball game from Haywards by a slim 3-0 margin.

Previously Tractors had spurted back into the game with a four-run rally in the seventh. Art Olson kindled the flame for this surge with a two-run homer to centre.

Cotton Cops British Open

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, July 3.— Henry Cotton, internationally recognized as Britain's finest professional golfer, Friday won the British open championship for the third time in his long career.

As a small but apparently powerful American squad collapsed on Muirfield's 6,806-yard, par 73, course near Edinburgh, Cotton won by a clear five strokes in 284, one stroke above the tournament record which he holds with Alf Perry of England and Gene Sarazen of the United States.

SPECTACULAR 66

Key round in Cotton's success was the spectacular 66 he fired in the second lap Thursday to break the course record for a single round by one stroke. Friday in the third round he slipped off to a 73, but none of his competitors got a star-studded international field could equal the opportunity and a steady 72 in the afternoon clinched the title which carries with it prestige, a gold medal, a silver cup and £250 ($600).

Second place, uncertain until the final putts dropped, went to Fred Daly, the defending champion from Ireland, with 289. Then came the first of the invaders—but not the Americans. Roberto De Vincenzo of the Argentine and Norman Von Nida of Australia were in a four-way tie with Charlie Ward and K. Hargreaves of Britain, with 290.

Not until 291—a full seven strokes back—did an American show up. It was Johnny Bulla, a frequent visitor to Britain.

Sirsanahan, the American youth who holds the British amateur championship, finished in a three-way tie for 23rd place with a score of 297—the poorest of the three amateurs who qualified for the finals.

Cotton credited his victory largely to the influence of American golf on his game.

FOOD BUILT HIM UP

The new champion, who also won in 1934 at Sandwich, England, and in 1937 at Carnoustie, Scotland, said he ate well in the United States where the food "built me up."

"Over in America," he said, "they're putting more emphasis on really hitting the ball instead of just on the swing. I tried it and I'm hitting the ball harder than I ever did."

CUBS, ESKIMOS IN BENEFIT GAME

Cubs and Esks of the Big Four loops will do their stuff at Renfrew Park Tuesday, July 6, on behalf of the Knights of Columbus.

Starting time of the regular week-day encounter by the city baseball rivals is 8:00 p.m. under the lights. All proceeds from the contest will go to the boy's work carried out by the KC's.

Tennis Queens Retain Laurels

Irma McManus and Isobel McConnell, ace ladies doubles team from Garneau, defended the Northern Hardware challenge Trophy against Cal Holmgren and Grace Wilson of Civil Service Friday evening.

The triumph marked the third time this season that the Garneau tennis queens had prevailed against all comers for the mug. They trimmed the Holmgren-Wilson duo 8-6, 6-4, 6-3 before a slim gallery at Garneau which shivered in the cold of a July evening.

The first set produced the best tennis. After thrilling 5-1 in games McManus and McConnell rallied to deadlock the score at 5-5, only to drop the deciding game in 11.

LONG SHOT RETURNS $137.25 AT COAST

VANCOUVER, July 3.—(CP)—Mister Amster, a 67 to 1 long shot, Friday scored a smashing victory in the second race at Lansdowne Park to return $137.25 for $2 straight bettors.

With Ray Stoddard aboard, the Vancouver-owned brown mare broke fast and stood off a stretch drive to win by a neck from Maid of Broxa, the favorite.

In the feature race, Infallible, a 14 to 1 shot, edged the favored Oheadry by a nose to return $31.50, $6.05 and $4.30.

NS Legion Confident Of Beating Calgary

Five of Edmonton's six soccer clubs will be in action over the week-end, with the North Side Legion-Calgary Astras clash in the Foothills City Saturday copping most of the interest.

A party of 27, including the players, will make the trip southward, and the concensus is that the Edmonton color-bearers will head homeward with a substantial lead to carry into the second game here in the two-game, total-goal series. Clake Stadium will be the scene of the second match a week from Saturday.

Manager Martin Collingwood has a formidable array of soccer talent and also is confident his experienced crew will emerge as the team to play B.C.'s representatives in the Dominion Football Association playdowns. Last year the North Side went to the Canadian semi-finals.

RAF and the junior Maple Leafs will provide Saturday's entertainment in the city and Sunday the second-place Anavets will tangle with Bert Starling's third-place Cloverdale eleven. The latter game will start at 4 p.m. instead of 3 p.m., as is customary.

Oliver, the sixth team in the local league, will see action Monday at the Stadium against North Side Legion.

Anavets will pick their team for the Cloverdale match from the following: Anderson, Dalziel, Olander, McGee, Fielden, J. Birmingham, Peters, D. Birmingham, Nimmo, Chrapko, Lewis, Mitchell, Richardson, Mayson, Morrison.

Moher ON SPORT

By STAN MOHER, Editor

Whose Side Are They On?

Week-ends pitch outs, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Phan, and you tell us why Renfrew Park gatherings insist on taking the seventh inning stretch in the top half of the frame instead of the bottom, as dictated by custom elsewhere . . . One of the finest springboard operators in the land before the war and good enough last year to finish in the No. 2 slot in the Canadian championships at Victoria, Don Thom heads east in the next day or two for the Olympic trials to be staged at Verdun, Que., July 9-10 . . . Somewhat in the veteran class as he makes his belated bid to wear the Maple Leaf against the world, Thom will have a host of well wishers in his corner for the Verdun doings . . . It shouldn't be forgotten that the one-time West End Swim Club star spent a number of harrowing years as a prisoner-of-war and had to do quite a come-back in springboard circles . . . He has been prepping for the trials at Jasper where he is employed . . . Note to J.S.: the member of the New York Giants who survived the terrible disaster which struck the Spokane club of the Western International League two years ago is Jack (Lucky) Lohrke . . . He's a 21-year-old infielder.

Harvey M, hitherto sensational Edmonton-bred three-year-old, was beaten for the first time this season at Vancouver Friday . . . His setback came after four straight visits to the winner's circle.

Bill Lewis to Altar

Bill Lewis, who was sports editor on this sheet for a good many years in the 1930's will be married Saturday night . . . The best man as the popular Lewis makes with his 'I do's' will be none other than Dan Carrigan . . . During the bridegroom-to-be's days as a chronicler of the sporting scene one of the highlights was the 1933-34 puck season when Carrigan coached EAC to the Memorial Cup finals and a sports-editor Lewis tagged along to record the doings for Bulletin readers . . . The word is that from now on it will be nigh onto impossible to get the green light to stage model-T and motorcycle races on the track at the Exhibition grounds . . . More and more the horsemen are complaining of the deterioration being wrought in what is generally recognized as one of the three best bull-rings (half-milers) on the continent . . . Apparently the Exhibition Association also has come around to this way of thinking, with threats by owners to ship elsewhere than Edmonton, helping to steel their resolution to clamp down, regardless of how worthy the cause being furthered may be . . . Executive ranks of the Alberta Golf Association are due to be thinned further within a month as a result of Herb Bliss, 2nd vice-president of the provincial body, handing in his 'I quit' notice . . . Bliss, who was on his way to the presidency as sure as today is Saturday, is shortly removing self and family to the coast where a hike up the more vital business ladder already awaits his coming

LeRoy Goldsworthy, Jasper Park golf professional, made a hurried trip to the city earlier in the week.

Not Wanted: Poison-Pen 'Pals'

Persons we can do without: Those brave souls who write caustic letters to sportswriters but neglect to sign their names . . . Unlike Calgary's stampeder friends, who took a long time to see light re the minimum purse requirements of the horsemen, officials of the Edmonton Exhibition "never hesitated a moment," according to Alex Bonneau . . . In that the various associations will now take a nine instead of seven per cent rakeoff the real issue in this decision of the pot for race horse owners is the gent who lays it in at the mutuel window . . . A friend owns what he calls his 'Johnny Longden table' . . . Seems he was at the races in California not long ago and bet Rider Longden throughout the afternoon, finishing up with a tidy profit . . . The take promptly was invested in the aforementioned piece of furniture, now brightening up the living room of his west end home . . . The hat is doffed to Henry White for his fine efforts on behalf of the Maple Leaf Midget Baseball league.

Prediction: Amsterson will take it all in the $3,000 Polo Park 'Cap at Winnipeg today.

Canadian Amateur May Attract 110

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—Prospects are that some 110 golfers will tackle the long fairways of Hamilton's Ancaster course in the Canadian amateur championship July 13-17.

The Royal Canadian Golf Association said Friday that so far it has received about 60 entries and another 50 are expected by Monday, July 5, the closing date.

Included are four members of Alberta's Willingdon Cup team — Duane Barr, Calgary; Bud Loffus, Burns Martell and Johnny Aitken, all of Edmonton and Jim Harper, Alberta junior champ, also of Edmonton.

STRANGLER TOPS LIST

Frank Stranahan heads the list of entries for the five gruelling days of match play. The Toledo, O., amateur is expected from Britain, where he is competing in the British open this week, to defend the title he won last year.

Skee Riegel, from Upper Darby, Pa., United States amateur champion has also filled his entry.

Two of Canada's most prominent contenders in recent years will be missing from the list. Henry Martell from Edmonton, a former champion and Bill Ezinicki of Winnipeg, last year's runner-up, have turned professional.

Top Canadians include Allan Boes of Winnipeg, Guy Holland of Montreal, Percy Clegg of Vancouver and Rudy Horvath of Windsor. Veteran Phil Farley of Toronto, Ontario amateur champion, looms as a possible dark horse.

Many golf followers look for a good showing from two youngsters, Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver and Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener. Mawhinney defeated Stan Leonard of Vancouver, one of Canada's best professionals, in a recent tournament and Kesselring is a former Canadian junior champion.

Now It's Official

President Emery Callihan of the Junior Baseball League made it official Friday night that Jim Simoh and Jeff Barnes of CNR have been suspended for three games because of their "unwarranted action against league officials" in the CNR-South Side game of June 28. The junior advisory committee of Bill Bull, Phil Horn, and Bob Coxford were called in to decide on the punishment.

Elliott Posts Perfect Score at Traps, Skeets

Lindsay Elliot had his professional eye peering through a steel gunsight at West Jasper Place Friday night. And the final tabulations on the greyheaded ace of trap and skeet shooting totalled a perfect night at the Edmonton Gun Club's weekly clay-pigeon hunt.

He tallied 25's at both traps and skeet. Hal Kestner, W. C. James, Bill Davis and Babe Gaucher finished with scores of 24 in the trap division. Gaucher and Wes Hicks blazed 23's for runner-up slot at skeet.

TRAPS

Gasco Fastballers Drop Saints 10-5

Gasco doubled the score on Latter Day Saints in fastball action at the South Side Athletic Grounds Friday. The gasmen finished on the long end of a 10-5 verdict after the Saints had made a determined five-run bid in the ninth.

Bowler, Wolsey and Duncan paced Gasco's 15-hit attack on pitchers Orr and Anderson of LDS. Steve Irwin hurled a commendable game for the winners, allowing nine safeties.

CARDINAL MIDGETS WING TO VICTORY

North Edmonton Cardinals came winging home to roost Friday night with a 10-8 midget fastball decision in their grasp. They hung on in the late innings at Clarke Stadium when McAuley Dodgers began to hit the scoreboard.

The Cards confined their scoring to a half dozen runs in the sixth and four more in the eighth. McAuley settled for two in their half of the sixth, and then came like a summer breeze with six in the last two stanzas.

Anthony Podvien, a capable second-baseman, capped North Edmonton's sixth-inning spree with a grand-slam homer run. It was his second four-master of the current midget season.

EAC's Floored 11-1 By a 'Heavy' Ball

South Side's Don Crough Pours It In

You can take it from Marvin Miller that thick-shouldered Don Crough throws a "heavy" ball. And the South Side manager says it in a firm, crisp voice which suggests that if you care to argue the point you will do him a favor by arguing it with someone else.

EAC's of the junior baseball wheel would have preferred to argue with someone else at Clarke Stadium Friday evening so far as getting baseknocks was concerned. They solved Crough for but two hits in 6 2/3 innings as the young husky from the south came on in relief for Al Forss to win 11-1.

It was his fourth triumph of the campaign and spotlights him at the current ace of Miller's mound corps. And Crough, who has developed control and a fair curve, will be flinging that "heavy" ball considerable as the season passes the halfway mark with South Side a half-game back of the front-running Canadians.

IT FLOATS

No one has ever projected the science of the "heavy ball" as that the layman can work out it by square root or the Theorem of Pythagoras in his spare time. According to Miller, (and he calls upon several seasons of pitching fore to discuss curve balls and such) it floats in there easy but but feels like a 10-pound weight when you aim at driving it to the outer viaja.

Consequently nobody hits it far —or hard.

Al Forss got into trouble in the third after South Side had staked him to a 1-0 lead. Don Haley singled and pilfered second. Eric Wigeland drew a free pass on Ball, and both runners advanced a peg on Bob Hoskin's sacrifice. Orest Stogryn walked to load the sack that long ride to the showers in favor of Crough.

The sturdy righthander got Norm Kimball to ground second out, but walked Ed Barkewietz with the bases full, scoring Haley. Thereafter Crough was pretty much of a conundrum, allowing only Barkewietz and Eddie May to hit in the later stages and whiffing seven.

Bob Hoskin got another for the Clubmen. It was hard lines for the 17-year old youngster, too, his six-hit, 10-strikeout, performance going for naught. But he walked nine and hit a couple more to help grease the skids for EAC's ninth loss in 14 tilts.

One in the first and third were all Scona needed. They sifted along with two in the fourth, four in the fifth, and three in each of the sixth and seventh innings. Don Wingfield was the biggest South Side gun, collecting a pair of singles which sent three teammates scampering home.

A's Finding Indians Tough to Catch

NEW YORK, July 3.—(CP)—Philadelphia Athletics, winners of nine of their last 10 starts, are finding the going tough as 8-6 land Indians an elusive American League target. The Tribe simply won't fold under pressure.

STRATEGIC HOMERS

The Indians have the pitching and the hitting needed to win ball games. Even better—they usually have them on alternate nights. If Bob Feller or Bob Lemon can't make the opposition hit pop flies to the infielders, one of their mates is sure to come through with the odd strategic homer.

Joe Gordon was the golden boy Friday night, twice hitting for the circuit with Manager Lou Boudreau on the base paths to give Cleveland an 8-6 win over St. Louis Browns and protecting the Tribe's half-game lead over the patient Athletics.

Connie Mack's club got a six-hitter from young Lou Brissie as the rookie southpaw turned back Boston Red Sox 4-2.

Carden Gillenwater, second-string outfielder for the Washington Senators, hit his first home run of the year in the 12th inning to give Washington a 2-1 edge over the third-place New York Yankees. Walt Masterson held the losers to three safeties to get the nod over Tommy Byrne, who gave up five.

Chicago White Sox dropped Detroit Tigers into sixth place when they scored three runs off Dizzy Trout in the fifth inning to beat the Bengals 5-2.

Boston Braves were booted farther ahead in the National League as Philadelphia Phillies contributed four errors to their 7-3 win.

CARDS LOOK BAD

The Cards looked even worse than the Phils, committing no less than six miscues as they blew a 7-3 decision to Cincinnati Reds for their fourth straight loss.

Homers by Danny Litwhiler, Johnny Wyrostek and Grady Hatton added to their troubles.

But the prize goat of the night was Frank Gustine, who usually plays a fair game of third base for Pittsburgh Pirates. Frankie bobbled three times as Chicago Cubs emerged from their benefit night with a 5-1 victory, fathioned on only four base hits.

Getting back to baseball, a three-run rally in the ninth, featured by Willard Marshall's homer, gave New York Giants a 6-4 win over Brooklyn Dodgers. The loss, Brooklyn's sixth straight ...dropped them into the league cellar.

HARRISON STROKE UP IN MOTOR CITY OPEN

DETROIT, July 3.—(AP)—Age gave way to stamina Friday in the $15,000 Motor City open golf championship as tall E. J. (Dutch) Harrison charged in with a four-under-par 33-34—67 for sole possession of the half-way lead with 137 for 36 holes.

Rain squalls that slowed up the course didn't have that effect on the golf. Jim Turnesa who matched Dutch's 67 for one of the tournament's two finest rounds thus far, South Africa's Bobby Locke who added a 68 to his first round 70, home pro Melvin (Chick) Harbert with two 69's and Johnny Palmer with 68-70, were one stroke off the pace.

Youthful Californian Ousts Aussie Net Ace

LONDON, July 3.—(AP)—Bob Falkenburg, as game a young tennis battler as ever came out of California, got off the floor Friday to outsiug Jack Bromwich of Australia in a stirring five-set final of the Wimbledon men's singles championship.

Trailing at 5-6 in the deciding set, the 22-year-old American was three times within a point of defeat before he won out over the veteran Aussie by scores of 7-5, 0-6, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5, before a packed crowd of 15,000.

The audience, partial to Bromwich, sat in almost stunned amazement as the tall American from Hollywood, Calif., suddenly bringing his game to its peak, reeled off the last two games without a loss of a point. He wound it up with two blazing service aces which Bromwich didnt even try to reach.

WILFUL YOUNGSTER

The new champion, a wilful youngster, turned the crowd against him by tossing away the second set in too obvious a manner. He didn't even make the motions of trying and it looked pretty silly.

He explained later that he felt he needed the rest after having put a great deal into winning the opening set, but that didn't please the crowd like it any better. He was hooted occasionally toward the last when he moved too slowly back to the baseline between points. Yet, when he won the final point, the stands rose and gave him the ovation he deserved.

Except for the second set, it was a great match, filled with spectacular rallies and dramatic moments. Falkenburg had to stave off set points before winning the opener, and it didn't seem possible he could pull the same miracle in the last set after Bromwich had him on the run for a stretch of 17 games.

It looked like it was all over when the Aussie took the club's serve for the third straight time at the outset of the fifth and took a 4-1 lead within six minutes. Signs of victory when he led 30-love in the sixth game. But there Falkenburg braced to hold his serve.

CNR At St. Paul

Lou Hiatt took his CNR ballhawks of the junior baseball league on a tour of the St. Paul hinterlands July 1. And it wasn't half bad either, considering that the freight gang split a $600 melon with Elk Point and Willingdon for top money.

The St. Paul tournament drew 11 teams. CNR would have played either Willingdon or Elk Point in the finals if rain hadn't cancelled the semi-final and final games.

As it was Don Simon buried the Greenshirts to a 4-2 triumph over Vegreville and Elwood Shell trimmed Brousseau 4-4.

The tense ninth game proved the turning point. There, with defeat looking him in the eye, Bob grimly whaled into Bromwich's service Calgary meet developed during and, after beating off three match- the week-end, when Stampede offipoints, finally broke through the cials rejected the claim of the Aussie's delivery for the first time horsemen for the $100-a-purse in two sets. crease.

Purses Boosted $100 at Calgary Race Meeting

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Western Canada horsemen scored a decisive victory Friday in their bid to have purses increased at the Calgary exhibition and Stampede race meet opening July 5.

Directors of the colorful western Stampede announced late Friday that all purses at the six-day meeting would be increased by $100 to a minimum of $700.

The announcement ended a threatened boycott of the race meeting by the powerful prairie division of the Horsemen's Benevolent protective association.

Directors made the announcement following an emergency Stampede executive meeting Friday to discuss the problem. They said the purses would be increased provided they were allowed to take an additional two per cent of the pari-mutuel play. The Dominion government recently passed a bill authorizing the taking of the two per cent.

All purses at Winnipeg's Polo Park were increased by $100 Thursday, and officials of the Edmonton summer fair meeting announced a similar move Friday.

Lacombe Division Has Building Fund

Extra Mill Levy Produces $20,000 in Last Two Years

LACOMBE, July 3. — A building fund of close to $20,000 is being held in trust by the Lacombe school division, school district trustees were informed at the annual trustees' convention of the school division held recently.

This sum had been reached by adding one mill to the requisition in 1947, and another mill to the 1948 requisition, chairman P. C. Cull told the trustees present. About 100 attended the annual meeting.

Mr. Cull also pointed out that at a recent inspection of every school in the division, five had been classified by the board as "bad"; eight as poor, seven fair, seven fairly good, 13 good and 10 excellent.

Requests for more buses were being constantly received by the board, Mr. Cull declared. Five buses are presently operating in the division, and next year it is hoped to initiate two more bus schedules in the Bentley area.

Representing the department of education in the absence of Hon Ivan Casey, minister of education, was W. E. Frame, chief supervisor of schools for the province. Mr. Frame covered the field of authority in education in the province, pointing out the powers delegated to each authority from the minister down to the divisional board members elected by the people.

Following the addresses, an open forum and discussion period was held.

BOOK MATERIAL OBJECT OF TRIP

ATHABASCA, July 3.—Forrest Day of Colinton and a party of six composed of Mr. and Mrs. R. Grant, their three children and Gus Ward, pilot, left Athabasca on a snow June 24 for Fort McMurray.

The purpose of the expedition is to gather further material for Mr. Day's forthcoming book, "From Athabasca to Aklavik." The trip is expected to take two weeks.

Electors Approve Sale Of Materials

LACOMBE, July 3.—Electors of the town gave their consent to the council to sell the salvageable material in the collapsed skating rink to the memorial recreation centre committee.

The ballot read: "Are you in favor of the sale of the Lacombe skating rink property to the Lacombe memorial recreation society?" Forty voted in favor of the sale, four against.

Turn-out was exceedingly small, only about 8 per cent of the approximately 500 voters turning out to cast their ballots.

Music Pupils Give Annual Recital

LLOYDMINSTER, July 3. — Lloydminster pupils of William Elford of Vermilion were heard in their annual recital at Grace United Church here recently. They all gave a creditable performance, showing marked progress since they were heard one year ago. There was a large number of parents and friends of the students present for the varied program.

Mr. Elford added to the interest in the program by giving a short sketch of the lives of the various composers whose works the students were interpreting. At the close of the program Mr. Elford delighted all with a selection on the church organ, following which Stephen Hall, on behalf of the pupils, made a presentation to the teacher.

Pupils heard on the program were Stephen Hall, Winnie Wright, Delilah Brase, Michael Hall, Charles Hunt, George Mordidge, Kay Dwyer, Janis Omness, Maxine Mordidge, Dorothy Mordidge, Sylvia Wright, Adele Woroniuk, Margaret Hunt, Bernice Leach, Mrs. Audrey MacDonald, Joyce Curtis, Shirley Milligan and Shirley Duffield.

Cold Lake Ready For Annual Event

COLD LAKE, July 3.—July 8 is the date of the big doings for Cold Lake this year and the various committees of the Board of Trade are busy in preparation. The new sports grounds have been readied and added boating, fishing and cabin facilities organized.

Decoration of the modern new Lakeview hotel and cafe is nearing completion.

The Capital City Shows, featuring a vaudeville act under the big top, will be in attendance and continue with other amusements through July 9. A five-team baseball tournament is planned.

Cold Lake annual sports, sponsored by the Board of Trade, attract many holidayers each year to the shores of Alberta's inland sea.

Liberals Organize In Vermilion Riding

MANNVILLE, July 3. — William Chorney, of Myrnam was named to represent the Liberals in the next provincial election at the nominating convention held here Tuesday. One hundred and nine accredited delegates attended.

H. Whitson of Mannville also was nominated but withdrew his name, making the choice of Mr. Chorney unanimous.

Mr. Chorney addressed the meeting after his nomination, thanking the delegates for their support.

A new executive of the Liberal Association of the constituency was named as follows: Honorary president, C. W. Robinson; president, R. Whitson; vice-president, M. Kully; secretary-treasurer, M. Youwashyn.

The executive officers elected from various districts were: Derwent East, Stanley Bedruko; Myrnam, George Hunka; Beauvallon, Metro Sopit; Minburn, Axel Anderson; Mannville, R. Whitson.

The following women were elected to the committee and two more are to be named later: Vermilion, Mrs. W. E. Cross; Derwent, Mrs. M. Charchun; Myrnam, Mrs. Wyanetski; Beauvallon, Mrs. J. Chapelski.

The convention was concluded with an address by Harper Prowse, provincial leader, who outlined the Liberal party's policies.

Funeral Service At New Norway

NEW NORWAY, July 3. — Funeral services for the late Mrs. Edith (Belle) Johanson of Edmonton, who passed away June 21 at the age of 52 years were held in the New Norway Lutheran Church. Rev. Gray Rivers of Camrose officiated and interment took place in the New Norway cemetery.

Pallbearers were Harold Russwer, Clarence Butler, Norman Butler, Victor Butler, Dewie Williamson and Roy Williamson.

Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. J. H. Gendron and Lois of Edmonton, and a son, George, also of Edmonton.

Murphy Reports
On City Hall

By Wm. "Spud" Murphy

Now that down-town streets are achieving a semblance of neatness it is about time something was done to clean up the lanes in this area and throughout the city.

The majority of the lanes can best be described as reasonable facsimilies of a paper manufacturing plant after a cyclone, and not nearly so healthy.

There is scarcely a lane in the downtown area that is not strewn with soiled papers, assorted and most laden garbage.

The paper seems to come from the city's garbage trucks. The garbage results from careless handling. Both in depositing and removal. The dust is the accumulation of the ages.

The conditions of the lanes pose two questions:

NETTING NECESSARY

Are garbage collectors observing the regulation requiring them to use netting over their trucks?

And is it the practice of street cleaners to leave a little dust in the gutters for the next day's collection?

It may be that the present shovel-removal will not permit the thorough cleaning of the gutters.

This can be remedied by Mayor Harry Ainlay's proposal to flush the streets nightly with fire hose.

What action has been taken on this proposal?

LANDSCAPING

Experiments are being carried out by the parks department, in a plantation below the Macdonald hotel, to determine the type of shrubs that will thrive on the slopes of McDougall hill. Planting of the slopes of the hill was first advocated in 1947.

Landscaping of the hairpin bend on the hill will be undertaken this year by the department. Work on this project is expected to start immediately.

BUSY, BUSY

City billing section delivers 37,000 light and water accounts monthly. Three men, blanked the city making deliveries and handle approximately 448,000 bills in the year. About 96 per cent of the bills are delivered by these men.

You can judge the efficiency of their work by trying to remember, when you failed to get your light and water bill. Telephone bills are handled by the postal authorities.

Cost of the bill section is approximately $10,000 annually, of which $20,000 goes in staff salaries.

AT LAST

Tenders for two underground comfort stations in the downtown area will be called in the near future. Cost of these much needed conveniences is set at $20,000. Locations are not finally decided but one is likely to be placed on Jasper avenue at 100A street. The other on Jasper avenue about 102 street.

WANT A HOUSE?

Twenty street cars will go on the auction block immediately following summer fair week. Demand for these at previous sales was extremely brisk. The cars will see service during exhibition week and then will go to the scrap heap for dismantling.

PHONEY

City telephone directory brings in the neat sum of $50,000 annually. Printing and other expenses eat up $25,000 of this amount, but a $15,000 profit is not to be sneezed at.

Telephone pay stations throughout the city net a total of $10,000 annually to the telephone department.

BIG BUSINESS

The mere trickle of 3,470 million gallons of water is pumped into city watermains every year. Wholesale price, from the pumping plant to the waterworks department, for distribution is $89 a million gallons.

Before the water is pumped into the mains it is treated with alum to take the murky river color from it. It is treated with natural gas to condition it, with chlorine to kill bacteria, and soda to soften it.

Cost of this treatment is $85,000 annually, so if the chlorine taste is sometimes strong remember you are getting good value for your money.

Furnaces at the power plant consume 177,680 tons of coal annually at a cost to the city of $533,040. Cost of handling the coal at the power plant is $20,000.

DANCING DEBUTANTES, sixteen of them, will be featured in Ernie Young's "State Fair Revue", to be presented nightly as the grandstand show of the Edmonton Exhibition, July 12 to 17. The Revue will be staged on a 3,500-square-foot portable stage, 250 feet long.

Building Figures Continue to Soar
New Apartments Slated For Three Districts

July will be no exception in Edmonton monthly parade to an all-time home construction record.

First permits issued in the month covered a $264,000 housing project under which 30 homes will be erected in the 103 and 104 blocks on 139 and 140 streets.

Five permits were issued on June 30 covering the erecting of commercial buildings and an apartment block. They totalled $45,500.

Mrs. Mary Wolosnansky took out a permit covering stores to be erected at 11802-04 124 street costing $10,000.

A concrete and frame store building will be erected by Ross Bryant at 10523 Whyte avenue, costing $9,500.

Dow and Scott will erect a plumbing shop at 10031 106th street at a cost of $7,000, and M. L. A. Notwisky will build a frame and stucco store at 8815 118 avenue costing $5,000.

A three storey apartment block will be erected by E. Branik at 10765 97 street, costing $11,000.

Roger Luna Dies in City

Prominent merchant and implements dealer of Hughenden, Roger Luna, 55, died in Edmonton, Wednesday, following a lengthy illness.

Mr. Luna came to the Stettler district with his parents in 1909 from Marshall, Arkansas.

He served with the United States Marines during World War One. Following the war he settled in Cadogan where he started a chain of grocery stores which he extended to Provost, Paradise Valley and Hughenden.

He was well-known as a ball player in central and northern Alberta in the 1920's.

Mr. Luna is survived by his wife and one daughter, Betty Ann of Edmonton; his mother, Mrs. Tamara A. Luna, of Red Willow; one brother, Alfred, of Edmonton; three sisters, Mrs. Martin Morgensen and Mrs. Frank Ince of Red Willow, and Mrs. Godfrey Wilson of Erskine.

Funeral services will be held 12:45 Saturday afternoon from R. B. Hinchey will officiate assisted Howard and McBride's Chapel. Rev. by Rev. H. de Leeuw and committal will be made in the Edmonton Mausoleum.

Berard Remanded On Driving Charge

A dangerous driving charge against George Berard, 12407 -87 street, arising from an accident Saturday in which 11 people were injured, was remanded without plea to July 8 in city police court Friday.

Berard was the driver of one of two cars which were involved in a head-on collision on the Fort Road. Driver of the other car was William Huculak, 12239 87 street.

POLICE SEEKING ELDERLY MAN

Police in Edmonton are searching for George Drew, believed to be a pensioner, living in Alberta, who worked at the student's mess, of Number five E.F.T.S., Lethbridge during the war.

Search was instigated following inquiries by the missing man's sister, Mrs. A. Phillips, 35 Elizabeth street, Pentre Rhondda, Glams, South Wales.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of Mr. Drew is asked to contact city police or Mrs. Phillips.

Rev. W. C. Eifert New Head Of Western Lutherans

Rev. W. C. Eifert, Leduc, was re-elected president of the Alberta-British Columbia District of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, at the district convention held in Edmonton this week.

First vice-president elected was Rev. C. C. Janzow, Medicine Hat, and as second vice-president, Rev. C. Baase, of New Westminster, B.C.

Rev. August Fenske was re-elected as secretary and A. Knebel as treasurer.

Elected to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors were Rev. V. Eichenlaub, Lethbridge; Rev. C. I. Klewer, Edmonton; Rev. E. Wildgrube, Bruderheim; T. Appelt, Edmonton; H. Folkman, Didsbury; A. Lange, Claresholm; W. Roman, Stony Plain.

Reporting on missions in the two provinces, Rev. W. A. Raedeke, Edmonton, said good progress had been made, especially in British Columbia. He also reported that twelve new churches and seven new manses were in process of construction in addition to much renovation and improvement to existing buildings.

In a Dominion Day message, Rev. A. Reiner, of Didsbury, appealed for eternal vigilance in the preservation of our liberties and freedoms, and warned of great sinister forces seeking to undermine and destroy these privileges.

Military Notes

Members of the 30th Casualty Clearing Station attending Wainwright Reserve Army Summer Camp are to parade at Prince of Wales Armouries Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Those attending the second week of the camp will parade at 9:30 a.m. July 11.

NEW PRESIDENT of Edmonton Rotary Club, Les Irwin (right) takes over his office from Frank King, retiring president. Installation of officers took place recently at the Macdonald hotel.

Meat Officials Windup Meet

Uniformity and efficiency in the grading of meats is the object of a Dominion conference of Canadian meat board officials in the Macdonald hotel.

L. W. Pearsall, chairman of the Canadian meat board, and assistant director of marketing for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, is presiding at the sessions.

District supervisors from every province are attending.

Jack Pawley of Edmonton is the Alberta district supervisor.

"It is important that our standards of grading do not vary in the various districts," Mr. Pawley explained.

"Both the producer and the public are protected through uniformity of standards," he added.

Motion pictures are being used to illustrate grading methods at the meetings that terminated Friday.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Ripe, Red B.C. Cherries Grace Monday Tables

By Bea Thrifty

Happy week-end everybody—and a happy Monday when good things like Bing cherries from the Okanagan valley hit local markets.

First price lists for the sweet, luscious fruit are hitting the 38c per pound mark—but according to city wholesalers—the situation is well under control and prices will improve as the season advances.

Tentative quotations from British Columbia fruiters say crops are good and are producing a sweeter, firmer cherry than for years past.

* * *

Raspberries are top of the list for crop success in the fruit valleys—and if sufficient people can be induced to pick the berries—we should have a fine supply within the two-week period.

* * *

'Nother good thing about Monday is the drastic reduction in the price of cucumbers.

Saturday sales measure at a 37c per pound low—while Monday will see them going like the proverbial hotcakes—at 21c per pound.

But on the QT—let me tell you that I bought the good cukes at 15c per lb.—small mind you, but good indeed.

And this miracle happened at a fine little Chinese grocer's on the south side of our fair city.

* * *

Quick as a flash—and twice as come-hither is a good dish of savoury bacon 'n beans.

Thing that reminded me of this is the notation on my little memopad that beans will be selling at two tins for 27c come Monday. have to investigate this effort.

* * *

Austerity, where is thy sting?

When you can serve things like this delightful delectable: Get your hands on a package of lemon jelly powder: dissolve in one cup boiling water: add one of cold, then chill until it begins to thicken.

Beat until very light and now fold in ½ cup whipping cream, whipped fairly stiff. Next add ½ cup crushed pineapple and ½ cup shredded coconut and pour into mold.

Serve chilled and unmolded with a garnish of fresh strawberries . . . dessert supreme . . . to finish that dinner supreme . . .

* * *

There may be several reasons why modern homemakers are partial to place mats and are bypassing the large dinner cloths of linen, expensive linen.

You can buy good-looking place mats of plain Irish linen for $3.95.

They come in sets for eight places, have hemstitched edges in colors of green, ecru, white and pale of lemon yellow.

Good buy this!

* * *

To win new interest for a summer dinner party—serve a favorite soup brisk-cold.

For instance with a flip of taste and imagination you have:

Combine one can condensed tomato soup with an equal amount of rich milk. Chill until ice cold.

Garnish each serving with a thin slice of unpeeled cucumber . . . makes four servings.

* * *

Didya know about the pretty painted place plates with hand-painted flowers that sell for around 35? Prices vary with size of plate. They come from Mexico and are very swish indeed.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

WI Girls' Clubs Plan Convention At Olds

Annual convention of Alberta Women's Institute Girls' Clubs will be held in the School of Agriculture at Olds July 21, 22, 23.

Delegates from all parts of the province are expected to attend.

Constituency conference was held recently by six institute and two girls' clubs at St. Albert.

Mrs. S. E. Thorne, Ft. Saskatchewan president at the meeting.

Warspite, Bon Accord, Ft. Saskatchewan, Pleasantview, St. Albert, Edmonton were presented at the conference.

Mrs. H. Vague, St. Albert, was named constituency convener and motion was recorded to hold the next conference in Edmonton.

Educational talks on Canadian and international affairs were prepared for meetings.

Milnerton branch heard Mrs. J. Moran talk on her recent visit to the United States. Proceeds from the home cooking sale will be donated to the Innisfail rest room. Banner, picnic and dance was held June 30. Help is being given to a crippled child in the hospital under the sponsorship of the branch members.

Irma branch members are collecting clothing for overseas parcels. Canvass was made of the village for the Cancer fund. Mrs. Gunn spoke on education and Mrs. H. Larson addressed members on social service.

Fairview branch sponsored a soft drink and hamburger booth at the sports celebration.

North End branch members held a dance recently.

Alix branch heard a talk on cancer by Mrs. Ware. Mrs. Andrews reported the recent constituency conference held at Erskine.

Echo Hill branch members invited Buaby and Independence WI groups to attend their tea. Proceeds will be used for the hall fund.

Mrs. McDougall, Edmonton, addressed members on mental health.

Berry Vale branch made final arrangements to entertain constituency members. An exhibition of handicrafts will be shown.

Birch Creek branch held a tag day in aid of the Cancer Association recently when more than $80 was raised. Mrs. E. MacEwen will be official delegate at the constituency conference to be held at Innisfree July 8. Mrs. Bryden spoke to members on the immigration to Canada of displaced girls.

Grahamston branch will soon celebrate its first anniversary. Members from Kinee Hill Valley and Horse Hill Women's Institutes will attend the celebrations. Mrs. T. Sorensen, a new WI member is moving to make her home at Olds. Clothing for displaced persons, a layette and food parcels were projects carried out during the month.

Boyle branch members are exchanging letters with members of English WI who have received parcels of food from Canada. Mrs. Bowerman will be official delegate to the conference to be held at Lac La Biche July 14.

Hanna branch will not hold meetings during July and August. It was announced that WI projects have been met. Mrs. J. R. Ligate was delegate to the conference at Cereal.

Round Hill branch planned a birthday party for WI members and sent two housedresses to the clothing collection for Displaced Persons arriving in Alberta. A discussion of social service was led by Mrs. Beaman.

Little Red Deer Dorcas voted a donation of $25 to the fund for British Columbia flood victims. It was announced that WI projects were carried out. Dresses made by members had been fitted on forms they had learned to make at a previous meeting were displayed.

Lacombe branch made plans to attend the conference at Red Deer and a WI picnic was arranged to take place at Gull Lake. Child welfare was the subject of an address presented by Mrs. Chapman, former teacher in an English school for unfortunate children. Sick friends were remembered and it was reported that WI projects have been met.

Nampa branch will entertain grandmothers in July. At the meeting members will give favorite recipes while answering the roll call. Samples will be served as refreshments. Demonstration on sewing was given by the local home economist. She gave members helpful ideas on how to raise the standard of workmanship for handicraft exhibits.

Wildmere branch had a talk on immigration presented by Mrs. W. J. Garnett. Current topics were given when members answered the roll call. Mrs. Wilson, president, presented the branch with a stamp bearing the name of the institute. Delegate to the conference at Vermilion will be Mrs. R. Dibbins.

Ramsey branch planned a shower for Sylvia Wharry, a recent bride. A paper dealing with the work of the United Nations was read by Mrs. R. Bang. She will be a delegate to the constituency conference to be held at Vermilion July 8.

Verdant Valley branch raised more than $250 from the sale of cook books. Donations will be made to the branch by members in place of raising money at the tea usually held. Plans were made for an auction bazaar. Picnic will be held and treats given children at the close of the school term.

Worsley branch made donations to the Cancer Fund and the Banff School of Fine Art scholarship fund. Arrangements were made for delegates to attend the conference to be held at Hines Creek. Highlights of the oleomargarine situation in the United States and Canada were presented in a paper read by Mrs. Tonnesly, convener of agriculture.

Ferrybank branch planned a layette and members will work on the Better Farm Homes competition. At the meeting members wore hats made from kitchen utensils. The prize winning model was made from paper plates, paper place mats and paper napkins.

Hayter branch heard of the teaching experiences of Mrs. C. Murray Jr. at a recent meeting. It was announced that WI projects have been carried out.

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SUNDAY, July 4, 1948

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Several planets in benefic aspects augur well for a happy 4th of July. But don't go to extremes or be reckless. Give thanks to God for our freedom; pray to preserve it.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—First thought should be of church—we in free lands should humbly give thanks to God and strive in every way to cherish our blessings. Pray for those in bondage.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Very generous inclinations for all whole-some interests, necessary work, healthy recreation. Include religious services in your schedule. Be charitable to the less fortunate.

June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—Personal and general affairs have happy aspects this patriotic day. Take a few minutes to ponder on the significance of July 4th! Accept responsibilities as privileges.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Grand inclinations. No worry or moods should be indulged. This is a day for happiness and healthy pastimes, for reunions and for prayer. Essential duties can be deftly handled.

August 23 to September 23—(Virgo) —The very practical, the artistic, plus heavy tasks and lighter activities all come under benefic rays this fine day. Don't neglect spiritual needs or health. Make time for social affairs.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra) Your Venus and other planets in favorable aspect sponsor honest personal and business interests, church and charity activities. Attend to neglected correspondence; enjoy some recreation.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—A day for renewing faith in God, country, family and self. Don't permit ill temper or any harmful agency to interfere with the grand time you can have. Pray!

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)—Put aside cares, needless anxiety today and get the benefit of religious rays, good fun, happy get-togethers. Be one of the gayest; help to make others so.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Sort of day to rejoice in nature's beauty, to seek out old friends, to enjoy family, church services and wholesome play. They are only truly great who are truly good.

January 22 to February 19—(Aquarius)—Keep inspirations high and strive always to reach them. There is no real happiness or contentment except where daily thoughts and actions are in keeping with God's laws.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—Competitive pastimes, outdoor games and health activities are a few of the worthy endeavors hope this fine day. First, remember our Heavenly Father and your day will be happier.

You born today possess a retentive memory, a sense of humor, a knack for entertaining, also a tendency to combative discussions. Could do well at law, acting, selling, writing. Great love for home, heritage and children. Gracnacious, gentility two outstanding charms—keep them to the front! Correct overcreativeness, and a tendency to argue. Don't ever lose faith in your ability or in God's Divine help. You can achieve, if you stick at your work. Birthdate: Calvin Coolidge, U.S. pres.; Nathaniel Hawthorne, writer.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Spoiled Children Need Firm Discipline

DEAR MISS DIX: We are a well-to-do family with four children. Three boys, 10, 8 and 5 years old and a girl of 4. These youngsters are beyond my control and I can do absolutely nothing with them.

They fight amongst each other. They talk back to me, and pay no attention to anything I say to them. Whipping does no good and I am becoming a nervous wreck.

My children are good-looking and healthy and appear to be normal, but they are such little heilions they are making my life unbearable. What is your advice?

A MOTHER IN DISTRESS.

ANSWER: Any woman who admits that children as young as yours are beyond her control should ask herself whether she has used any system or intelligence or firmness in rearing them.

If not, you have spoiled your children from the time they were born.

You have never taught them to respect laws, and that is the reason that they defy you and behave like little savages.

The best thing that you can do now is to get a woman who is a trained nurse for children to come and take charge of them for a couple of months.

Turn them over to her completely and she will give them the discipline that you have been too weak to give them, and that they will take from her without question because she is a stranger.

And don't interfere with her methods in any respect. Don't let the children appeal to you.

ABSENCE HELPFUL

It would be a fine thing for you to go away from home while this reformation is in progress.

But if you can't do that, at least give the woman a free hand. And don't undo her work as soon as it is done.

WHY GROW OLD

Energy Saved By Morning Shopping

By Josephine Lowman

I suppose most women like to shop, although many of them find it particularly tiring. There are some hardy souls who can stay downtown all day, buying this or that, looking at everything, going back and forth, filled with indecision, but feeding their myriad desires by looking, if not buying! These women come home as fresh as a daisy! I envy them! I always fear I will be under the duisies before it is over.

Whether or not you enjoy shopping, most of the buying for home and family is done by the woman. She must purchase the groceries and see to the many demands in clothing for her family and for herself, and must constantly seek those millions of supplies for household upkeep and repair. A woman spends tremendous amounts of energy in the activity of shopping.

Shopping is not as much fun as it used to be! In some places there still seems to be a scarcity of salesladies, and with so many people buying so many things, this leads to long waits.

There are still many shortages, and once you find something you really like, you are likely to discover that it would take a first mortgage on the house to swing the deal. These frustrations make buying even more fatiguing.

Since shopping takes so much of a woman's time, she would be wise to save energy by giving thought to making this activity as easy as possible. Here are a few suggestions:

If possible, do your shopping early in the morning, before the crowds are so large and while you are fresh. You will enjoy it more at this time and will be less likely to make mistakes.

Make a list before you go. Put down all of the things you wish to buy on this particular trip. Outline the stores in which you think you will be most apt to find the articles you want. In this way you will not have to hesitate in each store and will not have to backtrack.

A few telephone calls before you go may save you much time and many steps.

Do not let your desires wear you out. Don't become so exhausted by the frustration they feel when looking at things they want and cannot have, while others get a thrill out of imagining possession!

Last, but not least, when you come home, kick your slippers off, take the following exercise and a short rest.

Exercise: Stand tall. Let your arms hang from your shoulders. Make circles with your shoulders, moving them back for awhile and then forward. Do not circle with your arms (they are hanging) but with your shoulders.

If you wish to have my leaflet No. 24 "Exercises For Relaxing," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Self-Feeding Lessons Should Be Well-Timed

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

When the baby grabs at the feeding spoon and wants to hold it, is the moment at which the education in self-feeding can begin. This does not mean, and I must emphasize this, that being able to hold the spoon or get some of its contents to the mouth, means the baby should be made to take over the task of feeding himself.

But a beginning has to be made though it may be weeks after he experiments with feeding, before he is able to accomplish it successfully.

The mother should put a spoon in the child's hand, hold her hand over his and show him how to push it in the food and direct it to his mouth. She will have to do this over and over saying, "Push it in the food; lift it up, bring it to your mouth." She should know that when he does this he is apt to turn the spoon over en route and dump most of its contents. That is all part of the learning pattern.

Meanwhile, she should hold another spoon in her own hand and give him spoonfuls from it, so he will have both the satisfaction of trying to feed himself and also some joy from the food.

Despite his interest and desire to try this new stunt, there will come a moment when the whole thing will pall on him. Watch him. As long as he tries to feed himself with vigor, let him have the fun of doing it, no matter what the mess or how often he resorts to his fingers to pick up the food. When he begins to play in the food or toss it over the side of the high chair, or act indifferent, take over the feeding. Wait a few moments, perhaps, to give him time to feel interested again. Usually, the child will then eat willingly whatever portions of his food remain on the plate.

During this learning period the mother must steel herself to ignore messiness. It is hard enough, and tiresome enough, for a child to get the food to his mouth, without being harried by instructions to be tidy. Tidiness should not be an immediate goal, that will come later when the child has practiced long enough so that he can feed himself with ease and dispatch.

NO BUTTER!

Want to snap your fingers at butter and turn out a grand cake without it? Here's how:

Lemon Cake

2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup shortening creamed with a scant ¼ teaspoon of Love's Creamex
1 cup sugar
2 eggs beaten
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon Love's Lemon

Mix the creamed shortening and sugar. Add eggs and sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, and finally flavor. Bake in moderate oven at 375 degrees F. about thirty minutes.

You can play variations on the cake-theme by using the same recipe and replacing Love's lemon flavoring with other Love's flavors. You might use orange . . . lime . . . cherry . . raspberry . . . . strawberry . . . passion fruit . . . loganberry . . . banana . . . pineapple or some of the other many fine flavors that come from Love's. At your grocers in 10c and 35c sizes. Six 10c bottles for $1.09 or three 35c size for $1.00, post paid.

New Self-Serve Laundry Open for Monday's Wash

Edmonton's first and only washomat opens Monday.

Through the medium of this self-serve laundry, wash day problems or "blue Mondays" will be a thing of the past.

For as little as 40 cents, nine pounds of clothing will be washed, rinsed and damp dried in 45 minutes.

During this period you may do your shopping or other business or you may leisurely sit around and rest in the ultra modern lounge at this new laundry which is located at 9347 118 avenue.

Fifteen new and modern Bendix washing machines have been installed to handle the washing.

Each patron is allocated an individual machine in which to wash their clothes. In 45 minutes it's turned out clean, and damp dried. For an additional small extra cost, the clothes may be made ready for, ironing or completely dry.

To assure no waiting problems, appointments for machines will be taken over the telephone.

The new and unique laundry business is the brain child of Fred Bolton formerly of Vancouver, who in company with Mr. and Mrs. George Garbutt and Miss Edith Garbutt formed a partnership and went into business.

Duncan Roger, is manager of the new firm.

London Charwoman Makes Ocean Trip

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 3.—(CP)—Mrs. Lilian Jennings, London charwoman, with the help of her friends collected £120 ($480) for a trip to New York to see her daughter Irene who married an American sergeant in 1944.

"I've been on a boat once before," she said on arrival here, "and that was on a steamer from London Bridge down river to Ramsgate . . . When my daughter had a baby girl two years ago, I started saving in earnest. Then some of my neighbors started a fund to help me get across."

Susan Karuchain Wed Amid Peony Setting

Holy Trinity Church was decorated with baskets of giant peonies for the recent wedding of Susan Alexandra Karuchain and Edward Ausford.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Karuchain. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ausford of Saskatoon.

The Rev. Canon W. M. Nainby performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Eli Farrah, the bride wore a gown of heavy ivory satin fashioned with a wide panel of brocade. The leg-o-mutton sleeves tapered to lily-points over the wrists and the full skirt terminated in a graceful train.

Filmy tulle train-length veil fell softly from a jewelled tiara.

She carried a bouquet of calla lilies and American Beauty roses.

Mrs. P. C. Sheremeta, sister of the bride was matron-of-honor and wore a turquoise blue nylon gown with matching lace mittens. She carried yellow and white carnations in a colonial bouquet and wore a headdress of similar flowers.

Bridesmaid was Eileen Saddy who chose blush pink nylon and carried a colonial bouquet of pink-red carnations and matching headdress.

Little Christine Sheremeta was flower girl and wore a nylon frock of daffodil yellow with a basket of yellow and white carnations and matching coronet of flowers.

Thomas Jowett was best man. Jack Morie and Edward Saddy were ushers.

Helen Valentine sang O Promise Me and Herbert Wilde played the wedding music.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for 250 guests. Mrs. S. Murray, aunt of the bride assisted in receiving with the mother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Murray chose a rose crepe dress with a black lace hat trimmed with roses and a corsage of deep pink roses.

Mrs. Ausford wore a pearl gray ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

The bride's table was set with a lace cloth and centred by a three-tier wedding cake. Tall tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake and baskets of peonies decorated the room.

Sam Murray was toastmaster.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Ausford left on a wedding trip to Banff, Jasper, Lake Louise and Saskatoon, the bride travelling in a yellow gabardine suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow carnations.

Dorothy Mae Ellis Married at Berwyn

BERWYN, July 2.—Miss Dorothy Mae Ellis became the bride of Russell Hawley at Bissell United Church here recently. Rev. D. G. Hay performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Ellis and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hay Hawley of Nampa.

A winter white wool suit was chosen by the bride who was given in marriage by her father. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Miss Marie Ellis, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a beige suit and a corsage of chrysanthemums.

Richard Hawley was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents after which the couple left for a short wedding trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawley will make their home at Nampa.

Tina Side Wed, RCAF Chapel

RCAF Chapel in Edmonton was decorated with summer flowers recently when Miss Tina Side, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Side of Edmonton, pledged marriage vows with LAC John Heimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Heimer of Morden, Man.

FO J. Scott performed the ceremony.

A white satin and lace gown was worn by the bride who was given in marriage by her father. A sweetheart headdress held her full-length veil in place and she carried a bouquet of lilies and roses. A double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, was her only jewelry.

Miss Anne Side attended her sister wearing a gown of blue sheer with matching chapel veil. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bride.

LAC Don Littaker was best man.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The room was decorated with bells and pink and white streamers while bouquets of roses set off the three-tier wedding cake which centred the bride's table.

Mrs. C. Topping and Mrs. T. Prentice poured and assisting in serving were Miss H. Side and Miss Margaret Lee.

C. Topping proposed the toast to the bride.

The bride and bridegroom left for a honeymoon to Jasper after which they will take up residence at 9740 76 avenue.

Exchange Teachers Guests at Dinner

Guests of honor at the final meeting of the DD 40 Club were six exchange teachers. The banquet was held recently at the Macdonald hotel.

Miss Anne Carmichael presented retiring president, Miss Dorothy Allyn, with a gift on behalf of the club. Souvenir spoons were presented to the exchange teachers.

Reports were given by retiring officers.

A play written and directed by Hazel Walker, Alice Simonson, Lulu Knight and Doris McAvoy was presented. Cast included M. Sheaver, K. Ferguson, M. Haakenstad, Miss L. Knight, Miss W. Brown, Miss W. McLaggan, Miss M. Dickson, Miss E. Hawken, Miss S. Brushett, Miss P. Law, Miss A. Bell, Miss A. MacRae, Miss V. Anderson, Miss A. Simonson, Miss B. Simons and Miss D. Johnson. Miss D. McAvoy was accompanist.

Following officers were elected. Miss Bessie McAvoy, president; Miss Alberta Bell, secretary; Miss Anna MacRae, treasurer.

Back To Ear Muffs

SYDNEY, Australia—(CP)—"Ear muffs" are becoming a popular hair style in Australia although hairdressers point out that they are just as old-fashioned as the so-called New Look. The "muffs" are clusters of curls about the ears and look particularly attractive under large hats.

Use Squeeze Play To Make Slam Bid

By William E. McKenney

While kibitzing Edson T. Wood of Indianapolis recently, I was introduced to his mother. "Is he pretty good, Mrs. Wood?" I asked, and she replied: "He ought to be—I taught him all he knows."

I was rather surprised when today's hand came up and Wood bid only six diamonds, because Indianapolis players have a reputation for bidding the full value of a hand. However, his partner took him to seven no trump.

The opening lead of the eight of spades was won in dummy with the king, and Wood immediately cashed the queen-jack of hearts and king of clubs. Now if the diamond suit broke he would have 13 tricks. But a good player always assumes that the break may be a bad one.

Wood's next play was the king of diamonds, and then he cashed the ace and queen of diamonds in his own hand. When he had cashed the ace and king of hearts and ace and queen of clubs, he was left with a spade and a club. Dummy had the ace and jack of spades.

East got down to the queen and ten of spades and pack of clubs, and had to make a discard. If he let go the club, Wood's club would be good. If he discarded the ten of spades, Wood would play his spade to dummy's ace and the jack of spades would win the last trick.

The interesting point in this hand is that if declarer had not cashed the king of diamonds, the squeeze would not have come off. When the hand was over, Mrs. Wood said, with twinkling eyes, "I told you he is good."

500 Eye Doctors Are Defendants

CHICAGO, July 3.—(AP)—The United States government yesterday named nearly 500 eye specialists throughout the country as defendants in its price-fixing suit against Bausch and Lomb Optical Company, and three subsidiaries.

The oculists named in a petition filed in federal court by the antitrust division are accused of accepting rebates on glasses prescribed for their patients.

Previously the government had named about 2,700 eye doctors throughout the country in suits against Bausch and Lomb and the American Optical Company of Southbridge, Mass.

STONY PLAIN FROM THE AIR. Here's a bird's-eye view of the town of Stony Plain as taken for The Bulletin by an aerial photographer. Now a thriving and progressive mixed farming centre, Stony Plain was once the happy hunting grounds and reservation of the Cree and Sioux Indian tribes.

Rich Little Community Served By Stony Plain

Stony Plain, situated 20 miles west of Edmonton, off the Jasper highway, is a thriving, mixed farming centre.

The town, which boasts of a population of 800, serves a community of some 3,000 who have settled in the surrounding area.

First settlers to take up homesteading in the district arrived in 1881 and since that time the community has gradually flourished until today it is one of the most progressive farming areas in the province.

While the majority of holdings in the Stony Plain farmlands cover areas of half and quarter sections, the district has never known a crop failure, and farmers are considered well-off.

Rich harvest from their crops and stock have resulted in making the district recognized as one of the better farming areas in Alberta.

LARGE SCHOOLS

Stony Plain is the location of the municipal offices for the district and also boasts of large school division offices.

Mayor of the town is Emile Fielhaber, co-owner of Fielhaber-Jones Motors, who has held the chief magistrate post for five different terms.

Fielhaber, like most residents of the town, is extremely proud of Stony Plain. Its rich farm lands, attractive scenery and beautiful lakes come in for much praise from the mayor.

"We have, on Stony Plain, level prairie and hills and dales covered with timber. We have running streams and beautiful lakes in the vicinity.

"We generally encounter an abundance of rain during the growing season and happily a cessation of rain during harvest. The soil is easily cultivated and when properly worked produces a wonderful growth of grain.

"We have luxuriant natural grasses. We have timber and coal close at hand. Oil is being drilled for in the district and we have all the natural conditions for making many prosperous and happy homes.

"We've just about everything at Stony Plain," said Fielhaber proudly.

Possibility of oil being discovered in the district is said "good" by the city and general stores, tailor, lunch counters and cafes, confectioneries, Mayor, who added that search operations by various oil companies were presently underway.

The town and district is well served by a compact but thriving business section, which boasts of a number of new and modern stores. Stony Plain, in short, is well ed by modern garages, two billiard halls, lumber yards and other business premises are located in the town.

Four elevators, a feed mill, hotel, equipped with all conveniences to hank, several meat markets, groc serve the community and district.

Construction Cost Well Divided

Edmonton, Spruce Grove and Stony Plain business firms shared in the construction of the new Norman Motors which officially opens for business at Stony Plain today.

The Edmonton firm of Alton and Anderson, were contractors of the modern garage. Electrical and air conditioning units were supplied and installed by Trapp Electric of Stony Plain while W. C. Moore of Edmonton was the brick contractor.

McLeod's at Spruce Grove, Armbruster Lumber, A. E. Michael and Son, Hy Opperthauser and Sons, Parton and Son, E. Danhower, and Tony Rosenberger, all of Stony Plain, also supplied material for the construction.

Full Staff At Norman Motors

With the opening of the new and modern Norman Motors, residents of Stony Plain and district will have the benefit of the latest garage facilities to serve their cars, trucks, tractors and other farm machinery.

The new garage will carry a full and complete line of automobile parts and accessories, for cars and trucks, as well as farm machinery.

Competent mechanics and repair men are ready to serve and according to Leigh, spokesmen for the Norman brothers, the new garage "will be able to handle any job large or small, that can be accommodated at any garage anywhere."

Beautiful Lakes Near Stony Plain

Among the more famous are Lake Wabamun and Sweet Water lake.

The beautiful sheet of water, now known as Lake Wabamun, was formerly called White Whale lake.

Descendants of the famed old Sioux Indians who later became known as the Stony Indians, following their invasion and settlement in the Stony Plain districts are still living at the west end of the plain on the shore of Lake Wabamun.

Band of Indians Named District

History of White Man Goes Back to 1760

A small band of Sioux Indians, who wandered far from the plains of the Dakotas, some three hundred or more years ago, are said to be the first permanent residents of Stony Plain.

It must be said, however, that the Cree Indian tribe roamed the plains before the invasion of the Sioux, and it was the Crees that pinned the name of Stony on the Sioux following a series of defeats in battle for reservation rites of the district.

The name of Stony stuck and eventually the settlement of this Indian tribe became known as Stony Plain.

First authentic account of a white man being on Stony Plain was a hundred and fifty years ago, (1780) when the Hudson's Bay Company stationed a man with a band of cattle at a little lake called Sweet Water Lake in the centre of Stony Plain prairie, within a stone's throw of the old Stony Plain post office.

But the Stony Indians proved true to the reputation earned by their forefathers, and gave the white man so much bother that after one summer's trial, the Hudson's Bay people relinquished their attempt to occupy the land of the Stony Indians and pastured their cattle elsewhere.

FIRST IN 1881

The first permanent white settlement of Stony Plain was made in 1881 by John A. McPherson and his old friend Alex McNab.

Robert Brenner came the following year, just prior to the death of McNab. Brenner died in 1909.

First white child born at Stony Plain was Annie MacDonald, daughter of John L. MacDonald, first postmaster of Stony Plain. Annie, who is now the wife of Fred Wilain of Hansen Corners, was born in 1910.

OLD TIMERS

Other old timers of the Stony Plain district were Philip Miller, George Sutherland, Sam Eckels and Erick Great.

First public meeting said to have been held at Stony Plain was a political session called by the late Frank Oliver, pioneer politician of Edmonton and district, and publisher and founder of The Edmonton Bulletin.

This meeting was called at the home of John A. McPherson, in the fall of 1892.

Former Vichy Gov't Official Cleared

PARIS, July 3.—(Reuters)—Gen. Laure, former undersecretary of state to Marshal Petain, is the first man to have been acquitted by the high court of justice set up to try members and high officials of the Vichy government.

The court decided that Laure had not taken part in the activities of the Vichy government and was therefore not subject to the law rendering its members automatically liable to "national degradation" or loss of civil rights.

Up-To-Date Garage Opens At Stony Plain

One of the most modern country garages in northern Alberta is Norman Motors at Stony Plain, which officially opens for business today.

Streamline in design and construction, the new building was erected at the cost of $50,000.

The building, which is of re-inforced concrete and brick construction, can accommodate 25 cars at one time.

The second storey front of the building provides accommodation for five modern business offices.

Ultra modern streamline fixtures, latest designed fluorescent lighting, air conditioning and heating units, feature the premises.

Tools, and garage equipment of the latest pattern, have been installed.

The front of the building houses a spacious show room, office and auto parts department.

Norman Motors is the Stony Plain and district agent for Dodge and DeSoto cars and trucks and the Cockshutt Plow Company Limited farm machinery and truck bodies.

SALES AND SERVICE

Sales, service and repair for the products of these three firms are handled exclusively by Norman Motors in the Stony Plain district.

Two modern gasoline pumps, situated in the spacious drive-in sell Texaco gas and oil products.

Alongside the drive-in is a large display section to be used as a showroom for cars, trucks and farm machinery and customer parking.

Two overs-ize entrance and exit doors feature the modern garage, which in addition to being equipped with the latest garage mechanism and tools, features a modern welding unit and a South Bend quick-gear change lathe with a 16-inch swing, 12-foot bend and automatic cross-feed.

OWNER-BROTHERS

In addition to the Norman brothers, Leigh and Lyall, the garage employs a staff of four.

Both Norman brothers are experienced mechanics, Leigh claiming 18 years to his credit and Lyall 14 years.

The new Norman Motors, in addition to being one of the largest and most modern country garages in northern Alberta, is a business enterprise that the progressive and thriving town of Stony Plain can be proud of.

It enhances the main thoroughfare and is a business which will adequately serve the 800 residents of the town and the 3,000 countryfolk of the district.

History of Stony Plain Makes Interesting Saga

By Tommy Graham

What's in a name?

It's often remarked by people newly come to Stony Plain, that it is strange, that a country, without a sign of a single stone, should be given the compromising name that it now bears.

Stony Plain residents claim there's not a stone in their town as big as a peanut.

In a general way, the name is historical, rather than descriptive.

Let us now pause briefly to explain how it was that the country west from Edmonton was called Stony Plain.

Long ago, probably some 300 years or more, a small band of Sioux Indians wandering far from their homeland plains of the Dakotas, came to the land where the more heavily timbered country of western Alberta was joined by the prairies of eastern Alberta.

Here they found buffalo in abundance so they made camp and settled in the area.

But the native Indian around these parts was the Cree, and objecting to the invasion gave battle only to have the Sioux tribes walk off victors.

Deprived of this "happy hunting ground" the Cree it is said, pinned the name of Stony upon the Sioux invaders, as a result of their aggressiveness in battle.

The name stuck and the Sioux newcomers soon became recognized as the Stony Indians.

BATTLEGROUND

Several battles ranged on the plains, and in each case, the "Stony tribe" were victorious, with the result the "battlefield" became known as the Stony Plain, the name it still bears.

It must be mentioned, however, that the postal department nearly did away with the name.

Seems as how a feud started between Stony Plain east and Stony Plain west (now Spruce Grove) when residents of the east side of the settlement and those of the west side of the settlement eight miles apart both sought to have post offices established in their district.

The east siders considering themselves entitled to the name of Stony Plain in view of the fact that John A. McPherson, said to be the first white settler in the district settled in their side of the town.

WIN POINT

The postal authorities temporarily agreed with them, reserving the name for the east-siders, but the west-siders fought back strongly, claiming that their section of the district was originally named Stony Plain proper and cited their first resident John L. McDonald as the original white settler and further insisted that the Hudson's Bay stockmen settled on their side of the community, near Sweet Water Lake in 1760.

They also got busy and erected a building in which to house a post office whereas the east-siders were standing idly by. Result the western residents won out and east Stony Plain became Spruce Grove.

Search Continues

REGINA, July 3. — (CP) — The search for 31-year-old John Hoffman, still is being conducted, RCMP officials said. The former resident of Melville, Sask., is sought in connection with the May slaying of his wife. They had lived in Chicago. Hoffman last was seen June 6 in Regina.

Muster Shipping

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus, July 3—(Reuters) — Jewish authorities are mustering all available shipping, including motorboats, to carry the maximum number of Jewish refugees to Palestine before the truce expires July 9, it was learned here yesterday.

Heads Accountants

MONTREAL, July 3. — (CP) — A. J. Boltec of Quebec, auditor for the Province of Quebec, was elected president of the General Accountants Association at the annual meeting. Vice-presidents included J. M. McDonald, Halifax, and F. W. Dollman, Vancouver.

Gunman Gets $25

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—A lone gunman held up two women stenographers at the Ottawa Paper Box Company office yesterday and fled with an estimated $25. He escaped in a "drive yourself" automobile which police said he hired a few hours earlier.

Young Veterans Re-Open Garage Here

The Norman brothers, Leigh and Lyall, proprietors of the new and modern Norman Motors, which officially opens for business today at Stony Plain, are both veterans of World War II.

Leigh saw service with the Army, enlisting in July, 1942, and being demobilized in June, 1945. Lyall did his stint with the RCAF, joining the forces in May, 1942, and being discharged in November, 1945.

During their spell of active service, the Norman brothers tacked a "Closed for the Duration" sign on their garage business.

"Neither of us was going to be around so we decided to close shop," said Leigh.

Leigh is a bachelor while Lyall has a wife, Mary.

Mother of the boys, Mrs. Laura Dupee, who remarried, also lives at Stony Plain.

Formerly of Lavoy and Morinville, Leigh first started business in Stony Plain on December 10, 1936, when he purchased a garage business operated by D. S. Grant.

The following March, he persuaded brother Lyall to give up his position as Husby, Alberta, and join him.

The brother act clicked in fine fettle until both enlisted on active service when the shop closed. On discharge, however, they commenced operations again, but had a second lapse in their business stride in July last year.

Fire, of undetermined origin broke out on the night of July 25, 1947, and completely gutted their garage premises.

Work on their new building commenced a month later and the boys, while they admit they are not superstitious, say they are "keeping their fingers crossed" that nothing else pops up to mar their whirl in the business world.

Canuck Wants To Stay in Russia

Wishes to Renounce British Citizenship, Become Red Citizen

MOSCOW, July 3.—(Reuters)—All Russian newspapers today gave prominent play to the story of a Canadian-born sailor, Reginald Hubbard, who wrote to the British Ambassador in Moscow saying he wished to renounce his British citizenship, become a Soviet citizen and stay in Russia.

Hubbard, 43, wrote a similar letter to the Mayor of Odessa, where he landed from the 7,198-ton American ship Edward R. Squibb. In it he made formal application for Soviet citizenship.

He said only the Soviet Union could provide him with the chance to work without the constant threat of unemployment he had experienced most of his life.

NEVER HAD CHANCE

He was single, because he had never had the chance to support a wife and family.

"Dring my stay in Odessa I came to know the life of the Soviet people and found out that all the good I had heard about the Soviet Union was actually true, and that what was published by the reactionary American and Canadian press was lies.

"I am 43 now but have no education—the aim of my whole life," Hubbard said when giving details in his application for Soviet citizenship.

He added:

BORN IN CANADA

"I was born in Canada. My father, who was an engineer, held the position of Canadian consul in the United States from 1913 to 1922.

"In 1922, when my father had lost his position, our life changed and I had to abandon my dream of getting educated and start working for my living."

He did not say where he was born in Canada, or amplify the reference to his father.

External affairs department officials at Ottawa said their files showed no record of an employe named Hubbard and that in any case, there were no Canadian consuls in the United States between 1915 and 1922.

"The first Canadian consulate in the U.S. was opened in New York in 1945," a spokesman said.

Indian Stampede

MORLEY, Alta., July 3.—(CP)—About 100 Indians and ranch hands from southern Alberta reserves took part in the annual Stony Indian Dominion Day stampede. Stan Carson of Tata Creek, B.C., took top honors in the saddle bronc riding event. Cecil Baptie of Cochrane, Alta., won the bareback riding competition.

OUTSTANDING SPORT attractions offered to residents of Stony Plain and district is the annual stampede which is usually held during the month of August. Ernie Doern, hard-riding cowpuncher from Bruce, Alberta, is shown astride the bucking bronco—Midnight.

Anglicans Sign Petition Denouncing All Wars

LONDON, July 3.—(Reuters)—A petition signed by Anglicans throughout the world has been sent to the Lambeth conference seeking a declaration that "all participation in war even in a good cause is contrary to the divine will."

The Lambeth Conference of Archbishops and Bishops of the Anglican Communion through the world opens here Monday.

The signatories number 8,750, made up of 534 clergymen and 8,216 laymen and women. They come from all parts of the Anglican Communion.

Addressed to the archbishops, metropolitans and bishops of the Anglican Communion, the petition states:

"We recall with thankfulness the declaration of the 1930 Lambeth Conference that war as a method of settling international disputes is incompatible with the teaching and example of our Lord Jesus Christ."

The Second World War had confirmed this judgment. It had shown how war undermined general morality by lending support to the doctrine that evil means would promote righteous ends. The right method of resisting evil was that of positive christianity.

In the 17th century the Turks imposed the death penalty for smoking.

THESE POSTIES HAVE SOMETHING

TOULOUSE, France, July 3. —(Reuters)—Postmen, tired of waiting for the French government to make up its mind about claims for promotions, have begun a new kind of strike. They are delivering all letters except income tax returns.

Williams Backs CCF Platform

W. J. (Bill) Williams, veterans' representative in the Alberta legislature for the past four years, has cast his political lot with the CCF party.

At a CCF nominating convention to choose candidates for Edmonton riding Tuesday night, Mr. Williams announced his support of the CCF in the next provincial election.

Elmer Roper, M.L.A. head of Alberta CCF, read a letter from Mr Williams to the convention. Membership fee was enclosed in the letter.

Cancer Donations Reach $34,000

Army HQ Going On Five-Day Week

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—The army gave one reassuring sign in the tense and troubled times today it announced that its headquarters is going on a five-day week.

Its work day will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. from Monday through Friday, until further notice

Arabs Reply To Partition Peace Plan

CAIRO, July 3. — (AP) — The Arabs handed to Count Folke Bernadotte today their reply to his proposals for a settlement of the Palestine warfare. The reply was not made public.

Arab spokesmen had said earlier the seven Arab states warring upon Israel would reject the suggestions of Count Bernadotte, United Nations mediator.

Count Bernadotte flew to this city today from Rhodes, where he has been negotiating for an extension of the current four-week truce. He may receive the Jewish answer early next week.

In Tel Aviv the Israeli foreign office announced the cabinet will meet tomorrow to draft the Jewish reply to the Bernadotte proposals.

The four-week Palestine truce is due to expire next Friday. Count Bernadotte said he would have the Arab and Jewish replies before the deadline.

UN headquarters at Lake Success said the mediator's peace proposals will be made public tomorrow afternoon. A UN spokesman said the 1,500-word text, submitted to the Arabs and Jews June 28 and 29, would be given out simultaneously in Lake Success, Cairo, Tel Aviv and Rhodes.

In Baghdad, Premier Muzahim Pachachi said today the Arab senate he did not believe the UN proposals would be acceptable to the Arab governments. The premier is coming here by plane to confer with the Arab League.

Proposals Spurned Declares Arab

AMMAN, July 3.—(Reuters)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan said today that the Palestine peace proposals of Count Folke Bernadotte, United States mediator, had been rejected and the Arabs were "going to resume fighting and rely on our arms."

"We are in Palestine for one of two things—either permanent glory or honored martyrdom," he said.

Foltys Wins Chess Tourney

MARIANSKE LAZNE, Czechoslovakia, July 3.—(CP)—Jan Foltys of Czechoslovakia won the 19-round international chess tournament today with a final score of 13-6.

Lajos Steiner of Australia lost his chance to finish in a tie for the leadership by losing an adjourned game today to Gedeon Barcza of Hungary.

Abe Yanofsky, Canadian chess master, finished in a three-way tie for eighth place among the 20 players with 10-9. He lost his 19th-round game to Milan Vidmar of Yugoslavia. It was the young Winnipegger's fifth loss of the tournament. He won six games and drew eight.

Eight Jap War Criminals Hanged

TOKYO, July 3.—(Reuters)—Eight Japanese war criminals were hanged at Sugamo prison here today for killing and torturing Allied prisoners of war.

They had been tried and convicted by an American army military commissions.

These were the first executions reported at Sugamo for more than a year although more than 100 have since been tried and sentenced to death.

Mechanic Booked On Homicide Charge

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—A 37-year-old garage mechanic was booked today on a homicide charge after police said he admitted killing a middle-aged man whose limestreen body was found last night under the bonnet of a parked car.

Police said Michael Guerriero broke down after four hours of questioning and admitted that he and Herman Lederer, 45, the dead man, had fought June 15 over a "phony" automobile deal.

B.C. Rinks Triumph

NELSON, B.C., July 3.—(CP)—Curlers from five provinces took a ferry cruise on Kootenay Lake Friday night after British Columbia rinks triumphed in the top events of Nelson's fourth annual midsummer bonspiel.

E. R. Hallman of Dawson Creek, B.C., captured the Canadian summer championship, defeating E. C. Thode of Saskatoon, 11-6. A. Barrett of Nelson won the Kootenay Challenge, edging T. G. Bowie of Clarksholm, Alta., 7-4.

OIL

New Discovery 'Encouraging'

By Cecil Jackman

Official comment from Imperial Oil headquarters on the Armena discovery ranges from "a little show of oil" to "encouraging but indefinite" showing that the carefully cultivated air of casual indifference reserved for such occasions is beginning to relax. Independent observers are becoming confident that this marks the discovery of the second field on the central plains so urgently needed to meet fuel requirements of the prairies.

Official reticence to confirm or deny that the find marks a new field is due to the fact that no company official can afford to get out on a limb. The rise of a 780 foot column of 39 gravity crude may mark the middle of a small pool of oil or the edge of a large field and only a drilling program on the surrounding property can determine which it is.

Imperial has had sufficient experience with wildcats to know that the time to announce a new oil field is when the crude starts rolling to market. Independent observers justify their optimism on the basis of well-grounded rumors which have come out.

D1 DIFFERS

One is that the D1 zone at Armena differs from the same zone at Leduc in that the property is very well developed at Armena and that about nine feet of it is oil bearing. Another feature that appeals to the average oil man is the fact that the water is salt and not sulphur. Its presence in all the tests is counterbalanced by the fact that if the Leduc discovery well had been drilled at the location of Imperial Leduc No. 7 it too would have found a lot of water.

Coring and drilling down to the D2 zone will probably take some time. To get down to the D3 will take longer. If both these zones are tested the final answer at Armena is over a month away.

CALMONT CONTINUES

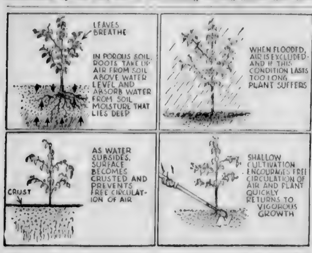
A test of the D2 zone at Calmont-Leduc northeast extension attempt gave salt water and the hole is being deepened to the D3 zone. The fact that the water was not sulphur gives a chance that oil may be found in the D3 zone.

Abandonment at Ste Anne by the Anglo-Home-Calgary and Edmonton group has been announced as forecast earlier in the week. The hole was completed at 6,000 feet without any sign of the D3 zone.

The stuck drill pipe at East Leduc No. 4, west of the main field has been freed and the hole is being cleaned preparatory to resuming drilling below 4,800 feet.



Keep garden soil porous, and break up surface crust, to favor free entry of fresh air.

Air in Soil Is as Vital As Water, to Plant Roots

Importance of fresh air to garden plant roots has been stressed by recent scientific studies, which have proved that in porous soil the air down to a depth of eight inches is completely changed once every hour.

Both the leaves and roots of land plants breathe. When the soil in which they grow is flooded, air is excluded, and when this condition lasts too long the plant can drown, as surely as, though more slowly than, an animal which sinks under water.

As water sinks down and drains off, air reenters the porous soil, provided the surface of the soil allows free passage. But when the surface is compacted, as a result of wetting, baking in the sun or other causes, circulation of the air is checked, and the plants will suffer.

To loosen a compact or crusted surface and restore the free exchange of air is a chief purpose of cultivation. The destruction of weeds is another. The former theory that cultivation is necessary to create a "dust mulch" on the soil to check evaporation of soil water is no longer widely held.

But the amateur gardener, who has observed that plants grow better after the surface soil has been stirred, and the crust broken, should keep on doing this in much the same way.

Experiments have definitely disposed of the old time theory that the deeper soil is cultivated the better, however. It seems to be established that an inch, or two inches at the most, is as deep as the hoe should go down. Stirring any deeper, particularly close to plants, may disturb the roots of growing plants and do more harm than good.

Mulches over the soil will serve the same purpose as cultivation, by preventing crust formation, and keeping fresh air in the soil. Good drainage is also stressed by the studies in aeration. Unless water runs off quickly, after a flooding rain, lack of air will injure and perhaps destroy the plants.

But all these manipulations of the soil will fail, if the soil itself is not porous. This means having coarse particles, and almost any material which will serve to coarsen a heavy soil, especially one containing too much clay, will be beneficial. What builders call torpedo sand, cinders, ashes and especially limestone screenings, which have a special chemical effect in clay, may be spaded in liberally.

Above all, any kind of humus, including decayed manure, peat, and compost, will help loosen the soil, as well as improving it in other ways.

Stocks Fluctuate In Low Turnover

Markets Finish Week Stronger; Western Oils Climb Half Point

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—Security markets closed Friday on a stronger note after a dull and uncertain week.

Turnover was low throughout the week and stocks fluctuated, setting no definite trend. Most commentators, however, see improved prices when volume increases.

Said one New York broker: "We believe the longer-term investor will be justified in maintaining a reasonably invested position, and adding to his holdings on reactions."

The New York market broke sharply monday, dropping .9 on the Associated Press 60-stock average of 70.4, lowest since June 7. A last-hour flurry in rails and oils Friday pulled the market up to 71.8, highest since August, 1946 and half-a-point better than last Friday.

Canadian markets followed the ups and downs of New York. In Toronto, western oils were the only group to show an increase from last week, closing Friday up .54 on the exchange's index from a week ago. Industrials couldn't overcome a two-point loss suffered Monday when all groups eased, and closed Friday up .44 on the day but down 1.40 from last Friday.

Base metals were down .35 on the week and golds .60.

Papers recovered a steep dip and were up 3.75 on the Montreal averages as the only group to gain during the week.

In Chicago, grain prices eased slightly on the week as rising temperatures were reported in mid-western states. Winnipeg grain markets were steady at last Saturday's prices.

United States markets will be closed Monday, Independence Day.

Livestock

EDMONTON, July 3.—Total receipts for this week: Cattle 550, calves 252, hogs 1,209, sheep 239.

Trading was fairly active on the Edmonton cattle market throughout the past week, with prices around 1.00 per cwt. higher on choice dry fed steers, and about steady on all classes showing grass. Receipts were extremely light, grassers predominating, with very few top quality grain feds on offer. Two loads of outstanding choice fed calves sold Friday at 21.50 and 22.50, respectively. A few strictly choice dry fed steers topped at 21.00. The practical top on choice butcher heifers was 18.50, with odd lightweights up to 19.00. The cow market held steady, good light cows trading at 12.00-12.50, and good heavy cows 11.50-12.00. Bulls sold at 9.00-12.50.

Veal calves. Good to choice handyweights 18.00-20.00. Heavy and common kinds 10.00-17.00.

Hogs firmer. Grade A for shipment 29.50. Grade A at plants 28.50. Sows, lightweight on yards 15.00. Feeder hogs 18.00—21.00

Lambs. A few spring lambs sold at 21.00. Good to choice handyweights 17.00 down. Medium 11.00-13.00. Yearlings 7.00-9.00. Light ewes, 5.00-7.50. Medium ewes 4.00-5.00. Feeders in limited demand at 8.00-10.00.

Stockers and feeders in limited demand. Good stocker steers 11.00-12.50. Plain steers 9.50-11.00. Short keeps of good breeding 13.00-14.00 Stock heifers 8.50-11.00. Stock cows 7.50-8.50 per cwt.

All grass cattle 1.00 per cwt. below the following quotations:

Cattle Prices 'Holding Own'

OTTAWA, July 2.—(CP)—A slow livestock market and prices "no better than holding their own" were reported by the Dominion Agriculture Department today in its Weekly Livestock Review.

Trade at Toronto held steady prices despite the inferior quality of offerings, and weighty steers were quoted $18-$21.50, butchers $17-$21 and good cows $13-$14.50. In Montreal best steers brought $19-$20 and good cows $13.50-$15.

Better steers at Winnipeg were $20-$21, Calgary $18-$19, Edmonton $20, Prince Albert $18, Moose Jaw $19-20, Saskatoon 19-21 and Regina $21.

Dairy cattle shipments to the United States totalled 2,948 head compared with 1,355 in the same week last year. Exports since Jan. 1 are 49,365 compared with 23,693 last year.

Toronto paid $21.50-$23.50 for best veals, Montreal $22-$23, Winnipeg $23, Calgary $17-$21, Edmonton, Prince Albert and Saskatoon $19, Moose Jaw $20 and Regina $20.

An advance in the hog market was fairly general although all markets were not included. Grade A sold at $31.75 at Toronto, Montreal $32.50-$33, Winnipeg $29.50, Calgary $29.35, Edmonton $29.15, Prince Albert, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw $28.25, Regina $29.25, and Vancouver $29.25-$29.60.

Chicago Corn Takes Tumble

CHICAGO, July 3—(AP)—Corn prices tumbled on the Board of Trade today as splendid weather spread over the mid-west and a private forecast of a crop of more than 3,000,000,000 bushels was made.

At their extreme lows, corn prices were down as much at 7 cents, sharpest decline for any day in several months.

Wheat was off more than a cent at times, but encountered some buying as it approached the government loan level for cash wheat in this market. Oats were down around 2 cents at the lows.

Wheat closed 1½ to 2 cents lower, July $2.28¾, corn was 2 to 6⅝ lower, July $2.12½-¾, oats were ¼ to 2 cents lower, July 87¾-88.

Close:

Wheat—July 2.28¾, Sep. 2.29¼-29, Dec. 2.30-30⅛, May 2.28¾-¼.

Corn—July 2.12½-¾, Sep. 1.86-85¾, Dec. 1.64-64¼, May 1.63¾-64.

Oats—July 87¾-88, Sep. 84, Dec. 84⅜-½, May 83⅛.

Cash wheat: No. 2 red tough 2.29¼. Corn: No. 1 yellow 2.23-25¼; oats: No. 2 mixed 94¾.

U.S. Coal Strike Seems Inevitable

By CHARLES H. HERROLD

WASHINGTON, July 3—(BUP)—The government appeared powerless today to block a threatened strike next Tuesday in the "Captive Mines" that feed coal to the nation's biggest steel producers.

The National Labor Relations Board was taking preliminary steps toward getting a no-strike order against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers. But officials said there was no chance of completing the case before the strike deadline.

They said a strike appeared inevitable unless the UMW (1) abandons its policy of no contract, no work or (2) drops its demands for a union shop contract with the steel producers without a national labor relations board election.

Lewis had only a "no comment at this time."

Hudson's Bay Profit $908,853

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—The Hudson's Bay Company today announced net profits for the year ending Jan. 31, 1948, totalling $908,853 after provision of $3,396,500 had been made for taxation in Canada and the United Kingdom and special reserve of $1,000,000 had been set aside to cover increased cost of replacements.

Surplus on the land account for the year was listed at $555,713.

A final dividend of 6½ per cent payable Aug. 12 to shareholders of record July 13, 1948, was recommended. The dividend will be at the rate of 4 per cent, less income tax on profits from trading, and 2½ per cent from receipts of land sales on which no income tax is payable. In February of this year an interim dividend at the same rates was paid. The transfer books of the company will be closed from July 14-28.

Heavy Selling Causes Declines at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—Heavy selling came into the oats and barley futures trading and prices in most cases showed declines today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The selling, influenced in part by estimates of the United States corn crop and by the transfer of hedges from the July futures to the distant months, came after good early buying.

Continued dryness across the prairies stimulated the demand during the active session, with its heavy volume of trade.

Rye futures, reflecting losses on the American markets, fell off under commission house offerings and American interest selling.

The United Kingdom was allocated 500,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian wheat agreement.

Class two wheat prices were reduced two cents from Friday.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, July 3.—(AP)—As the Oscar Derby breaks into the last half of the race, "Hamlet" looms as the choice to beat.

Sir Laurence Olivier's gloomy Dane was previewed in Hollywood this week and it is a mighty production. The sublime beauty of Shakespeare's words is given depth and understanding by careful use of the movie medium.

"Hamlet" may well be the first non-Hollywood film to win the Academy's best picture award.

MAY BE ROBBED

Three factors may rob the film of its chance for an Oscar: 1. A more worthy United States film may turn up. 2. Hollywood sentiment against British film makers is rising with each new quota of United States pictures. 3. "Hamlet" may not be a popular favorite. (Academy voters often consider a film's success as a basis of merit.)

That's the big question—will the general movie public go for "Hamlet?" I think not. It should do better than "Henry V" because it is better drama, being based in human passions. It is also more understandable.

The picture should do fine business on the limited-run, higher-prices circuit.

ANYBODY'S RACE

That brings us to "Hamlet's" competition to date. It's not too formidable, but the Academy hopefuls are usually saved for the end of the race anyway. The first heat of Oscar possibilities includes: "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," "I remember Mama," "Naked City," "The Search," "Another Part of the Forest," "All My Sons."

It's still anybody's race.

$1,200 Theft

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Police are investigating the theft of $1,200 in cash and cheques from the home of J. H. Wade of Calgary. A burglar forced his way through a second storey window of the Fifth avenue premises last night. Loot included $693 in cash.

B.C. Sales Tax Creates Confusion

New Three-Per-Cent. Levy Aimed at Raising $12,000,000

VANCOUVER, July 3.—(CP)—It was a day of confusion for store clerks and customers alike as the force of British Columbia's new three-per-cent sales tax was felt yesterday by retailers and buyers.

Designed to enrich provincial coffers by $12,000,000, the tax became effective July 1 and yesterday was the first business day it was in operation.

Foodstuffs are exempt, but the tax applies to all other purchases of over 14 cents and to restaurant meals costing more than 50 cents.

The big headache was to distinguish between tax-free and taxable goods, and customers complained it took clerks twice as long to handle the cash end of each sale.

The most confusion was in milk bars and restaurants. Customers couldn't understand one ruling: milkshakes are not taxable but ice cream sodas and sundaes are.

Government experts ruled that milkshakes are food but ice cream sodas and sundaes are confections.

Thousands of pennies were in use during the day and by night some retailers reported a shortage.

There were ways of dodging the tax, through separate sales.

Parties in restaurants demanded separate checks to escape the tax.

Some restaurateurs complained that diners were shifting from solid meals costing above 50 cents to sandwiches which are usually in the tax-free brackets. Confectionaries similarly reported a shift from the 36-cent-a-package "tailor-made" cigarets to "rollings."

The men who sell automobiles, refrigerators and radios weren't happy.

New Construction

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Value of new construction in Calgary during the first six months of 1948 totalled $7,542,691 compared with $4,640,022 during the same period last year, city permit officials said yesterday.

Communists Drop to Third Rank in Finnish Elections

HELSINKI, July 3.—(BUP)—Communists dropped to third rank among Finnish political parties today as counting of returns in the nation-wide parliamentary elections neared completion.

But it was believed that a new government will be formed on the same basis as the present one—a coalition including the Communists with the Social Democratic and Agrarian parties.

The Popular Democrats (Communists), also known as the Democratic Union, appeared to have lost six seats, leaving them 45 representatives in the new parliament.

The Social Democrats picked up four for a total of 53, and the Agrarians gained two for a total of 50.

About 1,450,000 votes of an approximate 1,700,000 votes cast had been tabulated. In round figures, these were the results: Social Democrats 347,000; Agrarians 346,300; Popular Democrats (Communists) 270,000; Conservatives 234,000; Swedish party 120,000; Liberals 63,200; and other minor parties 5,100.

The Conservatives picked up three seats for a total of 32, while the Swedish party lost two and will have only 12, and the Liberals lost one and will have only eight.

The count was on a complicated proportional representation basis, and exact figures probably will not be available for some time.

U. STUDENTS BUILD GLIDER

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—Ideas have wings, both literally and figuratively, at the University of Toronto.

The aeronautical engineering classes of 1947-48 have built a full scale glider.

In 1946, 15 students designed the glider. The next year 23 began construction and this autumn the incoming class of about 50 students will have a hand at finishing it.

Next year a low-wing, single seater aircraft will be started. It will have collapsible wings to enable storage in a normal garage.

Social Credit Win Predicted

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Alderman F. N. R. Morrison of Calgary last night predicted that "Social Credit will form the next provincial government." He made the prediction while accepting nomination as Labor candidate in the Calgary provincial riding.

He was named unanimously by the group which earlier had decided to contest only one Calgary seat.

Mr. Morrison, expelled from the CCF with about 20 other Calgary residents almost two years ago, predicted that the Liberal party would elect "three or four" candidates when the next provincial general election is held; the Independents "two or three"; and the CCF "five or six."

He said the CCF could have won the coming election if it had organized properly during the last four years.

Canada Greeted On Dominion Day

OTTAWA, July 3. —(CP)— A host of messages from state representatives in every corner of the globe greeted Prime Minister Mackenzie King on the occasion of Canada's Dominion-Day holiday Thursday.

Friendship of the United States was extended in a message from President Truman. Greetings came from China and Cuba. Robert Schuman, premier of France, hoped that Canada would prosper in the future.

Switzerland said she considered Canada as a "sister-Democracy working to achieve sound international solidarity."

There were messages from Greece and Mexico. Poland and Yugoslavia wired in French. A terse message from Russia congratulated Canada "on the occasion of Dominion Day when the country celebrates 81st anniversary of the confederation of Canada."

The albatross has the longest wingspread of all birds often 14 feet from tip to tip.

Goes To Rome

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—R. G. C. Smith, commercial secretary in Havana, has been appointed to the same post in Rome, Trade Minister Howe announced yesterday. He succeeds J. P. Manion, transferred to Paris.

Doucet In England

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 3.—(CP)—Col. H. E. T. Doucet, former chief of public relations at national defence headquarters in Ottawa, arrived here yesterday aboard the liner Aquitania, en route to The Hague, where he has been appointed Canadian military attache.

More Motor Gas, Diesel Oil Needed

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—The armed services petroleum board told the oil industry of the United States yesterday it urgently needs more motor gasoline and diesel oil. The call for aviation gasoline of lower grades has declined, however, so the air force fuel need is not critical.

Cleared Of Charges

WINDSOR, Ont., July 3.—(CP)—Jack Hilderman was cleared yesterday on charges of retaining $5,000 in stolen bonds and of unlawful possession of diacetyl morphine.

CREW IS FORCED TO QUIT BURNING SHIP

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Flames swept the 5,000-ton Swedish steamship Dagmar Salen today, forcing its crew to abandon the vessel 10 miles off the Delaware coast.

Part of the crew was reported in lifeboats near the burning vessel; others had been taken aboard another ship, the S.S. Perla.

The master of the Perla radioed the Associated Press:

"We have half the crew on board.

"The captain (of the Dagmar Salen) and the rest of the crew are staying close to the burning ship on two lifeboats."

The Perla captain added that a United States Coast Guard said it had dispatched a plane to return him to a hospital.

The cutter radioed that flames were sweeping the vessel amidships, enveloping the bridge and sending up towering billows of smoke.

Southerners Back Gen. Eisenhower

War Hero Still Big Question Mark in Presidential Contest

1 K—SOUTHERNERS BACK—Page 32

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(CP)—Hopes and fears of United States politicians today centred on Gen. Dwight D. (Ike) Eisenhower, president of Columbia University.

They were waiting for the former Allied commander to end the suspense created by a growing demand for him as Democratic candidate for president.

Yesterday Democratic conventions in two southern states threw a total of 54 national convention votes to Gen. Eisenhower.

The two actions were the most positive to date in a revived movement to draft General Ike for the party's presidential nomination and "ditch" President Truman.

GEORGIA FOR "IKE"

Georgia Democrats unanimously instructed their 28 delegates to do all they can to make Eisenhower the standard-bearer.

The Virginia convention told its 26 delegates only a few hours later to work for Eisenhower's nomination—and against the naming of anyone proposing a federal civil rights program. Truman has proposed one, touching off a southern Democratic revolt against him.

Of the 1,234 delegates now chosen, 286 are pledged or instructed to vote for Truman, another 390 are claimed for the president and 414 are uncommitted.

Of the remainder, 54 now are instructed for Eisenhower, 58½ are anti-Truman but not committed elsewhere, 20 are pledged to Governor Thurmond of South Carolina and 11½ are pledged to Governor Wright of Mississippi.

ROOSEVELT, TOO

President Truman's supporters say he is assured of many more than the 618 votes needed for the nomination. But those out to "ditch" the president say he can't even be sure of all those pledged to vote for him.

James Roosevelt, son of Franklin D. Roosevelt, is reported to have called a meeting of pro-Eisenhower forces in Philadelphia July 10—two days before the Democratic national convention opens in that same city.

This new draft-Ike drive gained headway just 24 hours after Truman said confidently that he himself would be the Democratic nominee—and declined to talk about the Eisenhower question.

SWEEP LIKELY

The General has made no more definite statement than that of last January, when he declared he would not be available.

Many think that, unless Eisenhower definitely and irrevocably removes himself from the picture, a demand for his nomination would sweep the convention when it opens July 12 in Philadelphia.

Slovak Freedom Party Official Sought For Fraud

PRAGUE, July 3.—(Reuters)—M. P. Pavlov, secretary-general of the Slovak Freedom Party has disappeared, it was announced last night by the praesidium of the party in a Czechoslovak news agency dispatch. A warrant for his arrest on charges of fraud has been issued and he has been expelled from the party.

FBI Agent Says Reds Blanket Industries

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—A House of Representatives Committee heard an Ex-federal Bureau of Investigation agent testify yesterday that Communists "blanket the key sections" of industry in New York City.

"For a long time, the Communists concentrated on heavy industries," said Theodore Kirkpatrick, now a New York private investigator. "But now they are organizing the light industries, particularly the so-called distributive trades which include department store workers."

As the hearings recessed, pending their reopening in New York Wednesday, chairman Fred Hartley (Rep.—N.J.) of the House Labor committee, told reporters that in addition to 10 persons already summoned for next Wednesday's hearing, subs have been issued for 21 others, including both alleged Communists and right-wing union leaders in the New York area.

Police Use Guns, Gas To Quell Rome Riot

ROME, July 3.—(AP)—Dispatches to the Rome press said today carabinieri fired sub-machine guns in the air and used tear gas to disperse an angry mob during yesterday's half-day national industrial strike.

Several persons were hurt in fighting and 27 demonstrators were arrested.

The incident was the only major one reported in connection with the walkout. The strike ended last midnight, but Communist labor leaders gave the signal for more next week.

MAN ATTACKED

The dispatches said the skirmish near Verona, started after a tilted landlord tried to drive an automobile along a road blocked by demonstrators. There was a quarrel, the man was attacked and the carabinieri rescued him and took him to their barracks, the stories said.

The Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor (CGIL) set the stage for a series of national strikes running from Tuesday through Friday. Its leaders called on workers to unite for the "imminent hard battle." They say pay is too low and living costs too high, and protest increasing unemployment.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Meanwhile, the Italian Senate gave Premier Alcide De Gasperi 184-to-87 vote of confidence on his recovery and reform plans last night.

The Chamber of Deputies gave De Gasperi's government a similar vote three weeks ago.

Plane Reported Lost In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 3—(AP)—An airplane with 14 United States and Mexican officials aboard was reported lost last night in southeastern Mexico.

The plane was being used by the joint United States-Mexico commission fighting foot and mouth disease in cattle.

The airport tower at Minatitlan, southern Veracruz state, said the plane left there at 1:35 p.m. (CST) for Veracruz, about 140 miles northwest, but never reached there. Veracruz is on the East coast about 200 miles east of Mexico City.

The tower described the plane as a U.S. craft. The country it flew over is jungle and marsh.

CUB REPORTER GETS STORY, MOVIE TEST

ADA, Okla., July 3.—(AP)—John Clayton, 19-year-old reporter for the Ada Evening News, told himself he was going to make good on his first big assignment.

His city editor had him get a job as an extra in the motion picture "Tulsa." Clayton got a bit part as an oil field roustabout and director Stuart Heisler noticed the youth.

Clayton is leaving for Hollywood in two weeks for a screen test and possible movie career.

He also got his story.

One Killed, Four Hurt In Crash

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., July 3.—(CP)—One man was killed and four other persons were taken to hospital, two in critical condition, early today when their automobile crashed into a small bridge 14 miles east of here.

Dead is Rob Carson, a Harrison Lake logger.

Injured were Dorothy Adams, 18, of Vancouver, who suffered shock and abrasions; C. H. Richardson, also of Vancouver, minor injuries; a man identified only as "Harry," and a woman called "Olive."

Police said the car, driven by Richardson, apparently went out of control as it approached the bridge. Carson was found pinned in the car by a piece of bridge timber.

Ilsley Leaves By Plane For London

He was scheduled to plead a law case before the privy council in his new role as member of a Montreal law firm.

THE BURPING DOLL

JOSEPH W. MADDEN was a model baby. He slept nine hours every night, drank his milk like a gentleman and gave his mother very little trouble. He probably would have continued to be a model baby had his aunt not given him a doll that burped when it was squeezed.

Joe's home is on the lane that runs near the Teenie Weenie village and of course the Teenie Weenies soon learned that Joe had a burping doll. The Dunce was consumed with curiosity, and he talked continually about that doll.

"Now don't you go foolin' around that baby," warned the Policeman, who feared the Dunce couldn't resist trying to get a view of the doll. "You can't tell what a baby will do. He's just as liable as not to grab you up and pop you into his mouth."

In spite of the warning the Dunce determined to see the doll. He spent a great deal of his time dodging about Joe's house. He saw the doll at a distance, but he wanted to make it burp. One afternoon when Joe was taking his nap, the Dunce decided to investigate the doll, which lay in the crib beside the sleeping baby. He thought the best way to get into the crib was to climb up a nearby window curtain and then let himself down by a string which could be fastened to a shelf over the window. In this way he could slide right down the string into the crib.

Everything worked out as the Dunce had planned until he was about to drop into the crib. Joe woke and sat up in wide-eyed astonishment when he saw the Dunce swinging a few inches from his face. The Dunce climbed back up that string faster than he had ever moved before. While Joe stared, he slid down the curtain and ducked out the window.

From that moment Joe lost his reputation as a model baby. Joe could say only a few words, so he couldn't explain to his mother what he had seen. She, poor woman, thought Joe had lost his mind, for her son kept pointing to a spot above his crib and saying, "Baby-baby-baby." Joe kept up his babbling about babies for days and days. Finally, his mother took him to the family doctor. The doctor called in a mental specialist and the learned men, after a great deal of discussion, decided that Joe had probably been dreaming.

Joe keeps a continual watch for the Dunce, but it is unlikely that he will ever see the Teenie Weenie again because the little people are most careful not to be seen by big people or big babies—especially by big babies who can talk.

EXPERIENCE IS A GOOD SCHOOL, BUT THE FEES ARE HIGH"(NINE) WELL, OUR FRIEND HAS PAID FOR HIS EDUCATION--SO "BELIEVE ONE WHO HAS PROVED IT"--(VIRGIL)

HELLO! I'VE SEEN YOU AROUND, BUT I CAN'T SEEM TO MEMBER YOUR NAME---

MY NAME IS NO MATTER, ANNIE---LET US SAY I MERELY AM AN OBSERVER---

YEAH? WELL, DID YOU OBSERVE WHAT I WAS JUST WATCHIN'?

NATURALLY---WE FROM THE OLD COUNTRY, AS IT HAS BECOME, MISS VERY LITTLE---ALERTNESS CAN MEAN LIFE---

HM-M---AND DID YOU EVER SEE THAT GUY WITH TH' LETTER BEFORE?

OH, MANY TIMES, IN THE OLD COUNTRY I REMEMBER WELL! TO FORGET A FACE CAN MEAN DEATH!

IN THE OLD COUNTRY, THAT IS---?

AH, YES--- PERHAPS IN ANY COUNTRY, WHEN PEOPLE PREFER TO DOZE PEACEFULLY--- HA! LOOK AT THAT STREET! WATCH CLOSELY---

OBSERVE THE PEOPLE! RICH! POOR! SMART! DULL! GOOD! BAD! EACH KEEPS TO HIS CHOSEN SIDE OF THE STREET! THEY GLARE ACROSS AT ONE ANOTHER--- SOMETIMES THEY THROW ROCKS---

BUT FEW CROSS OVER, AND THOSE FURTIVELY--- AH, BUT WHY? IN THIS GREAT LAND THEY ALL ARE ON THE SAME STREET--- THEIR STREET!

MAYBE I GET YUH, MAC, AND MAYBE NOT! BUT WHO'S TOSSIN' TH' ROCKS?

THE STUPID ONES---ONLY THOSE WHO DON'T KNOW HOW LUCKY THEY HAVE IT HERE!

YUH MEAN FOREIGN AGENTS, LIKE I READ ABOUT?

ONLY A FEW OF THOSE--- BUT MANY OTHERS BORN AND RAISED HERE---IF ONLY THEY COULD KNOW WHAT I HAVE KNOWN OF FOREIGN LIFE--- AND SLAVERY---AND DEATH!

BUT, NO! I WOULD NOT WISH THAT FOR EVEN MY WORST ENEMY--- BUT WHY ALLOW SUCH MEN SUCH LIBERTY TO POISON THIS LAND?

WELL, I GUESS IT'S BEST NOT TO SCARE GUYS LIKE THAT UNDER-GROUND---LEAVE 'EM OPRATE WHERE WE CAN WATCH 'EM!

GOOD MORNING! YOU ARE NEW, AREN'T YOU?

YES, WE ARE LEARNING THE ROPES.

MY WIFE AND I HAVE LIVED IN A TRAILER FOR YEARS. CRAZY ABOUT IT!

WE LIKE IT. WE ARE ON A VACATION.

FINEST WAY TO LIVE! SEE THE WORLD AND GET AN EDUCATION.

NOT IN TWO WEEKS, I'M AFRAID.

YOU CAN WANDER OR YOU CAN STAY PUT. IT'S MARVELOUS!

I'M BEGINNING TO BELIEVE IT.

CAN YOU TELL ME WHERE THE CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND IS?

CERTAINLY, DEARIE. I'LL SHOW YOU.

WE ARE TRYING OUT THIS SORT OF LIFE.

TAKE MY ADVICE AND GO EASY.

YOU DON'T LIKE IT THEN?

I LEFT A COMFORTABLE HOME AND I HAVEN'T HAD A GOOD CLOSET OR A BATH TUB SINCE.

NO. IF YOU'VE GOT TO COOK AND KEEP HOUSE, THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME.

I SEE WHAT YOU MEAN.

YES, SIR, WALLET, WE FOLLOW THE SEASONS AND MEET FINE PEOPLE. MY WIFE AND I LOVE IT--

DON'T WE, MARGARET? I WAS JUST TELLING WALLET WHAT A WONDERFUL LIFE WE LIVE!
